

The Dalhousie Gazette

CANADA'S OLDEST COLLEGE NEWSPAPER Published by the Dalhousie Students' Union Halifax, Nova Scotia, 429-1144. Printed by The Dartmouth Free Press, Dartmouth, Nova Scotia

Authorized as Second Class Mail by the Post Office Dept. Ottawa, and for payment of postage in Cash.

Editorials printed in the Dalhousie Gazette express the individual opinions of staff writers, or the Editors. This must be noted in all reprints

Volume 99, No. 17

Halifax, Nova Scotia

February 23, 1967

	KIM CAMERON Editor-in-Chief	Marie Company
DAVID DAV
		Assistant News Editor
		Student Council Editor
		Business Manager
		Office Manager
CAROLE CHISHOLM, ARI	LENE MERCHANT	Secretaries
ANGUS GARDNER, SHARO	N COOK	Photography
BOB BROWN, DON RUSSE	LL, STEPHEN ARCHIBALD
DAVID DAY

On March 10th Riff-Raff invades Dal

year to be called, so appropriately, "Intro Dal". Surely this fascinating name must have been long in being chosen. Each delicate nuance, each subtle implication, expresses the marvelous reform which has been instituted recently in this university's attitude toward society

At last, one feels only joy in remarking, our University has realized its responsibility to society as a whole. Finally, one feels ecstatic in noting, the university has ended both its ivory towerism and its habit of catering exclusively to the industrial machine. And one's whole self is consumed with euphoria as one begins to understand what a giant change this is.

Only a short time ago, this university was functioning in merry isolation from those who surround it. Its only external dialogue was with those members of society, and more specifically, businessmen and administrators, who programmed the various course cards. Its evening lectures were directed almost exclusively to the members (past and present) of its own community, and the advertizing for those events was done almost entirely through internal organizations. It did nothing to attempt to bring even high school students, much less members of the general public, into the intellectual life of this community. In fact, it did nothing to ry to relate the university to society, or society to the university, aside from turning the giant handle of the sacred duplicator which keeps the oligarchy supplied with competent individuals to perpetuate itself.

But finally, amazingly, the attitude has changed. People are now reaching an under-

In the very near future Dalhousie will standing of the situation. Of course, there be celebrating its second Open House, this are some non-believers who say that the objective of Intro Dal is merely to capture some of Acadia's future freshmen. And others say that it combines with this a public relations snow job to pacify the residents of Halifax. But how can one possibly be so absurd? How can one help but realize the utter cynicism of such suggestions?

> Intro Dal represents something revolutionary. For two entire days our neighbors and future students will be permitted to see exciting exhibits, clever displays, and manned booths representing every phase of man's knowledge. For two whole days we are sharing with the outside world the vast storehouses which we once selfishly made no effort to even inform people about. Something real is being done here. We are sacrificing two entire days to the society which finances us. Surely this is the integration of thought and action, of student and society, of student and action, which so many have been working towards for so long.

At this point, the person who conceived the idea of open house must indeed be congratulated. Within him lies a true understanding of the fact that tokenism is no solution. Because here there is no tokenism, is there? After all, for forty-eight hours those ninety-two percent who we keep hearing so much about, that is the ninety-two percent without degrees, will actually be able to see and feel and smell what it's actually like to BE in university.

My friends, we have reached a new pinnacle of achievement. The age old concept of the responsibility of the student to society has at last been realized. Hasn't it?

CIA tentacles in the classroom

(Reprinted from Toronto Daily Star)

police and similar organizations as the special curse of totalitarian states.

But the United States is having real trouble with its own ultra-secret intelligence network, the Central Intelligence Agency. Neither congress nor the president seems to have any effective control over the CIA, and its tentacles keep popping up in the most unlikely and inappropriate places. The latest xample is the discovery that the CIA has infiltrated the National Student Association and other student groups. Since 1952, apparently, it has been paying part of these organizations' expenses, channelling the funds -- in the best James Bond tradition -- through fake educational foundations with fancy names.

This may seem a far cry from normal intelligence work. The idea was, apparently, send American delegations to international disguise.

We are accustomed to thinking of secret student conferences, and to finance exchange programs, student publications and the like - all with the intent of combatting communism and exalting the American Way of Life among young people abroad.

> This strikes one as a peculiarly selfdefeating program. American students abroad are often very effective spokesmen for their country -- but only as long as their listeners believe they are speaking only from spontaneous patriotism.

