

Rheumatism Cured

Mr. Byron Crandell writes: "In July last I was taken with rheumatism in its worst form. Local physicians treated me, but their remedies did not give me any relief. I was advised to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial, which I did. I took great pleasure in stating that two bottles gave marked relief. Continuing regularly with the medicine, I am now cured. While afflicted I was frequently obliged to use crutches. I cannot recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla too highly. BYRON CRANDELL, engineer at Water Works, Toronto Junction, Ont."

ATHLETICS.

GRIFFO VS. HARMON. NEW YORK, March 27.—A boxing entertainment was presented last night at the new Manhattan Athletic Club, and the gymnasium, which accommodates about 3,000 spectators, was packed. There were several bouts, but Griffo was the particular magnet that drew the crowd, not only from the fact that he is matched to fight Jack McAuliffe for the lightweight championship of the world and a stake of $20,000, but because he was billed to meet Joe Harmon, a local lightweight pugilist of some note, in a six round contest. Harmon was anxiously willing to fight, but he was not in it with the clever Griffo, who had the best of it all through and won easily.

LONDON DEFEATED INGERSOLL. Three rinks of Forest City Curling Club defeated Ingersoll at the Simcoe street rink yesterday by 17 shots.

HOCKEY.

LONDON VS. WOODSTOCK. The positively "last" hockey game of the season of 1904-05 was played at the Princess Rink last night between the Woodstock and London teams before an audience that numbered from 50 to 75. The game was well deserving of greater patronage. The interest in it, however, was probably no keener than that shown by the spectators over a little company clustered in one corner, comprised of three Chinese laundrymen, who had laid aside their wash-tubs and stoves for a little recreation, and many chatted and laughed over the many "slides" which the players took.

The first fifteen minutes of the game were really exciting. The forwards rushed the play for all they were worth, and it looked as though Woodstock was going to get the best of it. The puck was kept in very close proximity to London's goal, until Lind, aided by the balance of the forward line, got in some good work, scoring a goal in sixteen minutes. Three minutes later Beltz tallied. George Sippl in two minutes shot the rubber down, and Woodstock's goal keeper, in his anxiety and excitement to knock the puck away, struck it on the wrong side, and swelled London's score one more. Lind closed the half by scoring his second goal. Score: London, 4; Woodstock, 0.

The second half was slow. The players on both sides were completely winded, and the spectators were equally tired. The only good play was made by Lind, who took the puck from near London's goal and, pursued by the entire visiting team (barring the goal keeper) carried it down the ice and scored. Woodstock tallied twice and so did London, making the score at time 6 to 2 for the home team. The players were:

Position. Woodstock. London.
Goalkeeper. J. McWhinnie. Glover.
Point. Genn. Southern.
Cover point. Codling. Brown.
Macbeth. Moss.
Beltz. Brown.
Sippl. W. McWhinnie.
Lind. Wilkinson.

Mr. Caldwell, the crack cover point of the Galt club, refereed, and Bert Sereation held the watch.

Twice Defeated.

Yesterday Was Not Patrons' Day in the Legislature.

Two of Their Distinctive Measures Voted Down.

Important Bill Bearing on Relations of Landlord and Tenant.

(Special to the "Advertiser.")

PARLIAMENT HOUSE, TORONTO, March 27.—Today was a bad day for the Patrons, who, twice in rapid succession, found themselves in hopeless minorities. On the question of the election by popular vote of county officials instead of the present method of direct appointment they secured 20 votes, as against 65 adverse to them; and their Medical Bill received but 15 votes, as against 71 votes of members who disapproved of free trade in medicine, as Mr. Haycock defined the principle of his bill.

The first division was taken by the Patrons, mainly to place themselves on record, the question having been threshed out when the Conservatives, a week ago, moved to substitute appointment by the municipal councils for appointment by the Provincial Government. There was no debate.

Mr. McNichol moved a resolution that county officials should be elected by popular vote and did not speak at all. Mr. Haycock supported the resolution in a speech which was but a repetition of the arguments against the appointment of officials, which have been urged over and over again.

When Mr. Haycock sat down not a word was spoken. Liberals and Conservatives alike were silent. The division came on promptly, and in this inglorious fashion perished the motion.

Messrs. Gurd, Haggerty, Redd (Dunham) and McLean voted with the Patrons, while the rest of the House voted solidly against the motion.

