

save the Indian of nations, and ers in Canada.
there that they
ers of nations,
lits its horrible ever the flick
a danger of the snares of er immorality is the midst of
of Nazareth—
of its hideous
s, like the seeds
the members of seek it and find it of the hideous egard, and this
the trouble of have never feared s of passion and Catholic Archbishop, public sentiment is outraged and even Protestants themselves exclaim, "what is the country coming to?" Or "what shall be the end of all this unjustifiable intolerance?" Again, an agitation that disturbs the whole Dominion is set on foot by a few unscrupulous preachers, either against Catholics being permitted to educate their own children or against simple restitution being made, however inadequately, to religious Fathers and missionaries for the confiscation of their lands and properties, and the representatives of the people in Parliament assembled, with the Governor-General, cry out against such bigotry, and crush it. During the stormy period, and while the wave is at its highest, people shake their heads and say: "Oh this will soon all blow over; it is only a tempest in a teapot." The misfortune happens that when the wave subsides or breaks in harmless spray and foam upon the Rock, another wave is perceived to be forming and growing outside the
bar. Soon it advances, gaining strength as it rolls along, and the same wild dash is heard, and another wave breaks in impetuous fury upon the unshaken, imperturbable Rock. Such has been the history and experience of Catholic life in Canada during the last half century at least. From the infan-cies and misrepresentations of Maria Monk, fully credited by the Protestant world, down to the Jesuit Estate Act agitation, that has not yet fully subsided, the Church in Canada has been subjected to a continuous succession of waves of intolerance that, while trying her powers of endurance and making things very unpleasant for the time being, have only resulted in making her work and her aspirations better known and more highly esteemed
by the thinking world outside her pale.
Such will be the result, we have no doubt, of the exhibition of bad manners and bigotry lately exhibited in New Brunswick, and to which reference is made in another column.

L. NOTES.

Signs of New York Seminary, is still to the Presbyterian
of the institution vote of 18 to 2, in favor of Biblical Theology, members of the faculty meeting, but one without voting. The
to him generally,
will go on as usual,
he decidedly adverse Assembly. Matters
dictated by a new of Dr. Briggs, who review article, in-tely maintains the
in his inaugural ed the trouble. It is in repeating the es, and the defiant ment in reasserting ent measure excited the Assembly to there is no doubt of the offence now is the spirit of John ates the Presbyteries e result must be an part of the General
the college faculty out The Assembly can-ill its meeting next inary will probably independent institu-
proceed to the
which, from present
must adopt unless it m to be the supreme Church, which it is do.

y (Anglican) Church, Sunday 28th ult., a used by an interruption preached by Rev.
The clergyman main-righteous dead are the er up prayers for them
e. These are unusual Anglican Church, and mber, unable to control rose up excitedly, and Bible in his extended out, "Prove that from e it." The preacher on to the interruption, his discourse. If this in Ontario there would ters in the columns of the Rev. preacher Popery, notwithstanding the doctrine is the a novelty, yet not a dangerous as the Uni-that Redemption is a was recently tolerated approved of by a New lian clergyman. Oh!
stant Christianity drift-

Herald says of the late the Holy Father: with the authority of a top, and his opinions will command attention in the civilized world. Leo in a notable disposition to attend to the present bearing of social questions, and in this document has gone to the bottom of the principles which underlie the social questions of the age. His pamphlet is thoroughly democratic in spirit and in temper. He is on the side of the people. He knows what ought to be done in order to maintain their rights, and he does not propose that the Church shall be anything else but the defender of the interests of the poor man. . . . It is an eminently healthy and reassuring document. It will make the masses of the laboring people all over the world surer that they have the Church as their friend, and it will strengthen laboring people everywhere in their demand for justice."

