

AN UNNATURAL FATHER.

Charged With Compelling His Daughter Occupy a Brothel.

A Fellow Countryman Files a Complaint Against Him at the Instance of the Girl.

R. Taniguchi, a Japanese fellow of low character and unfilial disposition, was arrested Monday on complaint of George L. Kershew, another Jap, charged with the heinous offense of forcing his little daughter, Kuni, to prostitution and himself living upon her earnings. The girl looks to be no more than 12 years of age, with long, raven-black hair, and is doubtless extremely pretty from a Japanese point of view; she is, however, about 15, according to the statement of a friend, and has been an inmate of a brothel in Dawson for over a year. It was upon her request that the complaint was made. Her mother is also in a brothel. The case will probably be heard this (Wednesday) forenoon. The extreme penalty for the crime is 14 years imprisonment.

Mexican Natives at War.

St. Louis, July 29.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from Nogales, Ari., says: Two gattling guns and a detachment of artillery soldiers from the City of Mexico via El Paso have been hurried southward en route to the scene of Yaqui war. The troops are being marched across the mountains from points in the states of Chihuahua and Durango to join the forces now there and other reinforcements are rushing in from all quarters.

It is reported that emissaries have been sent by the Yaqui leaders to ranches and mines all over the state of Sonora wherever men of the tribe are at work, calling them to arms with their compatriots already in the field and many Yaquis who were employed in the big mining camps and on haciendas as laborers have disappeared.

The situation is considered so grave that Mayor Overton has communicated with Governor Murphy a request to ask the war department to send a troop of cavalry from Huachuca for the protection of the town.

Another Klondiker Robbed.

The long list of Klondikers who have lately been relieved of their wealth by Seattle crooks has been increased by the name of Albert M. Stockman, who was robbed of $1020 on Aug. 2. Stockman's story is that almost immediately upon his arrival in the city, he went to bed at the St. Charles hotel. He had the $1020 in a belt around his waist, while in his pants pocket was about $1200. He didn't notice anything wrong with his money belt when he awoke, but later in the day found that the money in the belt was missing, but he still had money in his pants pocket. He thought at first he might have lost it in his room, but the landlady denied finding it. He offers $200 reward for it.

Comedy at the Opera House.

"Jane," one of the brightest and most popular of late comedies, is cast at the Opera House this week, with a company of much strength, and it is giving excellent satisfaction. In the specialty line are DeVello, the club swinger, Blossom, Hastings and Hall, Bessie Pierce, the wonderful contortionist, Billy Mullin, Ida Rossiter, Lulu Elliott, Maud Lloyd and popular Fred Tracy. The week promises to be a strong one in point of attendance and quality of amusement.

Fun at the Monte Carlo.

The Monte Carlo continues to maintain the freshness and dash introduced on the stage with the advent of the new management, and this week it is putting up a strong article of entertainment. A laughable first part concludes with a cake walk in which Jacqueline and "Count" de Roleaux do a turn with a grace and abandon that wins them a storm of applause nightly. The specialties are all good throughout, and a number of new musical selections brought from the outside by Theo. Egert add to the strength of the show. The last feature is a big card—Ole Marsh meeting any and all comers at catch-as-catch-can, a purse of $25 to go to the winner if Marsh does not throw him within 15 minutes. On Monday night two men reached for the purse, but it was no use.

Liquor Will Be Landed.

The prospects are that all the liquor and beer lately turned away from Dawson by reason of the present peculiar regulations maintaining at Ottawa will be brought back and landed and that other cargoes in transit under bond will also find a harbor. This was suggested on Monday, when the Empire Trading Co.'s steamer St. Michael arrived from below with 918 barrels of Pabst's beer. Application for permission to land the goods was applied for and granted, and it will be allowed to remain in the storehouse until the embargo is raised by the powers that be in Ottawa, which everybody will agree is a much more sensible plan than turning the stuff away to find temporary refuge just across the boundary line. Whiskey and beer is piled along the beach there, and it will probably soon be brought up here and properly stored. The goods were in bond to Dawson, and their enforced landing on American soil made them subject to seizure; but it is believed the American authorities will take a broad guaged view of the matter and allow the stuff to be removed, as it is there through no fault of the owners.

It is noticeable that prominent handlers of liquor, together with certain government officials as are in a position to know, are now hopeful that the embargo against importing will be removed very shortly.

Injustice to Yukoners.

New York, July 29.—A special to the Times from Washington City says: Third Assistant Postmaster Madden has issued an order calling the attention of postmasters everywhere to the fact that packages cannot be mailed to the Yukon district. Letters and postal cards can be sent to the Yukon territory, but there is no way in which parcels can be forwarded. It seems that some postmasters have failed to notify persons who have attempted to send such matter of this rule, and people who have tried to send clothing and other articles to their friends on the Yukon have had their trouble for their pains. Postmasters are instructed to decline all such matter.

