

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., SEPT. 28, 1894.

The Value of the Church.

Those who support the church, for the most part, probably do so because of the religious instruction it gives. They believe in the supernatural and they adhere to the church because the church helps to reveal this power. They do not look very much to immediate influence in the present welfare of society, but rather to the preparation of the people for what may be in the future state of man. Viewed in this light the church is of absorbing interest. But apart from this divine function, the church has an influence and a value in the community worthy of recognition. It has a vast influence upon the intellectual life of the people. Generally it has one of the best trained men in the community constantly at work teaching publicly and from house to house. Every Sunday, when the people are at rest physically and their minds alert, when they are most aspiring and hungry for knowledge, this trained preacher addresses them in the best way he knows upon the highest and most vital themes, the truths of God, of man's welfare here and hereafter, of the conscience, the heart, the life of each. Generally these discourses are in good literary form, and so, both by the doctrine taught and the manner of teaching, there is an intellectual influence exerted which is potent indeed. Add to the preaching, the music that is rendered, the study in the Sunday-school, the literature that is disseminated and the educational work carried on by the churches combined, and who can assign a value to the intellectual stimulus given by the continual work of the church? If we value education so much as to devote a large proportion of our provincial revenues to common schools we should recognize the force of the church operating to the same end.

If we consider the moral influence of the church, its value is likewise clear. For the safety of life and property, the integrity necessary for the transaction of business, the stability of society in fact will depend upon the moral soundness prevailing. Truth between man and man is the compact upon which society is built. Now the church holds the highest standard of morality we have; it enforces the teaching by the highest sanctions, and while not all adherents exemplify the beauty of the standard preached, the power of the church as a moral force is recognized by the dread of its discipline. In a sense it has the power of life and death, for its censure on moral grounds almost destroys a man. The moral life is looked into the closer is seen to be the connection between the moral power of the church and the soundness of private life, the safety of all institutions. And the social influence of the church in bringing men together who would otherwise tend to antagonism is apparent. There are so many tendencies to separation and hostility that we need some counteracting force. The strife for wealth sets the poor against the wealthy; the increase of culture and refinement tends to the separation of the people into groups that are indifferent or opposed to one another; the ignorant are opposed to the educated, the lawless to the law abiding. Anarchy even appears here and there. Now the church antagonizes this spirit of separation; it brings rich and poor, old and young, educated and ignorant to the same table; it binds them in the fellowship of common worship and Christian service; it unites them in their deepest joys and griefs; it makes each the friend of all and of the whole race. This power going on year after year creates the condition of co-operation by which the welfare of the community commercially and in every way is secured. These indirect effects of the church's work are of the greatest possible benefit and therefore the settlement of a minister or the advance movement of a church in a town is a matter of interest to all. Those who support the church and those who minister therein are public benefactors. Their service adds to the value of property as well as to the value of every life touched by their services. And we are glad to know that the pulpits of our town are filled by men of ability, high character and acknowledged power.

The census branch of the department of agriculture has issued a blue book of butter and cheese, which gives the following statistics:—The total cheese produce of Canada in 1891 was 114,000,000 lbs., valued at $9,784,000, to which Nova Scotia contributed 1,095,000 lbs., compared with 953,000 in 1891. The number of cheese factories in 1891 was 1,565, employing 3,000 persons. There are 170 creameries, employing 425 persons and producing in 1891 4,507,000 lbs. of the value of $913,000. In Nova Scotia the total annual butter product is 9,000,000 lbs., of which only 10,000 lbs. is factory made. The returns show that Nova Scotia has 324,000 horned cattle, compared with 325,000 at the census of 1891, or 1,000 fewer.

The secretary of the United States treasury, having received official information that Canada imposes no export duty and discriminating stumpage duty on either lumber, logs, timber and articles mentioned in the free lumber schedule of the new tariff act, has instructed collectors of customs to admit such articles free of duty, when imported from Canada.

