NOTRE DAME OF REIMS.

No Cathedral in France its Equal in Wealth or Ornament.

The place where it (Reims cathedral) stands is far too closely shut in by small and insignificant houses. But the strongest light, the meanest surroundings, could not lessen the marvel of so marvelous a church, and magnificent is the word that occurs to one on the threshold, as to Arthur Young on the distant hilltop. There is no ca-thedral in France that can equal it in wealth, in extravagance, in gorgeous-ness of ornament. The facade of Notre Dame of Paris, while something like it pame of Paris, while sometiming like it in general design, is of Puritan simplicity beside the facade of Notre Dame of Reims. No other west doors are more deeply recessed, more richly charged with sculpture, row upon row, tier upon tier, some statues being as unexpectedly Greek in character as others are Gothic. No other sculptures are on so large and imposing a scale. No other gables over the doors soar No other gables over the doors soar upward in such high, acute angles. No other show such an entanglement of figures and traceries. And the great, tall windows above and the rose be-tween are so beset with ornament that hardly an inch of bare stone remains about them. In the gallery of kings the statues stand under carven canopies, intricate, delicate, lacelike in their elaboration. The tall central gable, fretted and flamboyant, reaches up still higher, and on each side of it the towers, with the long lines of their arche and windows, seem bent on carrying the glory of it all to the very heights of heaven. Nor were architect and sculptor less lavish when they turned from the west front. Everywhere it is the same. The buttresses stand firm, a mass of arcades, niches sheltering wide winged angels and tall pinnacles, or they go flying across aisles in as light, graceful and ornate a flight as if beauty were its only object. They are the most beautiful buttresses in France, Fergus son says; the grandest pinnacles, Mr. Moore declares, and both are right. The transepts are only new spaces for new ornament; the apse is only a new motive for the new arrangement of buttresses and pinnacles. The gargovies somehow seem more monstrous than those that look down from other cathedral walls, and around the top of the apse, perched on a high baltrade, are grotesques-owls, mermaids, griffins, unicorns—strange beings that come of the same family as the devils of Notre Dame in Paris, only the grotesques of Reims are where they can be seen from below, where they serve in the decorative scheme breaking the horizontal lines of the bal-ustrade with the effect of still another row of pinnacles. I have wandered for days about the cathedral without coming to the end of its inexhaustible detail. It is almost incredible that one church could be so covered with ornament, that its walls could bear upon their surface such a rhythmical confusion of sculptured stone.-Elizabeth Robins Pennell in Century.

The Warmth of a Snow House. The Warmth of a snow House.
Usually our snow igloos allowed each man from eighteen to twenty inches space in which to lie down and just room enough to stretch his legs well. With our sleeping bags they were entirely comfortable, no matter what the matthe outside. The snow is proposed. weather outside. The snow is porous enough to admit of air circulation, but even a gale of wind without would not affect the temperature within. It is claimed by the natives that when the wind blows a snow house is warmer than in a period of still cold. I could see no difference. A new snow igloo is, however, more comfortable than one that has been used, for newly cut snow blocks are more porous. In one that has been used there is always a crust of ice on the interior which prevents a proper circulation of air.-Dilion Wallace in Outing Magazine.

Our Dirty Ancestors. Our Dirty Ancestors.

The daily morning bath was by no means popular with our ancestors in the good old days, for soap is really quite a new factor in the world's life. Most of our ancestors were very dirty and dissembled the fact by the use of the contractions of the contractions. Washing one's hands stifling perfumes. Washing one's hands, which was only done by the very best people, meant dipping the fingers in rosewater and drying them on a nap-kin. Even the Romans of the time of the "decline," who were probably the cleanest as a community, simply bath-ed in water and rubbed themselves with oil. It sounds nasty to us, but, then, so does, for example, Chinese music, which millions of orientals think delightful.—London Answers.

"My dear, will it bother you if I ask a question about our club bookkeeping? You know I'm treasurer."

"Well, we gave a cha rity euchre for the benefit of the Old Ladies' home. It cost our club $300, and we only took in $250. Now, I figure it out that the old ladies owe us $50. Am I right?'—Life.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of he price ring as well as in it. We protect bur heads, throats feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," Indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical anthorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined giveerine being used instead.

Crown Attorney's Statement in Orangeville Case.

Case Against Druggist Is Dropped-Coroner Henry Makes Protest In Court-Calls It a Farce-Residents Are Indignant - Defence Lawyer Claims Fulfilment of Bargain-Much of Evidence Only Hearsay.

Much of Evidence Only Hearsay.

Orangeville, May 30.—Although at a dramatic moment in the proceedings, Coroner James Henry rose in open court and vehemently stated that the whole thing was a farce, addressing Police Magistrate Pattullo directly on the bench, the crown yesterday afternoon dismissed Arthur Chapman Douglas on the charge of supplying noxious drugs for a criminal purpose to Elizabeth Wells.

The score or so of spectators, that included farmers that had driven in miles to be present, judging from their expressions, did not view the result with any too much equaminity. There was talk of holding an indignation meeting Thursday night.

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., after the reading of the charge, sprang a surprise by refusing to allow Douglas to either plead or elect. This course he explained, was justified from the fact that Douglas had been used by the Crown as a witness for the extradition of Walter Jackson, and before the grand jury and following the invariable custom ought to be protected. On this understanding only Douglas had been permitted by his counsel to make any statement to the Crown.

The crown attorney made a statement in which he said the reason for the course taken, was that he felt that no jury would convict on the hearsay evidence, which was all that could be produced. Moreover, Douglas had been used as a witness for the Crown, and this had always been held to carry exemption from future prosecution.

A MOTHER'S STORY

How Zam-Buk Brought a Blessing to Her Home

Mrs J. J. Wilson, of 53 Wickson Avenue, Toronto, tells mothers of the benefits her home has derived from her habit of keeping a box of Zam-Buk, the great healing balm, always handy. She says: "My little girl,
five years old, had an abscess on her knee.
The knee was very much swollen and inlamed, and very painful. We put on some Zam-Buk and itiguite oured her. I have also used it for cuts and bruises sustained by both my children, and itis wonderful how quickly it gave the little once relief. Zam-Buk is so pure that a mother need not fear using it even on very young children.

My husband had his eye badly burned with hot lime. The eye was swollen and the agony was terrible. We applied Zam-Buk and the pain was speedily relieved. In three days time the eye was quite cured.
We have also found Zam-Buk a fine remedy for piles, and I believe it to be the finest household balm obtainable."

Zam-Buk is purely heebal, and may be used by mothers even for skin of children of very tender years. It cures rashes, tetter, haby's skin troubles, chaing sores, etc. It also cures eczema, itch, pustules, blood poison, scalp sores, sore feet, sore nipples,
ulcers, abscesses, chronic wounds, bad leg, running sores, varicose ulcers, etc. For piles it is absolutely unequalled.
