The demonstration will last from 11 a.m. to 6.30 p.m.

The army is beginning to devote attention to the eastern districts, and tended service was held in Boston's Hall, East Toronto.

Brigadier Taylor, when asked last evening about a rumor to the effect that the army was looking for a site for a barracks on Queen-street, beavenues, said that plans were not in a settled state as yet, but that friends work be undertaken there, and if a proper location could be secured a barracks would probably be the outcome.