The real tragedy, however, is the fact that the CIA's conspiratorial activities will throw suspicion on a great many innocent people. U.S. athletic teams, orchestras and theatrical troupes travelling abroad, Peace Corps workers and other welfare groups, students studying on genuine scholarships or just taking a vacation in Europe, will that the secret subsidies would be used to all be under suspicion of being spies in

Socialist Plot

890 Thurlow Street, Vancouver 5 February 15th 1967

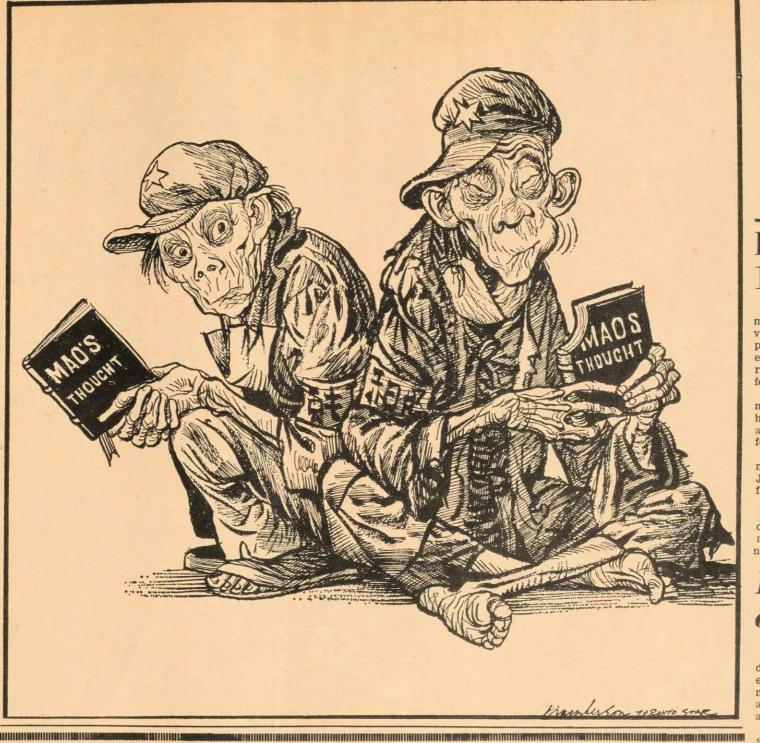

Vhile the Socialist government ritain flirts with the Socialist had the guts to point out ome truths to Premier uring his recent visit. thers news release we find British tary George Brown to the U.S. war effort in Vietnam!

The British Governments continuing "lady-in-waiting" attitude towards the U.S.S.R. reminds me of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's coy visits to Hitler prior to World War II and his flushed return to England waying a "love letter" from beth, King Constantine of Greece, Hitler promising "peace in our time" - and just before he marched on Poland.

ut to the commun- Prime Minister Wilson of Brit- panied by Princess Grace and he was gorging ain? Our own Socialist N.D.P. their three children.

on an American peach, and was has been trying to get to waltz there by indirectly contributing with the Russian Bear for years! Yours sincerely, Jane Hunt

HEADS OF STATE At least 21 heads of state will visit Expo 67, the World Exhibition at Montreal. Among them Her Majesty Queen Eliza-Austria's President Franz Jonas, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, and Prince Rainier of Monaco. But why shake our heads over Prince Rainier will be accom-

Voice of the student

An open letter to Edmund Morris

This letter is a reply to your the exam schedule. Surely, in the always successful at maintaining content. tacked the February 9 issue of the Dalhousie Gazette.

you deal with the facts. I also reserve the right to disagree with tion. the conclusions you have drawn.

sion. You failed to recognize the division between the Dalhousie Student Union (the Gazette is its house organ) and the university porated entity and receives all its funds - including those used to publish the Gazette - from the 'strual periods. students not the university (Perhaps as a representative of St. Mary's University you confused the systems of the two colleges.)

Once the proper relationship is understood, your remarks conerning the propriety of private or public grants to the university (a university that does not decide the policies of its student organizations) are revealed as irrel-

Your second sin was also a sin of omission. You made a blanket condemnation of the back page as 'filth.'' I find it hard to believe that you meant this description to apply to all the stories on page 6, which included a political spoof, a satire concerning prices in the student book store and a lead story about a fictional change in

"Be ye perfect"

I have read with increasing dismay the republican oriented articles and editorials in the Gazette over the last year, and think it time to offer a simple refutation of their position.

The Bible tells us 'Be ye perfect as your father in Heaven is perfect'. What should we understand by this? Heaven is the Kingdom of Heaven - not the republic, (despite Lucifer). Our body politic should be as the heavenly body politic. And this is why we say our Oreen Elizabeth reigns 'By the Grace of radio editorial in which you at- interests of fairness and accur- this dualism, and whether or not it acy you intended to make these distinctions. I can only conclude I respect your right to voice that your failure to do so was the your own opinions but I insist that result of certain time limitations sideration.) imposed on you by the radio sta-

Yours faithfully,

I also doubt that you could have Your first sin is one of omis- been referring to the story which appeared under the headline, Health Centre Errs: Gives Fertility Drug", when you made your charges. This story maligned a national practice by groups of The Student Union is an incor- college co-eds that obtain 'the pill' for contraceptive purposes by complaining of irregular men- also employs another device of

> The intent of the writer was to expose the hypocrasy which is making a joke out of the Student Health Centre regulations at coeducational institutions across Canada. (I realize you do not have this problem at St. Mary's; but I assure you the problem does exist and is a serious one.)

