

Golden Texts: —1889—

Something which the younger scholars, at least, will appreciate, is the roll of Golden Texts for 1889. There are sixteen pages (7x5 inches), and upon each page are three golden texts in large, clear type. The leaves are turned upon a brass bar, and the whole device is suspended by a colored cord. Printed in red and black upon light-blue paper. Single copy, ten cents; five or more, eight cents each; fifty or more, twelve cents each.

The Lesson Roll:

The Sunday-school Lesson Roll gives the full text of each lesson of the year and also the Golden Texts. It is attractively printed in two colors. When a week has passed by, the leaf for that week is turned upon the ingenious wire hanger, and takes its place back of the other leaves. Single copy, fifteen cents; five or more, twelve cents each; fifty or more, ten cents each.

Pocket Lessons

Both the Common and the Revised Version, given in full on opposite pages. A little book (3½x4 inches) printed on thin tough paper, neatly bound in cloth and stamped. Just the thing for those who wish to look over the lesson at odd minutes. Choice enough for a gift to teachers or scholars at Christmas. Single copy, twenty-five cents; five or more, twenty cents.

Christmas Service

A beautiful, simple, and scriptural Christmas Service, entitled "The Coming of the King," has been prepared by the Rev. Leonard W. Bacon, D.D., and is sure to be in great demand this season. The Service brings out vividly: I. The Birth of the Prince. II. The spread of the Kingdom. III. The Triumph of the King. Dr. Bacon is a recognized expert both in musical matters and in the arrangement of scriptural responsive readings. The hymns of the service will be set to the choicest music, and will be suitable for city or country schools. Price, five cents; $1.00 per 100.
