RETALIATORY ARREST OF A CRIT SPECIAL

Streets Thronged With a Mob of Excited People,

WINNIPEC, Aug. 17.—Just before the departure of the excursion train from Rat Portage at seven p.m. yesterday an exciting scene occurred on Main street. Redding, one of Mowat's specials, was arrested on the charge of falsely arresting McMaster, one of the Manitoba force. It appears that the day previous McMaster had been arrested for being drunk and disorderly and lodged in the Ontario gaol. Yesterday morning he was brought before Mr. Lyon, the Ontario magistrate, and fined four dollars and costs. The arrest was made in the vicinity of the Rideout house, and immediately became known. Every inch of the way was contested, and though there was much profanity wasted and a good deal of pulling and hauling no serious blows were struck. The popular expression of several Mowat sympathizers regarding it was, "Let him go, or we will liberate him to-night." Reading was successfully ledged in the Manitoba gasol, offering no resistance himself. Mr. Alexander, one of the Progress proprietors, was arrested during the rumpus by the Grit police for having interested himself too actively.

self too actively.

There was considerable excitement about the Government offices here to-day. Repeated telegrams were received from Attorney-General Sutherland, who is at Rat Portage, and other persons out there, asking for advice and instructions as to what course to adopt. Mr. Brown was the only Minister in the building, and did not wish to act on his

Winnipeg, August 9.—Attorney-General Sutherland arrived from Rat Portage ast night, and returned there this morning with extra specials. Mr. Sutherland is reported to have said:
"Our Government decided it was necessary to have a good force at Rat Portage, in onse anything like a riot occurred. Our force there on Thursday would have been insufficient if what looked at one time like a ri t had been serious."

ARRIVAL OF THE MANITORA FORCE. A despatch just received from Rat Portage says Attorney-General Sutherland returned this afternoon. There was great sensation when Provincial Constable Hiesland and sixteen additional Manitoba specials also made their appearance. There had been rumours affoat that the force was to be increased, but the Mowat orowd poon-pooned the idea, de-claring that Mr. Norquay had carried on the atruggle as far as he could go. The arrival of the extra specials, however, convinced the unruly crowd that the Manitoba authorities mean business, and intend to put down disorder with a firm hand.

ORDER KEPT WITH A FIRM HAND.

A row on Thursday night nearly reached the chiracter of a riot, and it was with the idea of preventing or checking a repetition of such troubles that the additions to the Manitoba force have been made. All feel that Manitoba has now shown that it will not permit the lawless element attached to the owat party to disturb the peaceful citizens of the town. It is pretty generally under-stood that Pattullo and his heutenant will have to cease their bluster and incendiary No further action of theirs tending incite the lawless element to violence will be permitted, and if they do not cease imme-niately Pattulos and the other Grits will be

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—Attorney-General Sutherland returned this evening from Rat Portage. He says that the appearance there of the Manitoba extra specials had the effect of making the Ontario officials more cautions in their conduct. Even Burden seemed alarmed, and sought an interview with the Attorney-General on the situation. The latter told him that the arrival of the specials meant a determination on the part of Manitoba to maintain her rights.

Mr. Sutherland met the Rat Portage coun-Mr. Sutheriand met the Rat Portage council on Saturday afternoon, and was informed that the people were prepared to pay their taxes under Manitoba incorporation.

Some sympathisers with Mr. Mowat here started the story that the burning of Hugh Sutherland's mill was the work of the Manitoba specials. There is not the slightest foundation for the report.

made the butt of a very practical joke. The story is this: Essex Centre, a village about 16 miles from Windsor, supports a very young and consequently very poor cricket club. A team representing this club went to Kingaville and were beaten, and the Centreites, wishing to regain their honour, challenged the Ridgeville team to a game in the latter part of the last week. They then sent an agent here to see if the services of Tom Dale; the celebrated bowler of the Pennaulars, could be had, and by offering to pay Dale's expenses and "pony up" he promised to be on hand. He gave his cricketing shoes to the agent to take to the Centre, and as there was agent to take to the Centre, and as there was a week to elapse before the match Dale studiously commenced growing a beard and getting himself tanned by the sun, so that if Tacher, Mono Mills.—Your agreement with the trustees says either party may terminate it be ran across a chance acquaintance while biaying the match he would not be known. The day of the match arrived, and as the Ridgetowners and Centreites were looking over the wicket a great big sun-burnt fellow, with a ragged coat and wide rimmed straw hat strode on to the ground and asked one of the Ridgetowners what "them there things" were for. He was told that there was to be a cricket match presently. This seemed to tickle the big fellow, and he said he'd be durned if he wouldn't see the fun. When play was about to be started it was suddenly found that one of the Centre's players was absent, and no one near to fill his place. Search was made for a man, and it was finally recovered that the apparent wood-chopper should fill the place of the missing one until the latter should return. The represented wood-cutter, who was mone other than Dale, complained that he slipped on the grass, and on hearing this one of the members said he had an old pair of cricket shoes which he believed would suit. They were tried on, and of course fitted like a top. Then the slaughter started. Dale, who by his guy manners and rural counterman and completely took in the unsophisticated Ridgetowners, was put on to bowl, and of course the stumps began to fly and the Centre's players the stumps began to fly and of course the stumps began to fly and of course the stumps began to fly and the Centre's player and the study of the s

