Mrs. Collins sustained a fracture of her collar bone and shoulder blade and Miss McAvoy received a gash over the right eye which necessitated 6 stitches in dressing. The little girl escaped uninjured. Mr. Farrar, who was running the car, immediately stopped and came to their assistance and brought them to Tweed when they were taken to Dr. Doyle's office and their injuries attended to. Both are doing as nicely as could be expected.—Tweed Advocate.

Work Carried on in Lumber Camps

A good season's cut is reported from Hall Bros. Lumber camp, four miles from Marlbank, where Mr. D. Healy as foreman, with a gang of 18 men is said to have made a new record. Operations began on the first week of January and closed on Mar. 19th, during which time 10,000 saw logs were cut, 5,000 cedar posts and 800 sticks of rock elm timber. Besides this the gang landed the timber and posts at Marlbank for shipment and the logs were hauled over two miles where a mill is being installed to convert them into lumber. Taking into consideration the unfavorable weather conditions that prevailed throughout the winter for lumbering it must be fully admitted that the above record is an enviable one. We understand that Mr. Healy the foreman, has some fourteen or fifteen years experience in the lumber business.—Tweed Advocate.

Mrs. O'Shea has every reason to be proud of the war record of her family, another of her sons, Pte. E. Murphy (Reverted to Captain), was also awarded the Military Cross for conspicuous bravery and just two weeks before the close of the war lost his life while assisting one of his wounded men to safety, after a successful raid on the enemy.—Examiner.

Use Iceland Moss

The Food Administration of Sweden is using, as a flour substitute, a moss which grows on rocks, especially in pine forests, and which is known commonly as Iceland moss. This is gathered in large quantities and boiled in lye obtained from wood ashes. After suitable bleaching in the lye, explains a member of the American Chemical Society, the moss is washed thoroughly and then boiled in water for a few hours. It then dissolves completely and, upon cooling thickens into a jelly. This jelly, it is said, is used extensively in Swedish kitchens. Soups and other varieties of food may be diluted with it, without losing any of their food value.

In bread-making, they have found that this moss jelly may be substituted for 50 per cent of the flour usually used.

Reception to Students at Bridge St. Church Last Evening

The "students' reception" is one of the red letter events in the calendar of Bridge St. Methodist church and of the student life of Belleville. This function is annually looked forward to by the young people of the city with much pleasure.

Last evening the annual event was held under the auspices of the Young People's Society and the Sunday School. Some four or five hundred students from the High School, Albert College, the Ontario Business College and young people from the church, attended the function. The guests entered by the church and proceeded to the Sunday School rooms, where they were received, the following being the reception committee: Rev. Dr. Scott, pastor, Mr. F. S. Deacon, superintendent of the Sunday School and Mrs. Deacon, Mr. F. R. Wotten, president of the Y.P.S. and Mrs. Wotten.

The main features were promenade out of which the students could be trusted to take the greatest enjoyment and a program of music. To piano music the young people promenaded freely. The affair was delightfully informal, it may be said leave that to the students.

At the intermission in the promenade Mr. F. R. Wotten took the chair and introduced a program. Mrs. Joy Higgs rendered two delightful violin numbers. Prof. R. J. Staples sang "Macushala" and so pleased the audience that he rendered an encore. Miss Stewart, of Albert College gave an excellent reading, portraying with a great deal of success various characters from a photographic studio. Mr. Sam Anglin was heard in the song "Tom o' Devon" and demands for encores were so insistent that he twice responded.

Rev. Dr. Scott in his address of welcome declared that Belleville was famous throughout Canada as an educational centre. From our schools have gone many who have brought honor to the city. Bridge Street Church has an ambition to combine the religious impulse and the quest for knowledge. In these days perhaps the swing is away from study, the ambition being a medium of hard work and a maximum of enjoyment. Doubtless the pendulum will swing back in these days of reconstruction. There is nothing like play, but it should receive only its proportion of a tention. Life is important and passes quickly. "We congratulate you," said Dr. Scott, "as the coming leaders of your country. The fundamentals are faith in God and a recognition of that which keeps alive the spiritual nature. It is the lofty thought of God that has been the uplifting influence of the ages. With that we have the normal life."

"Bridge Street has never been sectarian and narrow, its one thought being the reign of righteousness and love. We do not wish to disturb your relations to any other church or any other body."

When promenading was resumed, abundant refreshments were served to the guests. The hosts and hostesses took pains to make the event a success. The result was seen in the happy countenances of the participants in the function.

The officers of the Y.P.S. are F. R. Wotten, president, Miss Irene Moore, Secretary and Mr. Fred Deacon, Jr.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Monday evening after school, at the Miss Irene Hicks entertained a number of her young friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hicks, corner of Benjamin and Yeomans street, in honor of her 8th birthday. A most enjoyable time was spent by all present. The young guests received a large number of gifts. Refreshments were served to the gathering which was much enjoyed by the juveniles.