College opens on Wednesday of next week. The senior class this year is expected to number about twenty-three.

A Record of National Growth.

The statistical Year Book of Canada for 1893, compiled by the statisticians of the department of agriculture, contains a wealth of information, and should be carefully studied by every Canadian. Notwithstanding anything that may be said to the contrary, its eloquent figures tell a story of progress which is wonderful. To cite an instance or two, it may be stated that, in 1868 39,960,000 letters and newspapers passed through the then existing 3,638 post offices, while in 1893 the number was increased to 196,660,917 packages, handled in 8,477 offices; that the gross assets of our chartered banks in 1867 were $77,872,257, while in 1893 the aggregate of our bank assets was $303,363,580; that the number of light-houses in Canada in 1867 was only 227, where now we have 749; that in 1867 our gross imports and exports were $131,027,532, while in 1893 the aggregate of our imports and exports reached the sum of $247,638,620.

That Open Letter.

The particulars of a remarkable cure of consumption, after the patient had read the last issue, related in the article published in the ACADIAN last week under the heading "An Open Letter from a Prominent Physician," has caused much comment. It is well known that physicians, as a rule, are averse to speaking words of praise for an advertised medicine, however meritorious it may be, and when one of them casts this prejudice aside and gives in plain unvarnished language the particulars of a case that must take rank among the most remarkable in the practice of medicine, it is not only a noteworthy triumph for the medicine in question, but also reflects credit on the physician who has cast aside his professional prejudice and gives the result of his use of the medicine for the benefit of suffering humanity. In the articles published from time to time, vouched for by reliable newspapers, the public have had the strongest evidence that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is a medicine of remarkable merit, and now to these is added the authority of a well known physician, over his signature, the particulars of a cure of consumption through the timely use of Dr. Williams' famous Pink Pills. It cannot be too widely known that a remedy has been found that will cure this hitherto deadly and un conquered disease, and if any of our readers have not read the article to which we refer we would advise them to look up last week's issue and give it a careful perusal. The facts related may prove of valuable assistance in a time of need.

The Delinquent for November which is called the Thanksgiving Number, is the first of the three great Winter issues, and presents a Table of Contents that is most varied and interesting. The fashions for the month appear even more attractive than usual, and with such becoming styles womanhood should appear at her best during the winter at hand. A timely illustrated paper on Evening and Dinner dresses supplements the regular season are the Thanksgiving Dinner, a Thanksgiving in New England, Table Decoration, and How to Serve Apples and Pears. The initial paper of two new series appears in this number; one treats of The House, its location, etc.; the other of the Relations between Mother and Son. One of the most interesting papers of the month is a "real conversation" between Edith Thomas and Dr. Elliott on the subject of Woman and War, which is followed by a charming little poem on the subject in Miss Thomas' best vein. The little article on the Kindergarten takes both student and teacher through attractive work, and there is fascinating employment provided in Venetian Iron Work and The Uses of Crepe and Tissue Papers. Mary Law McClintock writes of The Woman's College of Baltimore, and Lucia Gilbert Rankle contributes an able article on Private School Teaching as an Occupation for Women. What to do in illness contains good advice for the mother of a family, and there are also the popular Tea Table Talks, the description of a China Wedding, and special papers on Crocheting, Knitting, Netting, Tatting and Lace Making. The subscription price of the Delinquent is only One Dollar a Year, Single Copies, Fifteen cents each. Address Orders to The Delinquent Publishing Co. of Toronto, (Ltd.), 83 Richmond St. West, Toronto, Ont.