It is very hard to determine, at times, as to which of the Protestant sects should be awarded the palm for bigotry. Occasionally when an outburst of Orange hate is chronicled, in the shape of a violent assault with stones on a Catholic procession or a Catholic Archbishop, public sentiment
is outraged and even Protestants themselves exclaim, "what is the country
coming to?" Or "what shall be the
end of all this unjustifiable intoler-
ance?" Again, an agitation that
disturbs the whole Dominion is
set on foot by a few unscrupulous
preachers, either against Catholics
being permitted to educate their own
children or against simple restitution
being made, however inadequately, to
religious Fathers and missionaries for
the confiscation of their lands and properties, and the representatives of the
people in Parliament assembled, with
the Governor-General, cry out against
such bigotry, and crush it. During
the stormy period, and while the wave
is at its highest, people shake their
heads and say: "Oh this will soon all
blow over; it is only a tempest in a
teapot." The misfortune happens that
when the wave subsides or breaks in
harmless spray and foam upon the
Rock, another wave is perceived to
be forming and growing outside the
bar. Soon it advances, gaining
strength as it rolls along, and the same
wild dash is heard, and another wave
breaks in impetuous fury upon the un-
shaken, imperturbable Rock. Such has
been the history and experience of Catholic life in Canada during the last
half century at least. From the infan-
cies and misrepresentations of Maria
Monk, fully credited by the Protestant
world, down to the Jesuit Estate Act
agitation, that has not yet fully sub-
sided, the Church in Canada has been
subjected to a continuous succession
of waves of intolerance that, while
trying her powers of endurance and
making things very unpleasant for
the time being, have only resulted in
making her work and her aspirations
better known and more highly esteemed
by the thinking world outside her pale.
Such will be the result, we have no
doubt, of the exhibition of bad manners
and bigotry lately exhibited in New Brunswick, and to which reference is
made in another column.

A cable despatch says that the Holy Father has refused to appoint a Polish Bishop to take charge of the Poles of the United States. Many Poles had united in making this request, but the action of the Holy Father may be regarded as indicating that he will refuse to accede to the request of Mr.
Cahensky and the Luzerne conference that he will appoint national Bishops through the country to exercise jurisdiction over their respective nationalities.

Dr. JOSEPH PARKER, who has been astonishing the English-speaking world with his vagaries ever since he failed to secure the pulpit formerly occupied by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, attacked and denounced the Kaiser William, in his temple on the Sunday before last because it is arranged that the Emperor on the occasion of his visit to England will visit the Naval Exhibition on Sunday. He said:
"Surely even the Emperor cannot
want to spend all the six days of the week in playing bacarat." This attack has provoked a number of indignant letters of protest, which have been published in various newspapers.
Other Protestant denominations are also engaged in denouncing the intended visit. Protestantism has always proclaimed very loudly its advocacy of religious liberty; but English Protestantism evidently will not tolerate a difference of opinion from its own ideas of how Scripture is to be interpreted.
The German Protestants have not the same Sabbatarian views as their English brethren, and the latter, in consequence, will not practice toleration towards them. The liberty of opinion which the English Protestants tolerate is the liberty to believe as they do.
On this side of the Atlantic the prevalent view of liberty of conscience is very similar to that which is held in England.

THE Indians of New Westminster, B. C. had recently a mission preached to them in their church, which is a large and handsome building with a good organ, a very fine set of Stations of the Cross and the best bell of the city. As there are five tribes in the congregation speaking different languages, there were four interpreters, repeating in the different languages the words of the preacher, which were delivered in the tongue which was

Church of Rome, and in no moral position to write a loving and helpful book about the Church. We have no doubt that this work will have a large sale, and that many persons will take it as a true interpretation of Roman doctrine.
We regret that we cannot commend it in any respect."

ONCE more the newspaper correspondents who are so fond of furnishing fabulous news from Rome have started the rumor that Catholic banks are to be established in New York and various European capitals under sanction of the Pope; but as the Holy Father already more than once authorized the contradiction of similar reports it may be taken for granted that these latest specimens of what a lively imagination can produce in the form of news are fabrications without any foundation.

THERE is still a great commotion among the Non-Conformists concerning the participation of the Prince of Wales in the bacarat games at Tramby Croft, and the excitement extends even to the vestry meetings of the Church of England, which, however, do not generally deem it their duty to act so decisively as the Non-Conformists in condemning the Prince. At a vestry meeting held recently in Bernondsey a motion was made by a Dr. Esmonde that "the gambling propensities of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales are a disgrace to a civilized country and an evil example to the youth of the nation," and that copies of the resolution should be sent to the speaker of the Commons, the Lord Chancellor and Her Majesty the Queen.
It was moved in amendment that the Board proceed to the next business on the order, and the amendment was carried, but only after a stormy discussion. Mr. Glanville, a member of the Board, said that it was quite a natural thing that the Prince of Wales, who was part of the system of a sponging, loafing monarchy, should find some means of getting rid of the money given him by the English people—money torn from those who labored and toiled. Several other speakers addressed the Board in similar terms.
These proceedings are highly suggestive in view of the fact that the no-Popery press are constantly harping on the pretended fact that Catholics, and Catholics alone, are propagators of disloyal ideas.

