RIGHT ABOUT FACE!

YOU'RE headed for the city—in search of opportunity. But you're really running away from it when you leave the farm.

There are big chances lying right within your reach—one of them, a business that will pay you between $15 and $18 a day in contract ditching with the

Buckeye Traction Ditcher

The farmers right around you will keep you busy. They know the Buckeye—know how clean, true and fast it digs drainage ditches, and they're willing to pay a good price for this kind of work.

The Buckeye can be had with steam or gasoline power. Either will cut 100 to 150 rods a day, at a very small operating expense. And the Buckeye gasoline machine operates just as well on kerosene, thus cutting fuel expense in two.

Let the men who own Buckeyes tell you of their experiences. We have compiled their letters into a handy booklet—that is interesting in itself and even more interesting to anyone seeking information about contract ditching.