Peace Conference Ends.

The Hague, July 29.—The peace conference has come to a final end and the delegates are leaving for home. Although many important proposals were not adopted, a great advance toward international amity was made and the delegates are generally well satisfied with their labors.

The three conventions dealing with arbitration, the laws and customs of war and the adaptation of the Geneva convention to naval warfare, were not signed by Germany, Austria-Hungary, China, England, Italy, Japan, Luxemburg, Serbia, Switzerland or Turkey. The United States signed only the arbitration convention, and that under reserve. Roumania also made reservations.

The three declarations prohibiting the throwing of explosives from balloons, the use of asphyxiating projectiles, and the use of dum-dum bullets were not signed by Germany, Austria-Hungary, China, England, Italy, Japan, Luxemburg, Serbia or Switzerland, and the United States signed only the declaration regarding the throwing of explosives from balloons.

Not a Marriage.

The music of a brass band attracted attention to the home of Nigger Jim on Sunday night, and it soon became noised about that it was in honor of his marriage to Lottie Oatley. A reporter who called next day, however, learned that the occasion was simply the little lady's birthday, and that the serenade was a little surprise prepared for her by Nigger Jim.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

H. Grootschier was fined $10 and costs for allowing his dog to run at large.

James Cassell and W. Sloan, for creating a disturbance while intoxicated, paid $10 and costs.

Robert G. Evans, supposed to be a distant relative of "Lightning Bob" Evans, gave up 16 plunks for indulging his boisterous proclivities.

On Tuesday morning Hughes was fined $10 and costs for the assault, but the charge of allowing his dog to run at large unmuzzled was dismissed.

John, the piper's son, stole a pig and away he run. Frank Wilton, if the charge against him is true, varied the old tale by substituting a leg of mutton. The master of the Lotta Talbot told the story of his escapade and Frank was arrested.

Henry Korn and Peter Weiberg are charged with fraud, in that they did appropriate to themselves gold-dust to the value of $3500 from claim No. 36 above on Bonanza, being the property of the N. A. T. & T. Co. They will tell their side of the story to the court on Thursday afternoon.

Louis Vacotich, Nicholas Joyianovich and Martin Brathowich, three subjects of his exalted majesty the czar, engaged in a three-cornered chewing match that finally developed into a Killenny cat affair. The racket reached the ears of Constable Quinn, and the three combatants were landed in court, where they were assessed $5 and costs each.

Wm. McLain neglected to pay for a round of drinks at Thomas & Rosenthal's saloon until remonstrated with, and he then evidenced his ill feeling by firing something through the window. Private Smith, of the Y. F. F., took him in, and he was fined $1 and costs in addition to a claim of $7 for the window.

E. Lindig sued Fred Noyes, manager of the Klondike sawmill, because he couldn't get his wages in "cheek-charko." When it developed, however, that Lindig had accepted an agreement to take his pay in dust, the court dismissed the action forthwith, remarking that it was another proof of the truth of the old English proverb that "a man who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client."

William Watson, a quiet man enough in his normal state, develops pugilistic proclivities in an aggravated form after imbibing a few glasses of hooch. One of these times happened the other morning about 1 o'clock, and when Constable Lathrop came across him he was issuing a challenge to any and everybody in the town, while his swinging arms lent a fierce emphasis to his statements. The challenge was accepted by the constable, who landed Watson in jail; but the latter proved that he had been making no idle boast of his prowess, for he snapped the iron handcuffs apart like they had been whip cords. Fifteen dollars and costs was the amount assessed against the offender, $5 of which was intended to cover the loss of the handcuffs.

E. Frank told a pitiful tale of injury to the court on Monday. He was enjoying a quiet walk about town Sunday when an unmuzzled dog suddenly rushed from a house and made all sorts of threats to eat him up. A woman also appeared in the doorway and, as she appeared to be the owner of the brute, he began to remonstrate against the dog being allowed to run at large. While he was so engaged a big man rushed out of the house and struck him a vicious blow on the face.

The assailant proved to be one Henry Hughes and he was placed under arrest or assault, while another charge of allowing his dog to run at large unmuzzled was sworn out.

George Pilz was found not long ago busily engaged in taking out gold from a claim belonging to Captain Hansen, and an investigation on the part of Edgar A. Misner, in behalf of the captain, disclosed the fact that the gold so mined amounted in value to $1576. Pilz was arrested, and in court Monday he told the following story. He was met by a man named Smith, who claimed to have purchased the claim from another man named Weineken, who runs on a steambot out of Dawson. Smith invited him to take a lay and Weineken had done so. He had never seen Weineken since, but his partner had; as for Smith, Weineken did not know where he could be found. The case was finally adjourned to Tuesday to allow Pilz an opportunity to produce his alleged lay papers.
