We left behind a laughing crowd—
We felt no need of company;
Durselves, our thoughts, the beach,
sea,
The clear blue heavens that o'er bowed,

Made us a perfect solitude,
Where all with peace and joy was filled
Where jarring fears and cares were stilled
And speech were interruption rude. So on we wandered, hand in hand, O'ergiad to be to each so near, To heart-content, so fond and dear, Alone upon that pleasant strand.

And when our footsteps we retraced The comrades we had left behind Exclaimed: "Well, what's upon mind,
