SCIATICA.

Strong Testimony of Emigrant Commissioner, the Hon. George Starr, as to the Power of Radway's Ready Relief in a Case of Sciatic Rheumatism.

Van Ness Place, New York. Dr. Radway-With me your Relief has worked wonders. For the last three years I have had frequent and severe attacks, sometimes extending from lumbar regions to my ankles, and at times to both lower limbs.

During the time I have been afflicted I have tried almost all the remedies recommended by wise men and fools, hoping to find relief, but all proved to be failures. I have tried various kinds of baths, manipulation, outward application of liniments too numerous to mention, and prescriptions of the most eminent physicians, all of which failed to give me rekef. Last September, at the urgent request of a friend (who had been afflicted as myself), I was induced to try your remedy. I was then suffering your remedy. fearfully with one of my old turns. To my surprise and delight the first application gave me ease after bathing and rubbing the parts affected, leaving the limbs in a warm glow, created by the Relief. In a short time the pain passed entirely away. Although I have slight periodical attacks, approaching a change of weather, I know now how to cure myself, and feel quite master of the situation. Radway's Ready Relief is my friend. I never travel without a bottle in my PNEUMONIA AND CROUP.

"I take my pen in hand to inform you of the great cure effected by your medicines. Some time ago my husband was taken down with lung fever. It came on him with a chill in the night. It happened I had a supply of medicine in the house at the time. I rubbed his chest and back with the Radway's Ready Relief. I gave him a teaspoonful in a little hot water to drink, to help warm and stimulate him, and in about half an hour three of the Radway's Pills. By the time the doctor came the next morning he was much better. The doctor wanted to know what I had been doing. I told him. He said that was good, that they were good medicines. Another case I had was with my little nephew who was staying with me. He was taken with the croup. I rubbed his chest, throat and back with the Ready Relief, gave him doses about an hour apart, followed it by a dose By the next day he was of Pilis. about all right. I have been using this medicine, with my family and my neighbors, for about 30 years, and never knew it to fail, when the directions were carefully followed. I would feel greatly obliged to you to please froward me "False and True," one of your publications, for which I inclose stamp, for I absolutely need it, at once, if you please. You are at liberty to make use of this testimony, as you may think proper. Yours respectfully, "MRS. ELIZA DUNN,

FIRST PAINLESS NIGHT IN 3 MONTHS.

"I received the Ready Relief on Friday, the 11th inst., by night express; used the same at 9 o'clock and had a painless night, for the first time in three months. Used the Ready Relief again on Saturday and Sunday morning and night, with the same result. I had a broken arm and shoulder out of joint, or dislocated; was set all right by Dr. Bloom in Schenevus, but remained painful till I used your remedy. Thanks for your prompt attention." RADWAY'S READY RELIEF. For Internal and External Use.

In using medicines to stop pain we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and, instead of removing trouble, reaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis. There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RADWAY'S READY RE-LIEF will stop the most excrudating pain quicker, without entailing the least danger in either infant or adult. It instantly stops the most excrudating pains, allays, inflammation and cures congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels or other glands or mucous membranes. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

NEBRASKA'S POISON CASE!

Which Rivals That of New York in Mystery.

Pretty Viola Horlocker Charged With Attempting to Kill Her Employer's Wife-Said to Have Tried to Kill Seven Women With Poisoned Candy. Chicago, May 23 .- A dispatch from Hastings, Neb., to the Times-Herald says: Miss Viola Horlocker, who is accused of having tried to poison Mrs. Anna Morey, is still ill, or is feigning illness. The prisoner is certainly afflicted with some ailment, for she is the mere shadow of her former self. She is bound to the district court in the sum of $5,000, and she will have to face a trial for the attempted killing of seven women.

Is this beautiful girl really guilty of the atrocious crime with which she is charged? No one knows but Miss Horlocker herself. Mrs. Morey is the wife of a prominent lawyer in Hastings, junior partner of the firm of Tipbetts Bros. & Morey. Miss Hor-locker belongs to one of the best and, at one time, one of the wealthlest families in the state. She was a stenog-rapher in the law offices of the man whose wife she is accused of trying to kill. She was the only support of her mother, whose unfortunate temper caused Viola's four sisters to leave me and seek their living in various of the big cities of the country.

