WE'LL HAVE TO BE VEGETARIANS

Whatever arguments may be advanced in support of trusts in general, there can be no doubt that monopolies which result in raising the price of food to the masses are an unmixed evil.

It is now announced that the American beef trust, which has already forced up the price of this article of food in the United States, and incidentally in Great Britain, has turned its attention to pork, veal and lamb, and that three-fourths of the poultry and egg products of the Republic are to-day controlled by the same organization.

April generally sees, under natural conditions, a steady drop in the price of eggs, but since April 1 of this year the price of this staple has advanced until the average New York quotation is two and a half to three cents higher than in the corresponding period of 1901.

The beef trust houses are deliberately holding back heavy shipments of eggs to the New York markets, and thereby forcing up prices, is generally believed, but the specific proofs are now published for the first time.

Swift & Co. within one week have rushed one hundred thousand cases of eggs into cold storage in Jersey City, and are holding them back lest this supply should weaken the market and "break" the unnatural high prices now prevailing.

In one hundred thousand cases there are 43,200,000 eggs, or more than a dozen for every man, woman and child in New York.

A New York contemporary states that "It has learned on good authority that Armour & Co. have been storing eggs in the plants which supply New York territory in the same quiet and busy fashion, and that it is the purpose of these trust firms to force prices up another notch before these reserves supplies are to be freed in any considerable quantities."

It is alleged that the ultimate purpose of the trust firms is to get possession of the entire trade in the great cities. If this sort of thing keeps up the ranks of the vegetarians will be considerably swelled.

TRADE AND THE EMPIRE.

It is undeniable that the refusal of the United States to agree upon reciprocal trade relations with Canada has done more than anything else to shape the fiscal policy of this country. During the years that have elapsed since the Republic denied reciprocity to the Dominion, the latter has gradually grown more and more industrially independent of the former.

So independent of the United States is Canada now that it has been able to establish a tariff embracing a preference in favor of Great Britain, and consequently discrimination against the United States.

Is there not a lesson here for those in whose hands lies the working out of the future of the British Empire? If the colonial conference next June results in some headway being made towards an Imperial customs union, the Mother Country and the colonies will be drawn commercially closer and closer together.

If the conference fails, then Canada and the other younger nations are likely to develop ever increasing industrial independence, and to draw away from England commercially as Canada has drawn away from the United States.

THE ISSUE IN ONTARIO.

The main issue in Ontario is the holding of an honest election. The Conservatives are in the majority; they have elected the majority of the members from their province at Ottawa. But the Liberals are in office; they control the electoral machinery, and somehow they have managed to hold the fort when it came to counting the ballots. This is the problem for Conservatives to solve.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Opposition leader Whitney is satisfied with the date fixed for the elections. May 29 suits him as well as the other party, as far as the opposition are concerned, he said, they are prepared to go to the country at any time and are confident of success.

Major Fraser of Burford was on Saturday afternoon unanimously chosen as the Conservative candidate for South Brant.

Dr. J. O. Reaume will contest North Hastings in the Conservative interests. He was the choice of the convention held on Saturday afternoon.

Editor Mitchell, the Conservative candidate for North Huron, has satisfied conditions, a steady drop in the price of eggs, but since April 1 of this year the price of this staple has advanced until the average New York quotation is two and a half to three cents higher than in the corresponding period of 1901.

On May 8 J. P. Whitney, K.C.; J. Foy, K.C.; Henry Carcassell, K.C.; W. R. Smyth, Rydal Bank and Frank Cochran, Sudbury, will speak at a Conservative gathering at Sault Ste. Marie. F. D. Monk, M.P., is also expected to be present.

The Socialist-Labour party has nominated the following to contest the city ridings:
Walter Wellwood, West Toronto.
Charles Kemp, East Toronto.
Harry Tripp, North Toronto.
Herbert James, South Toronto.

It is said that W. H. Wardrobe will be the Liberal candidate for the legislative seat in the riding of H. H. Platt will likely run in the west, and the Hon. J. M. Gibson still has a notion for it.

D. B. Ross will give his answer next Wednesday night as to whether he will be the prohibitionist's candidate in North Oxford or not.

Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, was nominated on Saturday at the Ontario Liberal Convention. His opponent is Charles Calder.

At St. Catharines on Saturday the Lincoln County prohibitionists nominated George Wilson of Merriton as their candidate for the legislative seat. Having been elected, Wilson delegates present only 13 cast their votes.

The following prohibition convention has been arranged for: East Durham at Port Hope, April 28; East Simcoe at Orillia, May 1; North Bruce at Port Elgin, April 22.

Mr. Whitney will speak at London on the evening of May 1, in the interests of Capt. Robinson, the Liberal Conservative candidate for East Middlesex.

Hon. J. R. Stratton will address the electors of East Northumberland at Hastings on April 21.

The executive of the West York branch of the Ontario Alliance for the Total Suppression of the Liquor Traffic has sent letters to J. W. St. John and W. J. Hill, the candidates for the legislative seat, asking for an expression in writing of their attitude on the question of prohibition.

The Ontario Alliance for the Total Suppression of the Liquor Traffic has sent letters to J. W. St. John and W. J. Hill, the candidates for the legislative seat, asking for an expression in writing of their attitude on the question of prohibition.

At the Liberal convention held at Cobourg Saturday, Samuel Clark was elected secretary of the Ontario Alliance, headed by "Prohibition Work." It is dated April 17, 1902.

"Our organizer has been hard at work since his engagement. His efforts, as well as all efforts undertaken, have been much hampered by the intensity of party feeling, which grows stronger as election day comes nearer. He has visited 47 constituencies, and attended a large number of conventions.

"Our committee has secured the help of Mr. J. H. Carson, secretary of the Quebec branch of the Dominion Alliance, for organization of eight constituencies in the eastern part of the province.

