

June 30. Mrs. W. W. W. W. W. W. W. 30 L-12, 30. <sup>Pat</sup> subject quiet Sir Wilfrid Laurier came quietly and with a deep conviction of the cause "Wilfrid Laurier" his whole voice and manner throughout was calm and earnest, he said he was glad to see us this morning, and spoke of being so glad to see Mrs. Fitzford yesterday, that she had enjoyed her visit very much that he was glad to see her in my house, I said it always gave me pleasure or well as her to have her there. - Her then went on to speak of criticism - he said to me that I had followed in his steps, that I had been true & done well, that he was always very fond of me, and had done what he could to help and advance me, that his wife was very fond of me, that she really loved me, it was not only a friendly love, or passing love, but a deep Christian love, he asked if I knew why he was so fond of me, and I said I supposed it was because of his loyalty. That is the very word Sir Wilfrid said, you were loyal and now there is there anything that in your heart you doubt which I can help you to. I said Sir Wilfrid what I would hope is to serve Canada, the people of the country, to be helpful to my fellow men, he said I will do all I can to help you in that when you come to difficult places, in parliament: elsewhere. So out the guest of your room - with silence, and so, Laurier I want you to help me, and I will help you as I can, will help to remove the difficulties in the path. - Do not think anything of criticism, indeed they criticize me, they criticized me more than they have you. It is ignorance, it is jealousy, jealousy is the worst, - help in love and the people, stand shoulder to shoulder with them - (D) forward, stand up - press forward. He went on to say that when they used to criticize him, he went to his room alone & knelt down and prayed to God that he would help him, that if there was anything that could be done to remove the jealousy or hate to take it away. he said, you know about the spirit world and can be helped in that way too. I will help you all