"What constitutes a good advertisement?" I asked this question the other day of a man who has a national reputation as a writer of bright, effective and trade-creating advertisements. He replied: "There is a wide divergence of opinion among advertisers as to what the ingredients of a good ad. consists of, and each is entitled to some consideration for among the most successful advertisers are men whose methods are widely at variance. In my opinion it is of prime importance that an advertisement contain nothing but the plain unvarnished truth. No deviation from this principle is permissible, for fictitious offers are apt to be taken seriously, and when buyers cannot find the articles in the store at the prices quoted in the advertisement they soon become distrustful of the merchant who seeks thus to entrap them. Brevity is also an important factor. Then again an advertisement should have a bright, catchy introduction that will arrest the reader's attention until his mind has absorbed the substance of the ad. I also believe in a liberal use of price figures and in frequent offerings of genuine bargains. It must also be remembered that an advertisement, like a dozen of eggs, may be spoiled in setting. Typographical that will make an advertisement, no matter how small, stand out prominently is what is needed."—Buffalo News.

The next meeting of the Baptist King County District Committee is appointed for Canada, Tuesday, Oct. 24, commencing at 10 o'clock and continuing through the day. The public are invited to attend.

Headache Specific still ahead. If you have headaches try a 10c. package, and be convinced. Two sizes 10c. and 25c. Druggists.

J. F. Herbin,

PRACTICAL OPTICIAN.

All Defects of the Sight Corrected.

WATCHMAKER &amp; JEWELLER.

21 WOLFVILLE, N. S.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER
DO YOU KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE?

W. E. ROSCOE,

Barrister, Solicitor, Proctor in Probate Court, etc.

Prompt attention given to the collection of debts.
Fire insurance in reliable English Companies.
Steam Boiler and Plate Glass Insurance in First Class Company.

MONEY TO LOAN
ON REAL ESTATE.
Kentville, Aug. 24th, '94.

The Times.

CONCERNING SUNDAY PERSONS AND THINGS.

Continued.

At this point my comrade broke off; and came in.

A youth and a maiden both equal in sin;
On her bowed face deep blushes of shame
did appear;
While he glanced around with a confident air.

As they entered from all sides their echoes the shout,
"Cast forth the condemned one, out, out, with her, out!"

But "forgive the poor youth," rang the horrible cry,
"He's but sowing wild oats; he'll reform by-and-by."

Affrighted the maiden shrunk away at the call,
And the youth unhesitated stood forth for his part.

But the heart-rendering picture, so common—so true—
"Oh sadder scene this world hath ever known!"

Began my friend, "to curse the weaker
And grant the other, equal in his shame,
Pardon and chance to reassume fair fame."

If the transgressions be of equal hue,
Then let the punishment be equal too.

For every word of the commandments ten.

I meant alike for women and for men,
I must confess I hate that vile extreme,
Sowing wild oats, so much in vulgar use,
As if man must in foulness wallow low,
Ere being cleansed to shine as white as snow;
And even the heavenly mansions see,
Must serve a term in penitentiary.

And truth with this grim fact the mind acquaints,
That greatest secondaries make the best.

And even to sympathize with sinners' woes,
First through our hearts plow furrows of woe,
Must flow.

The apostle said that Christ could deeply feel.

For others' sorrow, joy with others' weal,
Yet never stain might on his spirit steal.
Ah, youth whose morn soon into noon shall burst,
Cast the excuse aside as something cursed.
And let this precept burn in memory,
As is the seed so will the harvest be.
What though at last the triumph virtue gain,
The wound may heal but still the scars remain.

'Tis noble rising from a guilty fall,
But nobler never to offend at all.
But the thought of wild oats, a boy killed with a cry,
"Morning papers for sale, only five cents, who'll buy?"

Great prize fight; in just seven rounds and a half,
Mitchell changed from a lion to a bellowing calf,
Jim Corbett the winner; only five cents," yelled he.

And the papers were sold ere one counted to three.

Then came a new urchin and volubly phrased,
"Gladstone has resigned, and Lord Roseberry's raised."

As the empire's ruler, come purchase and read.

What time to our mightiest mind has decreed?"

But the audience smiled with a sickly scorn,
And the boy with his papers was left alone.

At this I gazed to muse; when, strange to tell,
Come to my sight a wondrous miracle.
The walls closed in, the roof descended low,
And to a shilling's round the stage contracted slow.