A cable despatch says that the Holy Father has refused to appoint a Polish Bishop to take charge of the Poles of
the United States. Many Poles had
united in making this request, but the
action of the Holy Father may be regarded as indicating that he will
refuse to accede to the request of Mr.
Cahensky and the Luzerne conference
that he will appoint national Bishops
through the country to exercise jurisdiction over their respective nationalities.

Dr. JOSEPH PARKER, who has been
astonishing the English-speaking
world with his vagaries ever since he
failed to secure the pulpit formerly
occupied by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher,
attacked and denounced the Kaiser
William, in his temple on the Sunday
before last because it is arranged that
the Emperor on the occasion of his
visit to England will visit the Naval Exhibition on Sunday. He said:
"Surely even the Emperor cannot
want to spend all the six days of the
week in playing bacarat." This attack has provoked a number of indig-
nant letters of protest, which have
been published in various newspapers.
Other Protestant denominations are
also engaged in denouncing the in-
tended visit. Protestantism has always
proclaimed very loudly its advocacy of
religious liberty; but English Protestantism evidently will not tolerate a
difference of opinion from its own ideas
of how Scripture is to be interpreted.
The German Protestants have not the
same Sabbatarian views as their English brethren, and the latter, in consequence, will not practice toleration
towards them. The liberty of opinion
which the English Protestants tolerate
is the liberty to believe as they do.
On this side of the Atlantic the preva-
lent view of liberty of conscience is
very similar to that which is held in England.

Miss CUSACK, known as the ex-Nun of Kenmare, has published a new book under the title "What Rome Teaches." But it is a mere misrepresentation of Catholic doctrine, such as Protestant polemicists of the most mendacious stamp have been accustomed to issue. It will be believed by many credulous Protestants as usual, but the intelligent will know how worthless are its statements.
The Boston Herald is one of those who estimate it at its true value, and reviews it in the following style:
"It is intended to be a clear and correct account of the doctrines taught by the Roman Catholic Church, but it is anything and everything short of this. It is written in order to turn Protestants with increased indignation from the teachings of that Church, and is everywhere crowded with statements that are derogatory of the Church and its teachings. Miss Cusack is an able writer, and is familiar with the teachings of Rome, but we regret to see that in this book she gives away to the common Protestant talk against the Church of Rome, and endorses it.
We do not hold a brief for Roman Catholic doctrines; but with some acquaintance with them we must confess that Miss Cusack has so presented them as to create disgust in the minds of those who read her books. . . . She may not intentionally pervert the teachings of the Church, but her partisanship is so strong, and she is so anxious to find the 'scarlet woman' and other marks of the beast in the Church of Rome, that everything is grist to her mill. Miss Cusack is thoroughly mad against the Church of Rome, and in no moral position to write a loving and helpful book

about the Church. We have no doubt
that this work will have a large sale,
and that many persons will take it as a
true interpretation of Roman doctrine.
We regret that we cannot commend it
in any respect."

most prevalent. The effect was most striking, the impression given to those who were passing by being that the noise proceeded from a desperate quarrel which was going on among the Indians. These Indians are of a very intelligent class, and there are about five or six thousand residing on the Reserve outside of the city, all of whom are Catholics. They find work in the city, however, and they are regular attendants at Mass and other Church services.

LATEST CATHOLIC NEWS.

A cable despatch states that the Hon.
Mr. Mercier has received from the Holy Father three hundred decorations and titles which are to be distributed among those Canadians who served the Holy See as Zouaves.

The Holy Father has sent a letter to King Leopold of Belgium expressing his affection and admiration of the king's efforts to spread Christianity in Africa. The letter is accompanied with a Papal Brief consecrating the Congo state to the Blessed Virgin.

Rev. Father Girouard, one of the Catholic missionaries in the Mackenzie district, was gone to St. Boniface. He has been selected as successor to the late Bishop Farrand, and during his stay he will be consecrated by Archbishop Tache.

The Hon. Joseph Sheehy, Treasurer of the Province of Quebec, has been appointed Commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great by the Pope.
This is the same honor which was first conferred upon Count Mercier.

A member of the British Ministry is credited with the caustic remark, uttered since the bacarat episode took place: "In England you must not gamble; or, if you do, you must cheat.
Then you will have public sympathy."