> I should like to point out at this time that the pill story - in fact, all the stories on the back page are devoid of four-letter-words. The most risque terms in the pill story are: "contraceptive, fertility and hysterectomy .

This brings us to the most important consideration, and the only one which a court concerns itself with when considering whether a work is pornographic. There must be evidence that the intent of the author was to arouse and titillate.

Viewing the three remaining stories on page six I find it difficult to imagine what sort of individual would be aroused by Clearly the intent of the authors of all the stories on that page was Fev. 22 - 1967 to amuse, to be humorous. To achieve this humour the authors attempt to maintain two levels of understanding. (Whether they are

When the election platforms appeared this week, I was disgusted disillusioned, and above all insulted by the platform of Ashworth, and Alexander. The issues that they presented were incredibly trite, an insult to one's intelligence, and worse, one of

To the Editor,

Dalhousie Gazette.

Dalhousie University.

is done with any degree of skill tions but not central to our con-Of course you are familiar with

Sterne's use of this literary device in "TRISTAM SHANDY," It is brought out best in his long and involved discussion of "noses."

If we examine the story which has received the most criticism -'Young Girl Meets Blane Rankey in College Recluse " - the two levels of understanding are immediately evident. The writer the following: disregarding such Sterne's: the omission of a key wrote: "And, oh, what a great ... contention that if you try this little 'All the better to you with my dear.'

Now, sir, if you or anyone else wishes to supply obscene terms to fill these blanks that is entirely your right.

I should also like to point out that the author allowed her photo to be run with the story. It would seem to me that this is an obvious indication that she regarded the piece as humorous and not porno-

What I have said of this story also holds true for, "Sad Tale of Cherry Bowl Co-ed... Falls Victim to Thorny Campus Problems." Take for example the following paragraph: They introduced her to their pet poodle which they were secretly housing in the residence and Georgy's circle of friends was

If some people are able to read into this the idea of bestiality or some other perversion they are the ones that are supplying the

I would also like to draw to your attention that the large photo of and art, are two possible ques- the dancer with the topless outfit leaves more to the imagination is turned at such an angle so that council members, on any grounds all we can see of her is her back other than academic. and part of one side obscured in the shadows. It is true that if you look close enough you can make Supports out the shape of one breast. I suggest to you sir that we are living in an age where the female form is no longer considered obscene.

As an experiment you might try publications as Playboy, Esquire, True and Argosy, thumb through word. The reader is forced to a number of issues of Life, Post, supply the missing word and his MacLeans and some of the women choice will exhibit the level of his magazines, and pay careful attention to the photos, including those In the Gazette story the author used in advertisements. It is my aware that these publications are liberally sprinkled with pictures of undraped females. A number of poses assumed by models in panty and girdle ads are far more seductive and erotic than that of the girl in the Gazette.

> Then there are the captions that run under the photos. Under the picture of one seductive young thing we find this line: "Why wait for tonight? Aren't you a woman

Whether one considers the nude form obscene (or the partially nude form as in case of the Gazette girl) is a question of personal taste. The point where most people would agree that a photo was obscene is if the figure is posed in a suggestive manner. If you were shocked by the Feb. 9 Gazette sir I shudder to think what your reaction would be to "The Miller's Tale" from Canterbury Tales or the palace inciget on with it," he said, refer-'The Miller's Tale' from Canfrom Gulliver's Travels.

Former Editor Tim Foley

1867 1967 campus canada

Borrows 154 books

matics students at Queen's University have signed a petition protesting a library regulation enabling staff members to borrow an unlimited number of books for indefinite periods of time.

The petition states a certain member of the math department has at least 154 books on loan and has had many of them out for more than a year.

Although the petition did not name the person involved, Dr. John Ursell said he was the professor referred to. Said Dr. Ursell:

"If they want a book I have out, all they have to do is phone me and I'll return it. A large number of people do this.'

Declares autonomy

CALGARY (CUP) - The students' association at the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology here has declared itself autonomous from the Institute's

At a recent council meeting students' council rescinded a part of the constitution which gave the administration the right to veto students' association affairs.

There is one hangup, however. Under Article XIII the administration retains the right to veto the rescinding of Article XIII which:

. gives the administration the power to revoke any or all of the students' rights.

allows administration offithan is supplied for the eyes. She cials to rule on the eligibility of religious university

premier says he "looks with favor" on a proposed non-denominational university in Ed-

Speaking in Calgary last week, E. C. Manning said Edmonton's second university -- at least five years away -- will stress Christian values.

