My dear Alistair:-

Enclosed herewith find copy of a letter received from a Mr. Crandall now living in Clarion, Iowa. I do not remember him, but I am willing to believe that all he says in his letter is quite true.

As to his ability as an officer of a Railway Company some investigation would have to be made, but I hope that the Canadian National may be able to bring back to this country one who is so desirous of bringing his family up British subjects.

Yours faithfully,