The many friends of Rev. Louis Griffa in Canada will regret to learn of his death at Chatham, N. Y., on the 10th ult., at the age of seventy-three years.
He was born in Italy, studied in Turin and was ordained in 1840, and went to the East as a missionary, in which capacity he labored with great success.
He was for many years in India, and knew several of the Hindostanee dialects. He went to Toronto in 1858 and was stationed at first in St.
Michael's Cathedral, and afterwards at Niagara. In 1865 he settled in the Albany diocese, having charges in Albany, Troy, Ogdensburg and other places. At his own request, he was sent to Chatham, in 1883, his age and feebleness requiring a smaller parish. He celebrated the semi-centennial of his priesthood last September.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. McKeeough, Smithville.

On Saturday, June 20, 1891, the funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas McKeeough, who died on Thursday, June 18, 1891, at her residence, St. Michael's Cathedral, was celebrated. The Rev. Father Sullivan, Thord, officiated, assisted by Rev. Father McEneaney, of Port Colborne, deacon, and the Rev. Father McKee, Smithville, sub-deacon.
The choir from Thord, Ont., sang during the Mass.

Mrs. McKeeough left one daughter, Miss A.
McKeeough, also one step-son, John McKeeough, and a large number of grand-children and great-grand-children. The funeral was attended by a large number of friends of the family.
Among the mourners were noticed: Miss A.
McKeeough, Smithville, her daughter; W. A.
Bush, Esq., Port Colborne, son-in-law; Mrs.
A. H. Armstrong, grand-daughter; Mr. Armour, Mrs. E. C. R. R. shops, and four grand-children; W. A. McKeeough, Esq., Chatham, grand-son and John A. Bush, Thord, grand-son.
Mrs. McKeeough was born in Clonmel, county of Tipperary, Ireland, in 1808. She was the second daughter of the late Matthew Shanahan, of that city, and was married in 1824 to Thomas McKeeough, by whom she had five children—three girls and two boys—only one of whom survives her, Miss A.
McKeeough. She came to Canada in 1840, and resided in Thord, Ont., removing to Smithville in 1848, where she resided until her death. R. I. P.

Angus McPhee, Stratford.

Stratford Times, July 1.
Angus McPhee, sr., died at his residence, corner of Nelson and Railway avenue, Sunday morning, in the ninety-third year of his age, after a long illness, from which he suffered more or less for the past three years.
He leaves two grown-up sons, one being married and residing in the city; Mr. Angus McPhee of the C. P. R. shops, and four daughters, one being married and residing in Toronto. The deceased came to this country from Invernesshire, Scotland, in 1818, and resided in the city for forty-two years. He was well known in the city and county and was highly respected by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was a devout Catholic. His funeral took place last Tuesday, first to St. Joseph's church, where High Mass was sung, thence to the old Catholic burying ground, where his remains were laid to rest. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved relatives in their hour of sorrow and trouble.

Oh, father! forever loved, forever dear, What fruitless tears have bathed thy honored bier.
What sighs re-echoed to thy parting breath, Whilst thou wast struggling in the pangs of death.
If yet thy gentle spirit hover nigh,
The spot where now thy mouldering ashes lie, Here will thy fond remembrance find its home,
A grief too deep to trust the sculptor's art.

Mr. L. Patrick, London Township.

His many friends will be grieved to hear of the death of Mr. L. Patrick, D. L. S., eldest son of Squire Patrick, of London Township, in the 32nd year of his age. The sad event took place at his father's residence on Thursday, July 2nd. He had been confined to the house for three months. The best medical skill was in attendance, and his hands were constantly and tirelessly waited on him, but all to no purpose. He quietly and calmly resigned his spirit into the hands of his brilliant future, and it was certainly very sad to see a life full of hope and ambition thus cut off in its bloom. But such is life. The disposition of the deceased was such as to render his companionship a treasure. Kindness of heart and a golden nature endeared him to all who knew him. May the joys of the better life be his for evermore!

OUR SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

Western Division.

Names of the boys and girls who have earned the Inspector's "Certificates of Merit" for excellence in attendance, application and conduct during the session ending June, 1891:

CITY OF TORONTO.

De La Salle Institute.—William Kidd, Henry Chase, William McConvey, John Huntley, Henry O'Connor, William Malloy, Leo Kelz, James Flynn, Edward Kelly.

