The Irish Land Bill.

It is something like a year since Mr.

It has been said that all sublunary existence is in an endless series of circles. In buman existence this appears to be more clearly demonstrated. We find the individual; the family; the community; the colony; the nation; the family of nations, comprising all the dwellers upon the face of the earth. The individual, it will be observed, has a place in each of these circles, with duties and functions peculiar and proper to each. To wrap himself up in the first would be to derange and violate the laws of human wellbeing. Suppose all were to act upon the principle of that all parties have settled down in 'looking out for number one,' as it is graceful compliance with its conditions and present a striking contrast with the called, and disregard all the claims of condition predicted by the successors others, what would become of the doof the Apostles. one." It ought to have been as follows:'That he [DeCosmos] had no objection to the appointment of Dr. Carrall as a man or as a confederationist but he did not concur in altering the Executive Council by the addition of two popular members, thereby reducing the free representative element in the Council .-

He complined to the police and officers Kennedy and McMillan were instructed to work the case up. They soon ascertained that a trio of half breeds, named Joseph and Francis Duett and John Manson, had been expending a considerable sum of money in the purchase of coats and trousers, pomade,

The officers, therefore, awaited their return with patience, which was shortly rewarded by the return of the brace of Duetts and the Manson. As they came alongside they were seized and searched and in the pockets of one of the Duetts was found $12 in coin and from the boot of Manson was dug $10 ingold. The cabin of the interesting young gentlemen was next searched, and therein were found two pannikins and a few other articles which were identified by Ambrose as part of the property stolen. The prisoners were brought before the Magistrate vesterday, solemnly protested their innoceuce, and were remanded for three days.

On the morning of the 29th of December last, the schooner Langley, while hove too under close reefed mainsail and jib. in Chatham Straits, drifted ashore and in a short time was dashed to pieces, and everything on board became a total wreck. Mr Sullivan, who was captain and owner of the Langley and her cargo, having with him one Barney Goldman as assistant, remained for four days and nights without any food, but succeeded at last in kindling a fie with which they cooked some mussles they picked up on the beach, and the smoke of their fire attracted the attention of some Indians who came to their assistance, (if such we may call it), and took these men and the plunder of the schooner to Kootznahoo. The Indians treated Sullivan tolerably well, but made a slave of Goldman, robbing him of $80 in silver and clothing. A steam launch from the U S S Cyane was sent ashore and after a great deal of grumbling the Indiacs gave up both men and the plunder.
