Railways and Capital For Fort George

Businessmen, investors, homeseekers are en route. Everybody has awakened to a keen realization of the coming greatness of Fort George. The papers of British Columbia are full of Fort George. Its name is on everyone's tongue.

The rush of settlers, of homeseekers and businessmen threatens to overtax the transportation facilities. These are being improved and increased by the addition of more automobiles and the building of more steamboats as fast as possible. Hotel accommodation is being provided by large tents, and the chief demand in the new city is for building material.

Two banks are already established at Fort George—the Bank of British North America and the Northern Crown Bank. The representatives of two other banking institutions are on the ground, and before this advertisement appears the establishment of their branches will probably have been announced.

Railway work is being strenuously pushed. The contracts for the last 400 miles of the Grand Trunk Pacific will be awarded this summer.

MR. CHAMBERLIN

Vice-president and general manager of the G. T. P., recently in Vancouver, said:

Rushing Main Line.

"Our energies are being mainly concentrated in building our main line. Unless something unforeseen occurs we expect to see the road completed and in operation between Edmonton and Prince Rupert by the end of 1912, or say, two years hence. This task is no easy one, but it can be accomplished if the labor can be secured. The line is now built to a point 125 miles west of Edmonton, and going farther west, the section through Yellowhead Pass to Tete Jaune Cache, at the foot of the western slope of the Rockies is now under contract. This leaves a gap of 400 miles not under contract — the eastern and western ends being Tete Jaune Cache and Aldermere, in the Bulkeley valley, respectively.

"Contracts for this 400-mile gap will be awarded during this summer in order that supplies may be rushed in and distributed along the route before the winter sets in. Many lakes and interior waterways beyond Fort George can be utilized for this purpose and boats will probably be built. Thus, we expect to see work in progress all winter over the entire 400-mile gap, as well as on those other sections, east and west, already under contract."—Vancouver Province.

CAPITAL

put to work in this rich country that has railways and water transportation develops natural resources, creates wealth, attracts homeseekers and causes values to grow. The following item is only one of many, all to the same effect, all showing the exodus to Fort George. This is reproduced from the Vancouver News-Advertiser of May 5:

B. C. Land Productive

Winnipeg Visitor Says It Is Double That of Land Elsewhere.

Victoria, May 4.—Mr. Norman S. MacMillan, one of the most prominent businessmen of Winnipeg, president of the Dunsheath-MacMillan Grain Company, and senior member of the big real estate firm of MacMillan & Vollans, who left for Fort George on Monday night, said before leaving that in the course of a tour of the eastern provinces, which he had just concluded, he was struck with the amount of inquiry as to British Columbia property. Mr. MacMillan stated that Eastern Canadians were better informed as to conditions than many residents of the province themselves.

Mr. MacMillan has large business interests here and believes there is no question as to British Columbia's great future. "It is my opinion that in productiveness an acre of land in this province is worth two acres anywhere else in Canada," said he.

Mr. MacMillan is going to Fort George to look over large interests he has there, and he forecasts a great future for that town and district."

Can you conceive of the commercial centre and commercial capital of a province of nearly 400,000 square miles being anything short of a metropolis?

Fort George is at the geographical centre of British Columbia.

Fort George is at the centre of the greatest mining, farming and timber area in North America.

Fort George is at the centre of the great inland waterways of British Columbia. A thousand miles are now navigable, and a thousand miles more can easily be made navigable.

Fort George, by reason of its position in respect to the rivers, centres seven new lines of railway, building and projected.

Note.—No lots are for sale in the townsite of Fort George except by us or our accredited agents.