Saint Michael's school.—John Harnett, Joseph Ryan, Leonard Giroux, John Brady, Leopold Langley, Thomas Harrington, William Ormsby, William Johnson, Thomas Huntley, George Sherrock, Arthur Briscoe, Edward Killen, Mary Flynn, Mary McGuire, Catharine Flynn, Blanche Dennis, Charlotte Pilon, Alice Kinsella, Honora Byrne, Margaret O'Connor and Mary Feeney.

Saint Paul's school.—Vincent Mc-Guire, Francis Richard, William O'Connor, George Dean, Richard Utteweller, Denis Hayes, James Mc-Closkey, Timothy Sheehan, Matthew Whelan, Joseph Finley, William Duffy, Edmund Brown, Elizabeth Judge, Isabella Milne, Emma Doyle, Ellen O'Connor, Mary Hayes, Ellen Christie, Alice Low, Mary Christie, Violet Hartigan, Mary Sheehan, Josephine, Nedie, Mary Lee.

St. Mary's school.—James Dee, John Fraser, James Johns, Francis J.
Murphy, Charles Chute, Francis Donovan, John Carolan, Maurice Walsh, Charles Gillooley, Denis Coffey, Francis Fulton, Leo Finn, Thomas MacEvoy, James Lehan, John Drohan, Mary Muldron, Bridget De Lacey, Catharine Murphy, Margaret O'Connor, Anna
McInerney, Catharine Haines, Ada Kelly, Emma O'Reilly, Mary Laungan, Catharine Kennedy, Agnes Veale, Stella Sharpe, Margaret Hill, Mary Norbet, Anne Hyland.

Saint Patrick's school.—John Crinmon, Henry Trimble, Thomas O'Donohue, James Merville, Francis Scully, Joseph Flynn, Louis Meyer, Francis O'Grady, John O'Connor, Mary Tapscott, Margaret Gieckling, Mary Tapscott, Josephine Healy, Sara O'Brien, Mary Dolan, Gertrude Costello, Bertha O'Donohue, Francis Myers.

St. Helen's school.—Vincent P.
Fayle, Joseph Disette, John Brady, John Boland, Thomas Molloy, Christopher Quinn, Mary Woods, Elizabeth Fayle, Isabella McDermott, Margaret Fayle, Elizabeth Curran, Gertrude Colgan.

Saint Francis school.—Lucy Cahill, Mary Kelly, Maude Sullivan, Lillian Ryan, John Sullivan, Anne Corbett, Florence Ford, Maude Connors, Wm.
Dooling.

Saint Basil's school.—John Parcell, Ellen Carey, Lillian McKinnon, Wm.
Costello, Thomas Moylan, Wm. Foley, Daniel P. Mathews, James Murphy, Honora Smith.

Saint Peter's school.—Charles Van Denker, Anne Ryan.

Saint Joseph's school.—Jas. Murphy, Edith Gorman, Anne Ryan, William Finnegan, William Walpole, George Norton.

Saint John's school.—N. Hodgson, F. O'Leary, E. Hodgson.

Saint Charles school.—Catharine Daniel, Anne Flemming, Adeline Ryan.

CITY OF HAMILTON.

De La Salle school.—Henry Mullin, John Hennessey, Cornelius Donovan, Joseph Crofton, Maurice Cummings and John Moran.

St. Mary's school.—Charles Burns, George Coffey, John Green, Bertram Collier, William Malone, Cyril Bastien, George Marks, Michael Browne, Joseph Kavanagh.

Sacred Heart school.—Angela Ronan, Alice Valentine, Annie Ronan, Mary Johnson, Annie McManus, Mary Blake, Agnes Neilligan, Ethel Nelson, Dora Leary, Frances Sweeney, Cecilia Dennis and Clara Smith.

St. Patrick's school.—Francis Flynn, Lillian Smith, Julia Forster, Charles Casey, Emma Carroll, Mary Shields, Elizabeth O'Brien, Ellen O'Connor, John Wren.

St. Lawrence's school.—James Mac-Mahon, Edward Quinlan, John Wickham, John O'Callaghan, Michael Conway, William Connolly, Winifred Roach, Alice MacMahon, Ellen Sheridan, Mary Cullen, Elizabeth O'Callaghan and Margaret Fallahoe.

St. Vincent's school.—Julia Sharkey, Mary Duffy, Eva Hayes, Catharine Duggan, Margaret Best, John Flynn, Joseph McGrath, Ellen Sharkey and Joseph Loftus.

