HAWKES CUT GLASS

A yellow diamond makes a good show until compared with a white one, and Hawkes glass shows up the yellow in other cut glass when placed side by side. We can show you five other makes, Canadian and American, but Hawkes stands out in a class by itself. Come in and let us show you the difference, and it won't take long either. There is comparatively very little difference in the cost but what a difference in quality.

PREMIER ROSS KNEW.

Mr. Whitney Gives Some New Facts About Coalition Proposal.

Kingsville, Jan. 25.—A magnificent rally marked the close of the tour of J. P. Whitney in the City Hall last evening. Mr. Whitney spoke for over an hour and was in splendid form.
He dealt only with the political condition of Ontario.

Dealing with the coalition proposition, Mr. Whitney gave some new facts to his second meeting with Hon. J. M. Gibson. The latter said Premier Ross alone knew of the proposals, and would say in the House if Mr. Whitney testified. "I have decided to take into my Ministry the leader of the Opposition." (Sensation.)

Mr. Whitney closed the finest address of his campaign by an eloquent appeal to act in accord with the high moral sense of Ontario.

He left on the midnight train for his home in Morrisburg, where he will receive the returns.

Brother Cassin Red-headed.
Nipewin, Jan. 25.—World has just been received by special messenger from Chippewa that a very prominent citizen of that place was caught red-handed last evening while boasting an election. The man captured made the following declaration:

"I, Andrew Haun, of the village of Chippewa, in the County of Welland, do solemnly declare that I was requested by one John Carter, J. P. of the village of Chippewa, to offer certain voters in the said village of Chippewa the sum of $5 each to induce them to vote for Joseph Battle, the Reform candidate, for the present election."

"(Signed) Andrew Haun."

Andrew Haun is a member of the village council of Chippewa. He was captured by Thomas Timmerfeld of the Baltimore Hotel, Chippewa, in the act of bribing, and he immediately placed him under arrest, and took him before W. D. B. McKenzie, J. P. Haun then made the above declaration.

The Brown Bubble Burst.
Pickering, Jan. 25.—The bubble has burst and the Liberals are wondering where they are at. The magistrate has enlarged the case till Monday next, but the evidence was ample to show that Brown was the victim of a plot.

William Vanstone has admitted that it was a put-up job, though they worked it well. He also admitted that he tampered with Brown's drinks for the purpose of getting Brown drunk so they could work him. He also admitted Brown did not have a big roll of money, but thought he had about $70.

Law said the money was very drunk, and if he were in the condition Brown was in, he would not consider he was responsible for his actions. This admission was got from him with great difficulty in giving his evidence.

William Stanley expressed himself in Whitty as ashamed of his share in the plot, and said he would give $1,000 if he were out of the job that it was a dirty mean piece of business for one friend to put up on another. When a man attempts to make a reputation such as this, much can be expected.

William Stanley, Wilfrid Law, Lorne Squires and William Vanstone appeared before George Parker, J. P., on charges of perjury in connection with the conspiracy accusing Nicholas C. Brown of bribery. The statutory declarations of Law, Vanstone, Squires and Stanley, which first appeared in The Globe were produced.

Nicholas Brown was the first witness. He repeated the story he had advised, already published, denying the charges in the affidavits which appeared in The Globe. He was severely cross-examined by Mr. Roberts, but did not waver in any particular. His evidence at the close was unshaken.

George Long was the next witness.
He proved that he and Vanstone surreptitiously passed whiskey into Brown's glass behind his back, without his knowledge.

McGuire followed. He stated that he had seen Brown with this crowd drinking and suspected that they were "holding him up." He called Brown out of their company and they went to the stable. Brown was too much under the influence of liquor to count the money, so McGuire counted it and said: "There is just $21." Brown replied: "That's all right, I had only $25 when I left home."

Devitt was the next witness. He said he overheard Vanstone talking in a barber shop. Vanstone made use of this remark. "I've tried a long time to get even with that Ganey case, and now I've done it."

Ed. Gleason heard this same expression of Vanstone's in the barber shop. He also heard another conversation, in which Palmer said to Vanstone: "That was a pretty nice trick you played on Brown," and Vanstone made no attempt to deny it was a trick.

This closed the evidence for the prosecution.

The defence called Stanley Law, Squire and Vanstone, and all repeated their stories as related in the declarations.

Palmer stated that Brown had offered him $20 to work for Calver that same Saturday evening, the offer being made in the presence of Vanstone; but on cross-examination they both admitted (Vanstone and Palmer) that the offer was made in a job, that they did not take it seriously and that it was never thought to be a serious offer.

On cross examination by C. C. Robinson, all of the accused swore that they were well-known by Brown and everybody in the neighborhood to be active working Liberals of the most pronounced type, and that a man would be either drunk or crazy to attempt to bribe any of them with the exception of Vanstone, who added that he "might be bribed if the price was high enough."
