On slighting from his howdah, which greatly eclipsed anything of the kine in Gholab Singhly sawaree, the Governor-General was conducted into the Durbar tent by the Maharajah, who assigned to him a seat on his own right, while Sir Henry Elliot took his place on the left, the other British Officers in attendance seating themselves on the right of the Governor-General. By Henry Stremens, F. R. S., of Edinburgh, Ahthor of the "Book of the Farm," &c., &c., assisted by John P. Norton, M. A., New Haven, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, &c., &c.
This highly valuable Work will comprise two large royal octave volumes, continuing over-1409 pages, with 180 of 20 aplendid Steel Engravings, still more than 600 Engravings on Wood, in the highest style of the Art, itlustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in user by the best farmers, the best methods of ploughing, planting, haying's harvesting, &c., &c., the various domestic animals in their highest perfection; in short, the pictorial feature of the hook is urique, and will render-it of incalculable value to the student of agriculture.

The Work is being published in Semi-Roussly Numbers, of 45 pages each, exchasive of the Steel Engravings, and is sold at 25 cents each, or 45 for the ettire Work in Numbers, of which there will be at least 22,

The London Querierly Review, (Conservative.)
The Edinburgh Review, (Wang.)
The Both British Review, (Wang.)
The North British Review, (Liberal.)
The Wastminster Review, (Liberal.)

Blackwood's Edinburgh Mangazins, (Tory.)
Although these Works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literacy character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the sernal Works of Bulver and other literary notables, written for that Magazine, and first appearing in its columns bota in Great Brismin and in the United States. Such works as "The Caniones" and "My New Novel;" (both by Balwer,) "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hund," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issuad by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blacks wood, after it has been issued by Messre. Sent & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the excitest reading of these fascinating tales.
