

9th May, 1927.

Sir Arthur Currie,

I tried to get you on Friday and Saturday but you were out of the City and as time is rather pressing I am sending this direct to you instead of again talking to you.

In a letter from Colonel MacInnes this morning he suggests our mutual friend H. B. McKenzie of the Royal Trust and Professor Marvin of the Royal Bank, whose name I have already mentioned to you, as two desirable men.

Kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,

John Nelson