Where late the lofty portal opened wide,
A mouse could scarcely through the opening glide,
And all who showed of human size before,
Were dwarfed to pigmies ere you'd count a score.

Then one world-shaking crash of thunder broke,
And soft of sense, I fell beneath the stroke.

When into conscious life I backward passed,
From a proud height my opening eyes I cast.

Vast oceans gleamed below; and limpid streams
From some responsible resident of Canada,
Who can be interviewed or written to.

To-day we give another strong and mighty proof of the never failing power of Paine's Celery Compound. The letter comes from Mrs. Mary McKillop, of Campbellford, Ont., who says:—

"After using your Paine's Celery Compound I am of the opinion that I should say something in its favor for the benefit of all who have not given it a trial.

"I was a sufferer from rheumatism for a long time, and endured great pain. The cords in the palms of my hands were drawn up in knots, and I despaired of getting relief. However, after using Paine's Celery Compound, I have banished all my pains and troubles, and find myself strengthened in every way.

"I think Paine's Celery Compound is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism and all nervous complaints, and I will always recommend it strongly, particularly to those who are suffering from all weak and debilitated women.

An ant-like structure in a yard obscure.

W. E. ROSCOE,

Barrister, Solicitor, Proctor in Probate Court, etc.

Prompt attention given to the collection of debts.
Fire insurance in reliable English Companies.
Steam Boiler and Plate Glass Insurance in First Class Company.

MONEY TO LOAN
ON REAL ESTATE.
Kentville, Aug. 24th, '94.

The Times.

CONCERNING SUNDAY PERSONS AND THINGS.

Continued.

At this point my comrade broke off; and came in.

A youth and a maiden both equal in sin;
On her bowed face deep blushes of shame
did appear;
While he glanced around with a confident air.

As they entered from all sides their echoes the shout,
"Cast forth the condemned one, out, out, with her, out!"

But "forgive the poor youth," rang the horrible cry,
"He's but sowing wild oats; he'll reform by-and-by."

Affrighted the maiden shrunk away at the call,
And the youth unhesitated stood forth for his part.

But the heart-rendering picture, so common—so true—
"Oh sadder scene this world hath ever known!"

Began my friend, "to curse the weaker
And grant the other, equal in his shame,
Pardon and chance to reassume fair fame."

If the transgressions be of equal hue,
Then let the punishment be equal too.

For every word of the commandments ten.

I meant alike for women and for men,
I must confess I hate that vile extreme,
Sowing wild oats, so much in vulgar use,
As if man must in foulness wallow low,
Ere being cleansed to shine as white as snow;
And even the heavenly mansions see,
Must serve a term in penitentiary.

And truth with this grim fact the mind acquaints,
That greatest secondaries make the best.

And even to sympathize with sinners' woes,
First through our hearts plow furrows of woe,
Must flow.

The apostle said that Christ could deeply feel.

For others' sorrow, joy with others' weal,
Yet never stain might on his spirit steal.
Ah, youth whose morn soon into noon shall burst,
Cast the excuse aside as something cursed.
And let this precept burn in memory,
As is the seed so will the harvest be.
What though at last the triumph virtue gain,
The wound may heal but still the scars remain.

'Tis noble rising from a guilty fall,
But nobler never to offend at all.
But the thought of wild oats, a boy killed with a cry,
"Morning papers for sale, only five cents, who'll buy?"

Great prize fight; in just seven rounds and a half,
Mitchell changed from a lion to a bellowing calf,
Jim Corbett the winner; only five cents," yelled he.

And the papers were sold ere one counted to three.

Then came a new urchin and volubly phrased,
"Gladstone has resigned, and Lord Roseberry's raised."

As the empire's ruler, come purchase and read.

What time to our mightiest mind has decreed?"

But the audience smiled with a sickly scorn,
And the boy with his papers was left alone.