It would not be a religious campus in any narrow sense. but would offer "the highest cademic standards based on Christian principles," he said. This would provide an alternative for those who now have only secular universities to choose from. But the premier said he would be "very surprised" to see more than one such campus established

And in a recent telephone interview from Edmonton, education minister Randy McKinnon said current expansion plans for the University of Alberta campus will bring it to a saturation level of 18,000 students within five years.

ring to government study of proposals for a second, and likely religious, university in Edmon-

A WORD TO THE WHY'S "Now let us assume that we lost Indo-China, If Indo-China goes, several things happen right away. The peninsula, the last bit of land hanging on down there, would be scarcely defensible. The tin and tungsten that we so greatly value from that area would cease coming ... So when the United States votes -400 million to help that war, we are not voting a give-away program. We are voting for the cheapest way that we can to prevent the occurence of something that would be of the most terrible significance for the United States of America, our security, our power and ability to get certain things we need from the riches of Indo-Chinese territory, and from Southeast Asia."

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, to the Governors' Conference, Aug. 4, 1953.

and more participation by the 9. OPEN DISCUSSION MAK- average student, they had better the Establishment, apres eux,

> Yours for a drastic change, G.M.J. Feaver

P.S. I sent a copy of the plat-Bon voyage, Gillybird! May ridiculous that I'm not going to form in question to my kid brother closed, however, was a suggestion that he modify it in order them (C.U.S.) was misleading. dollars! bird? A plane?

whoops! you'd better head for them the workings of the intelli- title). We have been told how amazed at the agility with which bage belong! she executes variations on THE touch of thlander deftly applied by ably more fertile than her . . .

shelter! It's a Gillybird! Gilly- gent Dalhousie mind. Good-o! Of short-staffed the Gazette has co-ops.) bird - the perverted penguin! She course, the back page of the Ga- been all year. Only now do we tries very hard to get off the zette was probably desperately know how short! ground, but never quite succeeds. lacking copy. The deadline was Lillingwater had a sense of hu- fast approaching and the Editor, mour, and now our suspicions to his edification and delight, have been confirmed. Such sub- found plenty of fill in Gillybird's field you will have managing your gress held at Dalhousie? telty! Such insight! Such! bulging trash can. To Gilly -- to own newspaper in a home for per-One is always more and more whom all love, honour, and gar- verted people. No longer will it be ING: (by the way, it's Open DE- start all over again. Long live senting the Dalhousie undergra- way ticket is at this moment be- (international?) programme. Chilly Gilly. She has such a fer- duate mind. She's a grad (!!!) ing amassed. tile mind. Donning Gillingwater student, taking her master's in Her last "issue" outdid them passes mine and I can only humbly together. all. Perfect timing, Chilly! These say that she is probably the best were the papers handed out to the candidate we have for next year's

Keep up the good work, Chilly!

2. PARKING: the very suggestion that this should take second priority is ludicrous, Attrac-been used for years.

theme. I especially like the thlight Chilly Gilly's outlook as repre- ies. The collection for your one- want to implement this C.U.S.

Velma Smith If they solicit greater awareness, time reading them.

Election committee: breach in thinking 1. UNIVERSAL ACCESSABIL- COVERAGE: important, granted, ITY: this issue is obviously but as it is Dalhousie has the important, but just what do they best medical service of all Canapropose to do? There is absolutedian universities. Perhaps we ly no mention, not even of an improvement of the present ef-4. EXAMS FOR UNDERGRADforts. Impressive sounding issue UATES: what for the love of isn't it though? Too bad it has God are they trying to say?

Christmas exams aren't held 'during a specific period''? 5. STUDENT HOUSING: also fairly important, but, once again, tive though, imagine saving ten no constructive ideas; those presented are as old as the hills -as is this cliche! 6. RESIDENCE FEES: very good; where did the idea come Is it a plane, is it a bird -- provincial legislature to show Editor proper (or some such ten years ago? How about some from, an election campaign of positive thinking? (ie: STUDENT 7. ATHLETIC FACILITIES: no comment! 8. C.U.S.: absolute hogwash: Someday your fondest dream may how about reading their mail, or come true. Just imagine what a the resolutions of the 30th. con-necessary to strain your fertile CISION Making.) Once again, ab-Of course, one can hardly take brain to invent frustrated fantas- solutely no mention of how they la deluge!

The last three articles are so robes, may I say that it is prob- pornographic literature. Her in- you spend your last days in bliss, waste my time commenting on for his grade nine elections. Entelligence undoubtedly far sur- where birds of a feather them; too bad we all wasted our

Are these to be our leaders? not to insult his class-mates!