Y.M.C.A. Membership Campaign Got Off To Good Start Last Night

Reason as you will, there is only one way to describe the opening scenes of the second great membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A. since they entered their new building. They were truly magnificent.

All the old fire of Honorary President George Wedlake returned as he gave a stirring address on the duty of every citizen towards the Y. M. C. A. Others there were and they included men such as the Mayor, Reginald Scarfe, President T. L. Wood and last but not least the popular T. F. Best, late of Hamilton Y. M. C. A. and formerly of Brantford. Enthused by such speakers, spiritually and mentally and given strength temporarily but substantially by the splendid feast provided by the Ladies' Aid, the team workers will go forward confident of success for the start of the campaign was auspicious in its brilliance.

The feast done justice to, the gathering was called to order and the evening's business was then undertaken.

Chairman Wedlake. Geo. Wedlake in his opening remarks declared that the little boys were just as welcome as the big boys. They made the citizens of the future. He did not know of any place which was so much like home as the Y. M. C. A. The young man who came into the city, should be thankful indeed to those responsible for the erection of such an institution as Brantford Y. M. C. A. He was pleased to note the business men's section. For the business of the Y. M. C. A. was the business of making the man of the future. Make them physically fit, mentally fit and spiritually fit. When the older ones found hairs of grey they wanted men, real men to take their places.

Brantford has always been to the front in any work of this kind. They had responded nobly to the call of the coming generations. So important was the work, that the citizens would have given $150,000 had it been asked instead of the $100,000 which was required of them. It was only a year ago since the institution had been opened, and instead of a 1000 membership they had obtained 1300 and this year, he felt, as he looked round that this would be obtained. "We are making this fighting for a good cause and it was good to be united instead of divided for once. It had been the aim of the board to make the Y. M. C. A. the centre of many public activities. It was their desire to make it publicly recognized as the centre of all good organizations. He moved a hearty vote of thanks to the team workers for their past endeavors. The teams were given an incentive to work as they had never done before, as the President reminded them that members must be had at any cost.

Mr. Vernon Cooper was heard in splendid voice and rarely had the Y. M. C. A. held captive a finer voice. His encore was never for a moment doubted.

A telegram was handed up to the honorary president announcing the best wishes of the National Council. Mayor Spence. The Y. M. C. A. as a civic institution was the theme of Mayor Spence's address to those gathered. He referred to Brantford volunteers of the Canadian contingent. In the work of aiding the dependants of the city the Y. M. C. A. board had been a most important and decisive factor. They had offered the best and to them was due much of the success of the War Fund campaign. So to-night he and Mr. Scarfe offered themselves as a friend to every home, every man, every woman, every girl. Y. M. C. A. men were better in every way for the training and moral outlook. Principle is what counts and this institution stood for principle and it would remain bound to her honor.

The Y. M. C. A. was giving dollar for dollar. Every man got his money back in physical and moral benefits, let alone the moral benefits which accrued. The directors had met the needs of the case and men could join for the least possible cost.

There is not a business man in Brantford who should not count it a privilege to be a member of the Business Men's Club. They should show their love of country by taking out a membership in an institution doing so much for the manhood of the country. With a word of encouragement, the speaker concluded his fine oration to cheers.

President T. L. Wood. Welcomed all at the banquet. He welcomed the mass workers for a great cause. The need of members was one of necessity. Unless they had a good number of members, they could not feel as secure as they had. He could not imagine Brantford without its Y. M. C. A. and to keep it strong he would ask all to work diligently in the gaining of members.

Some would talk of the building being overmanned, but he would point out that they were by no means overmanned. They had found the office staff overworked and being hard headed business men they realized the trend of things. They were not likely to throw money away. In spite of hard times they had obtained a new and good man. The membership warranted it. For the coming winter an ambitious programme had been outlined and it would be carried out or the board would know why.

It was good to see such a cosmopolitan gathering. They were

It was heartily sung under his leadership three times. There was no doubt, he claimed, about the success of the campaign if they only put some enthusiasm into their work. No refusal should be brooked. Talking of enthusiasm he drew an effective word picture of Val-Carrier camp. The valley between the Laurentian mountains with its city of white strewn tents, came vividly before him and the activity of Canada's greatest military camp was pictured as could only be, by one of observation and gifted verbally. Above all the great work of the Y. M. C. A. at that great tent city was brought prominently forward. "Seek the salvation of men," he stated. "When you go out for memberships, get your eyes off the dollar, the first things first, and remember the first is not the Y. M. C. A."

Thus he closed a magnificent address amid the cheers of those assembled. From the sublime to the ridiculous went Mr. Vernon Cooper, who displayed, despite the humorous nature of his second contribution, a vast store of dramatic ability. Again his songs were the cause of an encore.

The leaders of the red and green sections, H. V. Hutton of the greens and Alec Lockington of the reds, then gave brief addresses to the progress of the year and pictured the splendid, impressive and solemn opening of the institution of just one year ago. He came to the present with the Y. M. C. A. membership of today. A renewal of the good work of yesterday was asked for to-morrow.

Charles Thomson, the recording secretary to the board of membership, then outlined the propaganda of the campaign, after which the gathering dispersed, having given the campaign an auspicious start on its way to success.

COL. HUGHES TO REST. OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, to-day announced that he will leave to-morrow for a period of rest in the woods of Haliburton county, and will be away perhaps for two weeks. "We will take that up when the problem arises," was the minister's non-committal reply to a query as to whether Canada would organize a second contingent. He expressed his satisfaction that things had gone so smoothly at Valcartier. In England, he said, their longest troop haul is 200 miles, and it required a month to mobilize the regular army in Canada we had to bring volunteers 3,000 miles, organize a new camp, clothe and equip the force, and we got them away in six weeks.

Premier Hearst, in announcing Ontario's gift of $15,000 toward the Belgian Relief fund, intimated that Ontario would seek Belgian settlers. Ex-Reeve Lush of Trafalgar Township, and Warden Bertram of Wentworth county have been added to the Toronto-Hamilton Highway Construction Commission.

In Daily Fear Of Death—Until "Fruit-a-tives" Brought Relief.

CHATHAM, Ont., April 3rd, 1913. "Some two years ago, I was a great sufferer from indigestion. One day my eye caught a billboard of 'Fruit-a-tives' and I said to myself 'If Fruit-a-tives will build me up like that, it is good enough for me.' I bought some. After taking these wonderful tablets for only three weeks, I found myself wonderfully improved. In a short time longer, I cured myself entirely. My case was no light one, either. Gas would often form in my stomach and I was in daily fear that it would get around my heart and kill me. 'Fruit-a-tives' is the only remedy for indigestion."