At this I gazed to muse; when, strange to tell,
Come to my sight a wondrous miracle.
The walls closed in, the roof descended low,
And to a shilling's round the stage contracted slow.

Where late the lofty portal opened wide,
A mouse could scarcely through the opening glide,
And all who showed of human size before,
Were dwarfed to pigmies ere you'd count a score.

Then one world-shaking crash of thunder broke,
And soft of sense, I fell beneath the stroke.

When into conscious life I backward passed,
From a proud height my opening eyes I cast.

Vast oceans gleamed below; and limpid streams
From some responsible resident of Canada,
Who can be interviewed or written to.

To-day we give another strong and mighty proof of the never failing power of Paine's Celery Compound. The letter comes from Mrs. Mary McKillop, of Campbellford, Ont., who says:—

"After using your Paine's Celery Compound I am of the opinion that I should say something in its favor for the benefit of all who have not given it a trial.

"I was a sufferer from rheumatism for a long time, and endured great pain. The cords in the palms of my hands were drawn up in knots, and I despaired of getting relief. However, after using Paine's Celery Compound, I have banished all my pains and troubles, and find myself strengthened in every way.

"I think Paine's Celery Compound is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism and all nervous complaints, and I will always recommend it strongly, particularly to those who are suffering from all weak and debilitated women.

An ant-like structure in a yard obscure.

WINDSOR ADVERTISEMENT.

CARVER'S
FALL OPENING.

LADIES' AND MISSES'
WINTER MANTLES, JACKETS
AND CAPES.

Ladies' Furs are to hand and Will be Shown this Week. A few Elegant deep

*GREENLAND SEAL CAPES,*
At Reasonable Prices. We anticipate the pleasure of your inspection.

Telephone 66. I. Fred. Carver.

For Rent!
Small tenement on Main Street.
Apply at American House.
Aug. 23d, 1894.

Bennett H. Armstrong, LL.B.
Barrister, Solicitor, &c.
Office: Main St., Wolfville.

Money to lend on mortgage. [45]

Fruit Baskets.
4500 arrived on Tuesday, with new hook fasteners. For sale in lots to fruit purchasers at factory prices. Resident agency for the Wolfville district. Apply to W. C. ARCHIBALD.

DR. BARSS,
Residence at Mr. Everett
W. Sawyer's; Office opposite
Royal Hotel, Wolfville.

OFFICE HOURS: 10-11, a.m.; 2-3, p.m.
Telephone at residence, No. 38

LAUNDRY
& DYEING

These are our lines and we do the Best in the Provinces. One trial will convince you.

Your old clothes, when sent to UNCAR'S, will be returned looking new.

UNCAR MAKES THE OLD NEW!
It means money in your pocket if you do.

Agents: ROCKWELL & CO.,
WOLFVILLE BOOKSTORE.

UNCAR'S
LAUNDRY AND DYE WORKS,
66-70 HARRINGTON ST.,
Halifax, N. S.

These are the same theatre I knew before.
Still from the portal squeaked the ceaseless cry,
"This is the world, the world and no one can deny."

CONSTRAINED TO SPEAK.
Consider it a Duty.

The Glad Intelligence may Save Many Lives.

Paine's Celery Compound Delivers Mrs. McKillop from the Terrors of Rheumatism.

THE DISEASE CAUSED TERRIBLE AGONY.

CORDS IN THE PALMS OF THE HANDS DRAWN UP IN KNOTS.

SUFFERINGS AND TORTURES ENDED AFTER THE GREAT MEDICINE WAS USED.

In the past, thousands have publicly declared that Paine's Celery Compound delivered them from the terrors and pains of rheumatism and terrible sciatica.

The same work is being done to day on a vastly more extended scale. Martyrs to rheumatism are throwing aside the deceptive and worthless medicines that have no merit, honesty or solid standing, and are demanding Paine's Celery Compound from their druggists and dealers.

