HINDENBURG LINE ENTERED MILE DEEP ON 3-MILE FRONT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Gen. March, U. S. chief of staff, in an interview this evening, said the Hindenberg line has been penetrated a mile deep on a three-mile front. The general also said the number of prisoners taken by the Allies since July 1 has passed the 112,000 mark. In the same time the Allies have taken from the Germans 1,300 cannon of the field-gun calibre and PARIS, Aug. 28.—The retreat of the Germans, which has been organized by General von Boehn during the past fortnight, will probably be made in two stages, it is said here. The first halt is expected to be behind the Somme and Crozat Canal, and the second will bring the enemy to the line of March 21, from which he launched his great offensive.

In a word, they are already discounted, while the new push has a present and a future meaning has a present and a future meaning Allenby took Monachy-le-Preux in April, 1917, but he could not shake the Germans out of their hold on the park at the east side of the town, and s a consequence it had far less value of him than it would otherwise have ad as an observation point. His ffensive after the early April days had as an observation point. His offensive after the early April days—pushed only to help Nivelle's larger operation on the Aisne—was stopped exactly where the British are now mak-Valuable High Ground.

From Lens right down to the Sensee at or beyond the line of 1917, and where they are beyond it they are on high ground of great value.

Now it is quite plain that any further advance will bring Byng's army squarely up to the last circumstance of that Wotan line, so much talked of in 1917, the Drocourt-Queant switch, running down from the never-broken section of the German line behind Lens to the main Hindenburg line east of Croisilles. This is the ultimate harrier to British is is the ultimate barrier to British vance to Douai and Cambrai, and uai and Cambrai are the keys of all he region now occupied by the Germans in Northern France.

If the British can reach either, then he Germans must make a tremendous etirement, both north and south. They litement, both north and south. They ll, indeed, have to go back to the digian frontier, and the deliverance of ance will be substantially accom-But north of Croisilles the old and But north of Croisilles the old and new British fronts are not three miles apart. Therefore Byng can begin his assault upon the Wotan line almost from "scratch," as they say on the athletic field. And he has all the advantage of position, as well as of proximity. Without delay Byng can, if he chooses, push his attack right up against the last German lines covering Cambrai and Douai, with all their vital network of roads and railways. If these lines go, then all of the Hindenburg line to the south become worthless; it will be turned and the Germans will have to retire on a front all the way from Verdun to Lille.

The magistrate also believes that no car should be permitted to stand in the market lane for a period longer than necessary to load or discharge goods. An exception could be made, he believes, in the case of one merchant who requires to have his deliveries at his door for the great part of the day. On market days, however, it is practically impossible for a car to pass when two cars are parked opposite to one another along the lane.

day or so on the one theme: "Creek all dried up. No water at all. Not throw any tones." