Fine Pictures at Casino—They Depict the Chief Events in Reign of Late Queen Victoria.

The Casino was well filled yesterday afternoon and evening with audiences which thoroughly enjoyed the Queen pictures, giving the history of Queen Victoria's wonderful reign of sixty years, which are being presented by Mr. B. Leavitt, of New York, and London. The pictures were principally those events with which the Queen herself was intimately associated. The pictures are without doubt exceedingly instructive and their educative merit cannot be denied.

To depict the chief events in the reign of the late queen, a period of more than three-score years, is not a light task. Yet in these pictures, no incident or deliberation of importance is omitted in the epitome. It is a concise review of the most wonderful area of modern history. It is a very agreeable and charming change from the fictitious film, and no child should miss seeing it. Those colored by the military and royal settings make it indeed an unique picture, well worthy of the subject it handles.

The seven-part historical review contained among many others the following conspicuous incidents. The young Queen holding her first Privy Council, Coronation at Westminster Abbey, gorgeous State Ball, the wedding of Queen Victoria to Prince Albert, the christening of Queen Victoria's first baby, several attempts on Her Majesty's life, the first exhibition in Queen Victoria's reign, Florence Nightingale at the Crimea, the Queen receiving the wounded at Buckingham Palace, the terrible Indian Mutiny, death of the Prince Consort, the Queen opens cable with message to Lincoln, Hallowe'en at Balmoral, Charles Dickens meets Her Majesty, Prince of Wales critically ill, meeting of Victoria's cabinet, Indian Durbar in 1877, the great Victorian Jubilee, Victoria's last appearance in public.

That Fire at Clam Bank Cove

A HEAVY LOSS.

From passengers who arrived in the city by yesterday's express we have gleaned some information regarding the fire which destroyed the Abbott-Halliburton premises at Clam Bank Cove on Saturday last. The real origin of the fire is unknown, but the theory is voiced that it started from sparks which originated away from the premises. The manager, Mr. McIsaac, left the premises at noon on Saturday to go to Port au Port, when he set out everything was apparently all right. When about eight miles on the road he looked back and noticed smoke rising from Clam Bank Cove, but as they had been boiling lobsters in the factory near the premises who he left, he did not pay any attention to the matter. Shortly afterwards he was overtaken by a messenger from the Cove who informed him of the occurrence. The whole premises had been razed to the ground in less than three hours after the manager had left. Mr. McIsaac had often lighted his pipe before leaving the store, but on Saturday last he did not smoke until he had gone about a mile on the road. It is thought that sparks ignited some straw and shavings from packing cases and thus started the blaze, which spread rapidly, as everything around the premises was like tinder. Three kegs of powder which were stored in the building exploded, and the flames spread over the entire shop before anything could be done to control them. The estimated loss to the Abbott-Halliburton Company is in the vicinity of $13,000, though the exact loss will not be ascertained, as all the books and records were destroyed. They had supplied largely during the season, and such loss at this time of the year will seriously interrupt their trade, particularly as no insurance whatever is carried.

Dear Sir,—I have analyzed a sample of Sulphate of Ammonia made at your Works and I found 20.5 per cent of NITROGEN, Sulphates of Ammonia and Nitrate of Soda are the two principal Nitrogen manures.

Sulphate of Ammonia is less soluble than Nitrate of Soda, consequently it is a safer manure to use during a wet season.

PRESIDENT COX DEAD.—The President of the Canada Life Assurance Company, Mr. Edward W. Cox, died on Saturday at London, after an operation for a serious throat trouble. He succeeded his father in the Presidency in January last. His father was Senator Cox.

Mr. Cody and "American."

Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir,—This is the life. Imagine me sitting comfortably in the wheelhouse of the tugboat Peter St. French, Capt. D. J. McCarthy, my son-in-law, a Riverhead man too, enjoying the salubrious air sailing around Boston Harbor and lots of excitement, as I spent a good part of my boyhood days on the water. The sea always has beautiful charms for me; it is invigorating. It seems to make me egotistically inclined. I am writing with a Laughlin automatic non-leakable self-starting and filling pen. It was presented to me by Capt. Michael J. Clancy, another Riverhead man, and one of the smartest men sailing out of the Docks, a brother-in-law of Mr. O'Dwyer, teacher, Holyrood. I feel a kind of an inspiration when I take it in my hand. I suppose it is on account of the high regard I have for the donor.

I am a naturalized citizen of the United States, I cherish its Constitution, I am obedient to its laws, but I am naturally interested in the welfare of the land of my birth. I want to make it plain to a certain clique that Newfoundland with its Dependencies is very much on the map of North America.

I will not concede to any power that I am any more of an American to-day than I always was, unless it can be clearly shown to me that Englishmen, Irishmen and Scotchmen are not Europeans.

To another class of swelled heads I say, that I do not at all agree upon the phrase "American Citizen." It is an affectation.

And still farther it makes my feelings curl and twirl to hear those discontented foreigners of Europe chatter when they get naturalized. Those rubes imagine that Uncle Sam got nothing else to do only go across and spank the crowned head of Europe.

I also glean from the papers that it is the aim of some parties in this country to have the National Anthem entitled "America," as a big difference of opinion exists respecting the name. It would be better in my opinion to frown it down. I would recommend them to take a few lessons in geography from Professor Isaac Swain, B.A.

A word as to Mr. Roosevelt's "River of Doubt." He says the rapids were so swift that he could only average 1½ miles per day. It seems to me he has a curious notion on the rapidity of rivers. He ought to know that experienced explorers never survey rivers when they are high. Everybody knows that at certain seasons of the year it is impossible to get through some of those tributaries; at other times when rivers are low you can poke along without much jangling. In all his explorations he never said a word about his exploits at the Salt Lakes, where I understand that he angled for a time. Is it true that fishes caught in those Lakes are salt?

I must close as I am getting run out for an idea.

Yours very truly,
JOHN B. CODY.

A Film to Fill 'Em.
Vita-graph Production in Two Reels.
Last night Rossley was crowded, and the hearty applause given the splendid pictures now shown at the old reliable show shop are above high water mark. The feature being a beautiful production by the famous Vita-graph players in two reels, featuring all the leading artists, "The Hearts of the First Empire," is the most handsomely costumed play ever put before a camera, and every artist in the silent drama portrayed their parts in the most artistic manner. A western drama, "The Gambler's Last Trick," is intensely interesting. "He Haw, The Detective," shows little Price the most wonderful donkey in the world. "That Catchy Ragtime Dance," another comedy that has the audience in roars. Rossley has only the finest pictures and shown on the silver screen are away ahead of the cotton sheet.

Smallest Excursion on Record.
Yesterday the excursion train, to points as far as Kelligrews took out the smallest number of excursionists since the operation of the railway. The train consisted of an engine and one passenger car, containing twenty-one passengers, who in view of the weather conditions must have gone countrywards on other than ordinary pleasure bent.

The Eastern Trust Company!

The Eastern Trust Company has installed safety deposit boxes in its vault in the Pitts Building, Water Street. These boxes can be hired at a moderate rent by the year.

Persons making a will in which they appoint the Eastern Trust Company executor may deposit their wills in the vault of the Company without charge.

An impression has gone abroad that the Company charges a fee upon the making of a will which the Company is appointed executor. This is an error. The Company charges no fee until after the death of a testator and the Company has undertaken the execution of the trusts under the will. It then charges the same fee as is allowed to ordinary executors.