FALL RIVER, Aug. 21. — Five thousand people witnessed the regatta here yesterday. The course was very rough, and a stiff wind was blowing. The amateur race, of a mile and a quarter, brought out few competitors, and a quarter, brought out few competitors, as the water was not in anything like rowing condition. What the Rev. Mr. Calder has to say : Petrolia, May, 15, 1883. NOTMAN PAD CO., Toronto.

Gentlemen,—It is now over five years since I used your Liver Pad. Previous to that time I had been a sufferer from Biliousness and had tried many professed remedies, all of which failed to effect a cure. Since I began to war the pad I have enjoyed good health. I know many persons who have given the pad a trial with the same gratifying results. I would say to all suffering from bilious complaints: Buy a pad: put it on and wear it, give it a fair trial, and you will enjoy the benefits.

Yours truly, J. G. CALDER.

ONTARIO

PULMONARY INSTITUTE, No. 125 Church Street. Opposite the Metropolitan Church. TORONTO, ONTARIO, M. Hilton Williams, M.D., M.C.P.S.O., . PROPRIETOR.

Permanently established for the cure of all the various diseases of the Head. Throat, and Chest—Catarrh. Throat Diseases. Bronchitis, Asthma. Constimption, Catarrhal Ophthalmia (sore eyes), and Catarrhal Deafness. Also Diseases of the Heat. Under the Personal Direction of Dr. Williams, the Proprietor. The only institute of the kind in the Doninion of Canada. All the diseases of the respiratory organs treated by the most improved, "Medicated Inhalations," combined when required with proper constitutional remedies for the nervous system, stomach, liver, and blood. etc.

The most careful observer has remarked again and again the feastful mortality by Consumption in autumn and spring. Whatever improvement there may have been during the summer by the influences of nature, unadded by proper medical treatment, we find upon the advent of fall a return, with aggravation, of the dread train of symptoms which lead to the chamber of death. The falling of the leaves is ominous to the victims of lung diseases. For the ohilly winds of autumn are the harbingers of death. The transition of summer to the severe changes of fail and winter argravate symptoms and give an impatus to the disease. Catarrh advances into Throat Disease. Inflammation of the Throat and Bronchitis, and the invasion of Bronchial or Tubercular Consumption, insidious though it is, becomes, nevertheless, a fearful reality. Nature in early autumn seems to hold a true, so to speak, with the invalid, and to hold out the last and most favourable opportunity for overcoming the malady and regaining former vigour and health.

It was an old dogma, as false and pernicious as comfortless, that all who were victims of Lung Disease must die—there was no hope; but happily that day has gone by, and he who clings to that theory is a long way behind the times. Medical science has kept pace with the spirit of the age. New discoveries, new improvements, new inventions have been made in medicine, new theories have taken the place of the fallacies of former days and experience ye

Madical. VISIT TO EUROPE

DR. M. SOUVIELLE, of Paris, ex-Aide Surgeon of the French army, and founder of the celebrated International Throat and Lung Institute, head office, London, England, and branch offices Montreal. Toronto, Winnipeg, and Detroit, during his late visit to London, Paris, and Berlin, secured the services of a number of eminent specialists to assist in his present great work, which extends all over Canada and the United States. Thousands of cases, even in advanced stages of Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Brouchitis, Asthma, and Consumption, are being cared yearly by these specialists through the use of Dr. M. Souvielle's new and wonderful invention, the Spirometer—an instrument which conveys medicinal properties directly to the seat of the disease.

James Menzies, 4th Teraulay street, Toronto, says:—I was taken very ill last March, and consulted our regular physician, who gave me up to die of consumption. I was very weak and greatly emaciated, expectorating large quantities of matter, pronounced to be my lungs. As a last resort I resolved to try Dr. M. Souvielle's Spirometer and treatment. I have improved, perceptibly every day since, and now I am as well as I ever was. I consider they sayed my life.

If unable to call personally, write enclosing stamp for list of cites from a constant and constant of the stage of the s