THE PRESENT. Mrs. Morey is a teacher of art, and has been very successful in her profession. In her classes are some of the most prominent women in the city. Among these Miss Kirby, a popular belle, is a dear personal friend of the artist. It is with these three women-Mrs. Morey, Miss Kirby and Miss Horlocker—that the poison mystery has to do. Monday, April 10, Mrs. Morey was away for a time from her apartments in the Lincoln flats. When she returnof the card was the inscription, "Homemade sweets." Mrs. Morey took up the box, but owing to the fact that she was in a hurry, did not pay par-ticular attention to the gift. The box lay on her table until some of her pupils came—five prominent ladies of Hastings. She offered the candy to her friends, and all of them are more

HORRIBLE SUSPICION Presently Miss Kirby arrived, but when Mrs. Morey worked her for the

candy the young lady denied all knowledge of the gift and expressed the fear that the bonbons might be poisoned. of course, the bare suggestion was enough to frighten everybody. But meanwhile Mrs. Morey and Mrs. Gaslin, one of the pupils, had fallen ill, and had been attacked with severe nausea. A physician was sent for, and nausea. A physician was sent for, and he soon saw that he had

A GENUINE CASE OF POISONING to deal with. The candy was carefully examined. On the top layer there were candied nuts and on the bottom layer sugared cherries. When the art pupils had been cared for and the teacher relieved the candy was submitted to a chemist, who found four grains of arsenic in the first bonbon

LOOKING FOR THE POISONER. The physician, Dr. Cooke, who used to be a friend of Miss Horlocker, looked about him for the author of the In this little town everybody crime. knows the business of everybody else, and Dr. Cooke was not unaware of the fact that Miss Horlocker was the trusted and confidential employe of Mr. Morey. He knew, too, as all the town knew, that Miss Horlocker's grief and her trouble at home had excited the sympathy of the lawyer. He knew that Morey had made Miss Horlocker his wife's friend, and that the three often went driving together. Never had word been said of aught but the most rigorously social association between the lawyer and the stenographer. Yet there was felt among the friends of both parties something which made it out that Viola was in love with her kind and generous em-

HOW COULD YOU DO IT?

Dr. Cooke shared in the general sentiment, and had it not been for this fact perhaps this girl would not be now charged with all but murder. when the news of the poisoning was spread abroad it was at first generally discredited. Then unbelief gave way to indignation, and indignation to fury. But who had done the horrible work? This question was not answered until the Wednesday following the crime. Miss Horlocker on that day met Dr. Cooke in a drug store, inquired after the condition of Mrs. Morey. The medical man stared the girl in the face, and exclaimed dramatically: "Ollie, how could you do it?" ARRESTED.

Miss Horlocker almost swooned. When she recovered she hurried away, and on that evening she and her mo-ther took the train for Sheldon, Iowa, where they remained until Viola was placed under arrest. The prosecution claims it has a clear case. The attorneys say Viola was seen in the vicinity of the the Lincoln flats on the the candy was left for Mrs. Morey. They have other evidence, or say they have, which they believe to be conclusive.

A MOTIVE It is understood that it will be argued that the girl was infatuated with her employer, and that in order to remove the only obstacle from her path feet without any pain to his affections she sought to poison done it will do again.

his wife. Miss Horlocker's friends scout this idea. They repel with in-dignation the allegation that the young woman is guilty, or contend that if she be guilty she was insane when she tried to kill her friend's wife, THE DEFENSE.

It is generally understood that the defense will plead insanity if unim-peachable evidence be brought forward showing that Miss Horlocker is really guilty. This interesting young woman s about 30 years old. She has always been a favorite in Hastings society. She was, until her arrest, the leader of St. Cecelia's Church choir, and arranged all the music. Only a few days before the poisoning Miss Horlocker had been tendered the presidency of the Musical Culture Club, embracing the best musical talent in the city, but declined the honor. She is an engaging conversationalist and had many admirers among her many acquaintances. Her home life was by no means pleasant, and everybody knew that she suffered much from the irritable disposition of her mother. It is believed that it will be hard to convict her by a jury of this community.

GOOD CITIZENS

Sir Wm. Van Horne Thinks Well of the Galicians.

The Mormons Have Been Misrepresented -They. Too, Are an Industrious and Intelligent Class.