A more serious matter was the Medical Bill, which Mr. Haycock introduced immediately afterwards brought in. The Patron leader exerted himself in defense of this rather famous bill, and the bill was intended to do. The measure was full trade in medicine, he frankly explained. The first point in the bill was an attack on the present council's examination. If the government could impose a uniform matriculation examination on the medical colleges, why not a uniform graduation examination? The Medical Council took some $10,000 or $12,000 a year from the medical profession, and spent but $2,000 a year on the examinations. For the rest the members get one-half thousandth part of unprofitable real estate venture in Toronto—referring to the Medical Council's new building. Other clauses in the bill would abolish the medical court, by which offenses against professional etiquette are tried. Mr. Haycock made a strong attack on this power of the Medical Council by which he same man can be at once plaintiff, witness and be the executioner. He asserted that this court had omitted to define what the professionalism was, so that the law is defined after the offense is committed.

Features of the bill were outlined by Mr. Haycock, who in a comparatively short speech made a full statement of his case.

Mr. Stratton spoke next, moving the six months' hoist to the bill and arguing against it.

His motion put Mr. Haycock in order again, and he imprudently allowed himself to be drawn out by Mr. Stratton's speech. He replied in a speech which was practically an avowal that he was certain to be objected to by the medical profession, and thus left himself no chance of replying to the subsequent and much sharper attacks made on the measure.

Sir Oliver Mowat made a vigorous onslaught upon the bill, which he declared not in the public interest. It was revolutionary, he said, and he went on to criticize its details. The charge that the fees paid by the students are too high, he met by the statement that so to benefit those who pay them. He defended the powers with which the medical profession is entrusted. The matters of which they had cognizance were conduct, and it was in the public interest that persons capable of such conduct should be kept out of the profession.

In any case, Sir Oliver said, only nine or ten of the 1,000 or 1,500 of these resulted in convictions. The whole case for the bill broke down, he contended, the present condition of the medical profession, calling for no such revolutionary proposal, and the powers of the medical council not having been misused. There was, therefore, nothing to justify the passing of the bill.

Mr. Whitney followed with a slashing attack on the Patrons, whose presence in the House he described as the result of class agitation. "Squads of adventures," who "presided over the suppers with great union," and "grew sleek and fat," composed, according to Mr. Whitney, the Patron campaigners in Eastern Ontario in the last election, who told the farmers that the proposed sin had special legislation; and Mr. Haycock's bill was intended to keep the misguided people from calling them false prophets or something worse. The bill should be thrown out of the House without ceremony, he said.

Thrown out it was, for the vote followed, and the bill received the six months' hoist by a vote of 15 to 71. Mr. McLean voted with the Patrons, while all the Liberals, except Mr. McLean, all the Conservatives, Mr. Gurd, Mr. Pardo (Patron) and Mr. Haggerty were also against the bill. This practically terminated the proceedings in the House, which adjourned at 6 o'clock to allow of the private bills committee meeting through with some of its accumulations in the evening.

An important bill was introduced by the Attorney-General today. It bears upon the relations of the landlord and tenant. It allows the removal of tenants' fixtures at the end of the term; amends the Short Form of Lease Act and several other particulars. It restricts the lien of the landlord for rent after an assignment has been made to arrears of rent of one year previous to and for three months following the assignment. It further enacts that the relation of landlord and tenant shall be deemed to be founded on the express or implied contract of the parties, and not upon tenure or service, and a reversion shall be necessary to such relation, which shall be deemed to subsist in all cases where there shall be an agreement to hold land from another in consideration of any rent.

In reply to a question asked by Mr. Whitney, Sir Oliver Mowat stated today that the cost of the fees commission so far has been $3,550.

Dr. Ryerson asked a long question school teachers, which drew from Mr. Ross the following explicit reply: "Every teacher in the separate schools of Ontario possesses the qualifications required by section 61, chap. 227, R. S. O. The Education Department has never passed any regulation to authorize the members of religious orders or corporations to teach in a separate school. The persons qualified by law under section 61 are considered to be 'persons' who, at the time of the British North America Act, were qualified in the Province of Quebec, and therefore by that act qualified in Ontario. There is no provision in the Separate Schools Act nor in the British North America Act whereby any teacher, lay or clerical, from the Province of Quebec, not qualified under the British North America Act, may teach, either in a separate school or a public school, and the Government is not prepared to make any proposition for the amendment of the school laws granting such privileges to the teachers of Quebec, to which the British North America Act would not apply."