"The line of action steadily advocated is such as local workers find feasible. It is to carry out the policy of electing members of the legislature, who will support prohibition in every part of the Dominion. Our general policy has been to concentrate effort upon constituencies in which existing parties have small majorities, where other considerations encourage us to hope that the temperance vote will be an important factor."

The circuit gives reports respecting 32 counties. Some of them are as follows:
Bruce.—A convention will be held for the north riding at Port Elgin on the 22nd inst. A provisional committee, headed by Mr. J. H. Carson, is being organized in the Centre riding, is being urged to action. Workers in the South riding are convinced that the temperance cause will be better for our cause to hold no convention till after the election.

Cardwell.—The friends in this constituency take the same position as those in South Bruce.
Carleton.—A convention called for the 10th inst. has been postponed, and date not yet fixed for another attempt.

Dufferin.—The late member, Dr. Barr, voted for Mr. Martineau's amendment. Another candidate is an avowed prohibitionist.

Grey.—The north riding is organized and plans are being laid for a convention in the south. Our friends in the centre do not think it is possible to make any change in the present representation.

Hastings.—Effort is being urged to secure a party or independent candidate for the north riding. The report says: "Middlesex.—Only one organization reported in the east riding. Correspondence with other parties has not yet resulted satisfactorily, nor are we certain of having candidates that can be unhesitatingly recommended to prohibition."

Peel.—The opposition candidate (Mr. Charters) has stated to our friends that he will support prohibition regardless of party considerations. Secretary Spence gives the campaign in West York as one conducted under the Ontario Alliance. York.—Our organizer has visited all three ridings. A campaign is being carried on in the west riding, and candidates will be required to declare their position before nomination. There are also organizations in the east and north ridings. (Hon. E. J. Davis' constituency) but no electoral action have been successful.

The Toronto Orchestra has resumed its practices. On Saturday night Mr. Fortington released with the orchestra "Columbia-Taylor's 'Hiawatha's Wedding Feast' music, and the overture to 'The Song of the Sea'." The music, which is characteristic in the extreme, was received with much enthusiasm. Members of the festival chorus may now obtain their copies at Nordheimer's.

CANADIANS GUESTS OF HONOR

Coronation Carefully Stage-Managed as Costliest and Most Ingenious Theatrical Spectacle.

ALL THE EFFECTS OF COLOR STUDIED

Crimson in Peereless Robes and Violet and Gold in Princesses' Gowns.

London, April 19.—Public interest in the coronation is now stimulated by the well-founded hope that peace will be arranged early in June. While the coronation and national feasts are not dependent upon the conclusion of the war, the public rejoicing will be unclouded if peace reigns within the empire. The coronation itself is already planned in detail, and as carefully stage-managed as the costliest and most ingenious theatrical spectacle. All the effects of color are carefully studied. The gorgeous blaze of crimson in the peereless robes will be enriched by touches of violet in the gowns worn by the princesses of the royal house and the rows of gold lace in their mantles. These costumes will include 3 yards in length, and picturesque hoods lined with murret. The maids of honor will also have a distinctive costume of cloth of silver, in harmony with the royal purple.

The order of the coronation has been settled, but not formally approved. The coronation procession will follow the lines of the coronation of William IV., and the larger one on the following day, will closely correspond to the Jubilee circuit. London is already in the hands of carpenters, who are erecting platforms, balconies and staging of all kinds in the principal thoroughfares. There will be great gaps in Whitehall and the Strand, where new public buildings are in progress, but the coronation rentals are not materially higher than those of ordinary years.

Americans will be expected to look after their own interests, but entertain colonial visitors. Some of the largest houses will be especially opened for the purpose, and a series of banquets and receptions will be held, and the re-proposal of the lack of hospitality at the Jubilee period will be removed. Canadians and Australians will be treated as special guests of honor.

Hotel accommodations for June have been largely drawn upon in advance, but not exhausted. The prices of rooms are not extortionate, although the choice is now limited, the best suites having been secured. American visitors need not miss the opportunity of seeing the unique series of pageants which are being prepared. The influx of visitors from the provinces will be diminished by the local preparations everywhere in progress for celebrating the coronation by processions, services, pageants and revelry.

MAY DEMAND 20C AN HOUR
Six Hundred Motormen and Conductors Hold Midnight Session in Richmond Hall.

Forty Car Builders Go Out
Their Demand of More Pay Not Met—Striking Jewellers Make a Proposition.

Upwards of 600 motormen and conductors of the Toronto Street Railway Company met in Richmond Hall at midnight on Saturday and discussed the proposal to make a demand for more wages. Those who addressed the meeting pointed out that, with the increased cost of living, it was necessary to secure more remuneration. While no definite action was agreed upon, it was thought that the men will make a demand for 20 cents an hour. At present, the maximum wage rate is 18 cents. Another meeting will be held at an early date.

Car Builders Out.
The latest decision to the ranks of the strikers are the carpenters, woodworkers and machinists and car builders employed by the Toronto Railway Company, who went out to the number of 40, on Saturday. A deputation of the strikers waited on Foreman Powers, after a meeting had been held at Charles E. Brown's Black Horse Hotel, at the corner of Front and George-streets, and asked for a reply to their demand for an increase of 2 1/2 cents an hour. They now receive: Carpenters, 18c to 20c an hour; wood-working machinists, 20c, and car builders' laborers, 15c.

May Have a Conference.
The situation between the striking jewellers and the employers was unchanged on Saturday. The men are all still out and refuse to go back unless the two discharged employees are reinstated. A proposition has been offered, which Mr. Copp of the T. W. Corp. Co., one of the affected firms, has promised to consider. The strikers and employers may hold a conference at a near date.

Refused 21c Increase.