Montreal, May 23.-Sir William Van Horne, president of the C. P. R., has the holiday trip to California and British Columbia. Speaking of the influx of immigrants into the Canadian Northwest, Sir William said that the Galicians would make excellent citizens. In one respect, at least, they were even more desirable than the Doukhobors, for whereas, the latter came into Carada in order to maintain their distinctive characters and observe their peculiar forms of worship, the Galicians have an ambition to be come Canadians in every sense, and to assimilate themselves into the general mass of Canadian citizenship. Then the Mormons, who already formed a populous and progressive colony at Alberta, were about to emigrate thither in still greater numbers during the present year. There was a certain popular prejudice against the Mormons, Sir William said, in the east, because of their supposed polygamous habits. It was a mistake, however, to suppose that polygamy was practiced among the Mormons at the present day, and it was also a mistake to suppose that the Mormons were not an intelligent and industrious people. Sir William said that he had been told there would be a very considerable emigration from Utah to the Canadian Northwest during the present year. The available water for irrigation pur-poses in the Salt Lake Valley was about all required by the present population, and an exodus to some other place had become unavoidable. Mormons who had already settled in Alberta had sent such good reports of the fertility of the soil in that district, and also of the freedom which they enjoyed under Canadian laws, that the emigrants would mostly move to the Canadian country. This emigration was also favored by the heads of the Mormon Church in Utah.

THE GALICIANS' HONESTY. Reverting to the question of the Galicians as colonists, Sir William cited as an example of their desirability as citizens the fact that they had paid the C. P. R. in full for their transportation to their homes in the west. When the Galicians were taken out there the railway company had got pay for their transportation as far as Winnipeg, and had carried them the rest of the journey west on credit.

"We had little hopes of ever getting what they owed us," said Sir William,

TORNADO IN TEXAS

Two Persons Killed and Eighteen Hurt-Some Churches Wrecked.

Houston, Tex., May 23.-One of the worst tornadoes that has visited Texas since the storm which destroyed the town of Cisco, three years ago, and in which some 50 persons were killed, passed over Titus and Erath counties on Sunday. Several homes and church buildings were wrecked in various places.

At Mount Pleasant, Titus county, the storm struck a church just as services were closing. A bolt of lightning and the wind descended upon the building simultaneously, wrecking it and scat-tering the debris in all directions. Wm. Kauffman was instantly killed, and some fifteen other persons are injured, some fatally. Three are in a dying

ADVICE TO LOVERS

Rev. Dr. Banks Says They Should Marry and Live Economically on Small Incomes.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 23 .- Dr. L. Banks conducted the usual question box at the First Methodist Church on Sunday evening. Among several questions answered was: "On how small an income would it be wise to marry?" In reply Dr. Banks said:

"I like the way the young fellow puts the question. He does not ask how large an income is necessary in order to marry. The question is a hard one to answer. That word 'small' is a relative word, and may be made to mean anything. Speaking generally one might answer, as Abraham Lincoln did another problem. The question was how long a man's legs ought to be, and when it was referred to Lincoln, he said that he always thought they should be long enough to reach from the body to the ground.

"I think it should be that way in the size of the income; there ought to be enough of it to cover a man's expenses. I am satisfied it would be a great deal happier world if tens of thousands of young men and women in our cities, who love each other, were to get mar-ried on their small income and then economically live inside of it. Some-body was telling me just the other day of a nice young fellow, who had 'the blues' here in Cleveland for five years because he did not make money enough to give the girl as luxurious a home as she was then living in. Findon't you think people whose sense of honesty is so keen that they will pay a railroad corporation a debt that they could easily have got out of a good class of colonist to get hold of?"

PIANO TUNER IN TROUBLE. St. Thomas, Ont., May 23.-Wm. Faulds, a piano tuner, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief Fewings on two charges under the Charlton act. Faulds is a married man, and has lived in the city for a number of Faulds was a prominent member of the Latter Day Saints' Church. The accused will appear before Magistrate Davidson.

THINGS.

London People Look for Proper Proof.

To win a wager, an English marquis stood on London bridge and offered British sovereigns ($5) for five shillings ($1 25). He could not find a customer. It's not to be wondered at, the public lcok askance at any proposition where the proposer is apparently a financial loser without any direct or indirect gain. Fraudulent schemers have often been successful, and in these days skeptics want better proof than the word of a stranger. No evidence can be stronger than the testimony of friends and neighbors of people we know. Here is a case of it:

Mrs. G. Grisman, 505 Adelaide street, praises Doan's Kidney Pills. Says she: "My daughter, now 13 years old, has had weak kidneys since infancy, and her heath as a consequence has always been poor. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills have removed every symptom of kidney trouble, and restored her to perfect health. I am truly thankful for the great benefit they have conferred upon her." Doan's Kidney Pilis are the only never-failing remedy for backache; weak or lame back, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, gravel, sediment inthe urine or scalding, weakness of the kidneys in children and old people, female complaints, Price, 50 cents a box, or three for $1 25, at all druggists'. Ask for Doan's, and refuse all others.