In reply to another question of Mr. Whitney's Hon. Mr. Dryden replied that inasmuch as the Dominion Government has undertaken to provide food for the British market, the Government did not see the need of the Province duplicating such aid. In response to yet another question by Mr. Whitney, Ross replied that the Government at present has no intention of building a normal school in Woodstock.

Mr. Laurier's illness is due to a cold and a cold contracted in Quebec at the time of the demonstration in his honor.

A MATTER OF FORM.

CHATHAM, Ont., March 27.—The Conservatives of Kent county met in convention today to nominate a candidate for the Dominion Parliament. Messrs. Hon. J. C. Patterson, H. A. Patterson, W. P. Killackey, T. A. Smith, and Dr. R. R. Hall, were proposed. A ballot resulted in the choice of Hon. J. C. Patterson.

THE TOPIC OF TALK.

(United Press Dispatch.) OTTAWA, Ont., March 27.—The whole talk here today is the resignation of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. Every body is talking about it, and no one will deny it. The difficulty started with the school matter. Sir Charles prepared the order in council in that case, and is of the opinion that the minority of the school boards, which he was to enforce, was the means of forcing a session, and Sir Charles was opposed to that. He was strongly opposed to a session of Parliament in advance of an election.

In this connection there is a curious bit of gossip. It is that Sir Charles, in sporting parlance, wanted to "ride for a fall"—in other words, that he was quite content to a general election, and that he would not mind the possibility of the Government's defeat. The point would be that Sir Charles looked to the financial and other difficulties which Mr. Laurier would face if successful in the election—being so great that his Administration would be a speedy failure, and that at the following election the Conservatives would be elected triumphant for a long term of power, with all the old timber cleaned out of the party, and a clean run ahead, including the Premier's open to Sir Charles Tupper himself. The story, if true, is anything but a confirmation or denial of the rumor that Sir Charles had resigned.

Another rumor states that Sir Charles' resignation is due to a question of the leadership of the Government in the next session. The Premier, being in the Senate, one of the other Ministers must lead in the Commons, and unless Sir Charles resigns, the Government will be very significantly as undoubtedly it will designate the next Conservative Premier.

toba school case. He is opposed to separate schools and also to interference with Manitoba, and the action of the Government, he says, does not mean that the Government intend doing anything further in the matter.

NOTES. At Almonte on Wednesday night Mr. D'Alton McCarthy delivered an address on the Manitoba school question in the opera house, which was crowded. He spoke for two hours.

Richmond county, N. S., is almost certain to be redeemed. The Liberals have not only effected complete organization and made a thorough canvass, but the Conservatives are split into factions, some wanting Mr. Faint and some Mr. Gilles as the party candidate.

MET THEIR DESERTS.

Three Would-Be Train Robbers Received a Dandy Dose.

GREENWOOD, Ky., March 27.—A daring but unsuccessful attempt at a train robbery occurred at 2:30 a. m. in the southern part of Kentucky. Six men undertook to rob the Queen and Crescent train, which left Cincinnati at 8 o'clock last night. One of the robbers was killed outright, another died at 4 o'clock this morning, a third, giving the name of Miller, now lies here severely wounded and the other three have not been heard from.

The train was delayed only ten minutes, and reached Chattanooga at 8 a. m. today on time. The reason for this summary disposal of so large a body of train robbers was that some intimation of their purpose had been given to the railway and express companies, and T. R. Griffin, who serves as superintendent of police on the Southern road, had with him two trusty assistants. The train had just reached the south end of tunnel No. 9, a mile north of Greenwood, when the robbers halted it. They had scarcely disclosed their purpose before Mr. Griffin and his assistants began shooting, and in a few minutes three of the robbers had fallen. The three others fled, and the train was soon speeding on its way. No injury was suffered by any one on the train, and the treasure in care of the Adams Express Company's messenger was saved.

TRAGEDY IN NEW YORK.

An Actor and Actress the Victims.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Murder and suicide were committed some time today in the furnished room of house No. 15, west Twenty-fourth street. What led to the tragedy may never be known. The murderer was John Bigelow, an actor, and the scene of the tragedy was the room of Miss Amy Thill, his victim, who was an actress. It appears that he killed the young woman by firing three shots into her head, and then shot himself in the head. The bodies were not discovered until several hours after the shooting.

Miss Thill occupied a room in the house with her two sisters, Alice and Marie, who are at present with a theatrical company at Erie, Pa., and Bigelow was a frequent caller on them. It was said that Bigelow had been very gloomy since he lost his position last Christmas, and had been drinking heavily.
