The Makers' Corner

Butter and Cheese Makers are invited to send contributions to this department to ask questions on matters relating to cheese making and to suggest subjects for discussion.

A Talk on Boxes

Cheese boxes are an item of expense ever becoming more important.
Inferior boxes are an item of trouble to the cheese buyer ever becoming a greater nuisance. Speaking on this subject at the last Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association convention, Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, said:

"The most common complaint from export dealers is broken boxes. Half the carloads of cheese that arrive at Montreal have at least a few broken boxes. This loss comes back to the producer.

"Last summer we had very dry weather and the boxes were brittle.
The material, too, was inferior.
Much of the breakage, however, could have been avoided had the boxes fitted the cheese or the cheese fitted the boxes.

"More breakage still could have been avoided if the cheese had been properly stowed in the cars. Patrons are anxious to get home, and they do not take any particular care in stowing. I have seen patrons leave cheese standing four and five boxes high on the outside tier. No sooner does shunting commence than all of the front boxes are damaged.
If we cannot have all of the car filled evenly have the front tiers stepped down."

New Package Advocated

Mr. Ruddick is inclined to favor a new style of cheese box and took occasion to advocate his choice of a substitute. "We have come to the point," said he, "where we must substitute another style of package. It was thought at one time that the butter box would be the solution. This box, however, has defects and there are great difficulties in the way of its adoption. I believe we should consider the New Zealand cheese crate (here Mr. Ruddick brought a crate from the side of the platform).
I have here a crate which carried two cheese from New Zealand to London, and it was not damaged in the least. These crates seldom are dan-gered in shipping. You will notice that it is 12-sided and made in two sections for two cheese. In the factory half the crates are nailed on, the cheese are put in and then the rest of the crates nailed on. In testing the cheese the tryer is run between the crates, making it a more convenient method than is possible with our Canadian crates. Ruddick merchants tell me that Canadian cheese would not lose anything by giving up the Canadian box."

Speaking of the expense of the New Zealand crates, Mr. Ruddick stated that a firm at Pembroke had prepared to make crates similar to the one he had on the platform at 28 to 29 cents.

The Branding of Butter

J. A. Ruddick, Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa.

During the past few weeks, producers in Toronto, doubtless with the best intentions but without authority from the Department of Agriculture, have been sending the following notice to their correspondents in the country:

Important Butter Notice

All butter in packages or wrapped in parchment paper must, in future, be labelled "Dairy" or "Creamery."

This means no butter can be bought or sold in plain wrappers or in unbranded packages. No butter can be sold or bought under brand of "Separator." The word "Dairy" or "Creamery" must appear on wrapper or package.

Failing to comply with the above Government Act you are liable to a fine of $10 to $30 for each offence.

For further information write the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and ask for copy of the Dairy Industry Act, 1914, Bulletin No. 42.

The information in the above notice is not quite correct. The regulations made under the authority of the Dairy Industry Act, 1914, came into force, on September 1st, and provide that when dairy butter is put up in blocks, squares or prints and wrapped in parchment paper, the paper shall be printed or branded with the words "Dairy Butter," in letters at least one-quarter inch square, in addition to any other wording that the butter-maker may desire to use. There is nothing in the law or regulations to prevent the use of the word "Separator" in addition to the words "Dairy Butter," but no such grade of butter as "separator" is recognized by the law. The Butter Act of 1903 defined only two grades, namely "Dairy" and "Creamery." The Dairy Industry Act of 1914 defines a third grade as "Whipped" butter. Buttermakers may use any form of printing or branding, including the words "Dairy Butter," which is not inconsistent with the definition of dairy butter. Butter in rolls, crocks or tubs is not required to be branded. Dairy butter in 56-pound boxes must also be branded "Dairy Butter."

The underlying principle of this legislation is protection to the consumer, the honest buttermaker and the honest trader.

I would suggest the following forms as suitable for the printing of dairy butter wrappers:

city, rather than envy, the city man with his electric fixtures. I write in the glow of a gasoline lamp. Our lamp gives a clear, white, steady light, which the manufacturers estimate at 200 candle-power. Why should I envy the city man reading by his 16 or 32 candle-power electric bulb? Our reading lamp cost only a few dollars. So far it has never cost us over 10 cents a week for the necessary gasoline, and in summer the cost is negligible. Hence it is cheaper than the old kerosene lamps. My neighbors on either side also have splendid lights that make their living-rooms cheery and bright in the evenings.
Their lights are kerosene lamps of a new kind, and they certainly throw off a brilliant light—almost as good as my gasoline light.

There is no reason now for dull evenings on the farm. We enjoy ourselves more than we ever did before.
A good strong lamp makes one cheerful. I believe in passing a good thing along, and as these lamps have done more than any other modern improvement to make our evenings happy and profitable, we take pleasure in recommending them.