They see the wonderful results that have come from the use of Paine's Celery Compound to friends, neighbors and relatives; they also are aware of the fact that every cure published for the encouragement of the sick and suffering comes from some responsible resident of Canada, who can be interviewed or written to.

To-day we give another strong and mighty proof of the never failing power of Paine's Celery Compound. The letter comes from Mrs. Mary McKillop, of Campbellford, Ont., who says:—

"After using your Paine's Celery Compound I am of the opinion that I should say something in its favor for the benefit of all who have not given it a trial.

"I was a sufferer from rheumatism for a long time, and endured great pain. The cords in the palms of my hands were drawn up in knots, and I despaired of getting relief. However, after using Paine's Celery Compound, I have banished all my pains and troubles, and find myself strengthened in every way.

"I think Paine's Celery Compound is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism and all nervous complaints, and I will always recommend it strongly, particularly to those who are suffering from all weak and debilitated women.

An ant-like structure in a yard obscure.

WE SELL!
The Windsor "Silver Moon."

The Best Heating and Most Economical Base
Burner in the Market!

Cook and Parlor Stoves;
Kitchen Furnishings.

Carriage Rugs and Blankets,
Horse Rugs and Halters,
Best Paints and Oils,
Guns and Ammunition.

GIBSON'S CEDAR SHINGLES, LUMBER, LIME, BRICK & CEMENT.

J. L. FRANKLIN.

Wolfville, N. S., September 26th, 1894.

OPENING!
OF FALL AND WINTER
Trimmed Millinery.

Wednesday and Thursday, Oct.
3d and 4th.

Hardwick & Randall.

Wolfville, September 28th, 1894.

SYDNEY COAL!

ON the way and daily expected from Sydney, per Schr. "Harold Borden," cargo Best OLD MINES SYDNEY COAL. In store White Ash, free burning, Lackawanna Hard Coal, in all sizes—Nut, Stove, Egg and Furnace; also, Lehigh, broken for Foundry purposes—all of which will be sold at very favorable rates and terms, and satisfaction to customers guaranteed. Also SPRING HILL Coal always in stock and prices right.

TELEPHONE NO. 18.
HIGGINS & VAUGHN.

Wolfville, August 8th, 1894.

Just Received!

A choice lot of "Blue Cross" Ceylon Teas.

BEST TEA IN THE MARKET.
Most fragrant and delicious, the Doctors recommend it, prices 40c, 50c,
60c per lb. Try this brand when you are ordering Tea, to be had at the Crystal Palace, China Teas at 20c,
30c and 40c per lb.

Our Coffee is Pure Java—
the best article in town.
Ground to Order.

A large assortment of Flavoring Extracts,
viz. Lemon, Vanilla, Rose, Nutmeg,
Apricot, Peach, Strawberry, Raspberry,
Cherry, Blood Orange, Cloves, Pineapple, Banana and Pear. These goods are the purest manufactured and are guaranteed.

Leave your orders at the Crystal
Palace and you will be well satisfied
with the result.

N. B. Eggs wanted at 14c. Good
Print Butter, 20c.

Sugar! Sugar!
West India Sugar, the best on earth,
only 5c per lb.

Brown Sugar.....25 lbs. for $1.00.
Gran Sugar.....19 lbs. for $1.00.

Leave your orders at the Crystal
Palace and you will be well satisfied
with the result.

N. B. Eggs wanted at 14c. Good
Print Butter, 20c.

T. L. Harvey,
Wolfville, Aug. 30th, 1894. 49

TO BUILDERS:

Just received—a consignment of
No. 1 Pine Doors, Sashes, Mouldings, Cutters, &c.

thoroughly seasoned. Persons requiring building material would do well to inspect this stock and obtain prices before placing their orders elsewhere.
Designs and estimates for everything in
House Finish supplied upon short notice.
Write for prices. Orders solicited.

C. R. H. STARR,
WOLFVILLE, N. S.,
Agents for the Kaibab Co.,
Des Moines, Ont.

May 19th 1893.