St. Thomas's school.—Augusta Mooney, Sarah Ronan, Catharine Lane, Maude Legault, William Brechony, Martin Quinn, James McKittrick, Charlotte Lawlor, Theresa McKittrick.

CITY OF LONDON.

Sacred Heart school.—Louisa Costello, Louisa Bright, Margaret Evans, George Lane, Beatrice Friend and Glenzie Wilson.

Saint Peter's school.—Joseph Devan, William Aust, James Kickham, Isabella Ranahan, Mary Hobbins, Elizabeth Kennedy, Ann May, John Forrestal, Charles Burns, Joseph Garvey, Patricia Leach, Henrietta Pace, Michael White, William Galbraith, Margaret Larkin.

Saint Mary's school.—Elizabeth Gibbons, William Sheehy, William Kelly, Eva Harter, Mary Connors and William Connors.

Saint Joseph's school.—Elizabeth Marsh, Francis Hurley and Bridget Curley.

CITY OF BRANTFORD.

Senior Boys.—Frederick Johnston, William Berney and Arthur Clancy.

Senior Girls.—Emma Hannon, Josephine Pearson, and Alice Mac-Quillan.

Junior.

—Rebecca Hawkins, John
Kew and Margaret Cooley.]

CITY OF ST. THOMAS.

Form IV.—Annie M. Bessford, Denis
Dunn and William Hirst. III.— Theresa Gurvine, Mary Murray and Honora MacCaffery. II.—Laura Graney, Annie Lordan and Julia
Ryan.

CITY OF STRATFORD.

Girls (Senior).—Ellen Fewer, Mary Willis, Margaret Hoy, Mabel Lyons, Alice McPhelimy, Mary Andrich.

St. Bridget's school.

—Anna Harris,
Anna Anderson, Virginia Vallee, Mary Nesbitt, Harriet Anderson, Mary Ward, Elizabeth MacPherson, Evelyn Hayden, and Ann Cunningham.

St. Mary's school.

—Mary McGarry,
Margaret McCaul and Anna Fitzgerald.

CITY OF GUELPH.

Boys IV.—Frederick W. Sleeman, John Hurley, and John F. Duignan.
III.—Edward O'Brien, Gregory Jolley, Joseph Doyle, Nicholas Reinhardt. II.— Edward Foster, William Conway, Edward O'Donnell.

Girls (Senior).

—Henrietta Astocker, Rose Gallagher and Mary O'Connor.
Juniors.—Phoebe Heffernan, Ellen Reinhart and Agnes Heffernan.

TOWNS.

Ankerburg.—Marcel Caron, Chas.
O'Rourke, Felix Laframboise, Ernest Blonde, John Kelly, Thomas Quinlan, Louisa Woods, Anna Rousseau, Emma Mechan, Ellen Courty, Florence Bastien, Emily Woods.

Barrie.—Caroline McGuire, Henry Carpenter, Charles Powell, Mary Moran, Anelia Ryan, Helena McDonald.

Berlin.

—Edward Harth, James
Nolan, Mathias Koefer, Martha Kember, Josephine Egbert, Emma Fisher.

Chatham.

—John Minkoff, Auchen
Jacques, James O'Keefe, Francis Reaume, James Harper, David Brennan, Sarah McQueen, Mary DeCourcy, Mary Keenan, Mary McLarnan, Agnes Laurenden, Louisa McCarthy.

Dundas.

—Reginald Hickey, Theodore Filman, Rosmon Lahy, Albert Fillman, Cecilia Cain.

Galt.

—Ellen Callaghan, Sarah Lanigan, Mary Cooper.

Goderich.

—John Tighe, Margaret
Lynn, Ellen McDonald.

Ingersoll.

—Agnes Carlin, Ambrose Hennessey, Catharine MacSherry, Francis Fisher, Lucy Fisher, Margaret Mc-Ginnes.

Newmarket.

—Rose Carpenter, John
Coyle, Mary McCaffery.

Niagara Falls.

—Margaret Ellis, Jos.
Burke, Elizabeth O'Neill, Ellen O'Leary, Francis MacNulty.

Oakville.

—Annie Curran, Helena
Coy, Alice Weir, Warren Harkuff, Margaret Weir, Edward Caven.

Orillia.

—William Hanley, John Muleahy, Alexander Macdonald, Isabella Donnelly, Mary McHugh, Alice Moore.

Owen Sound.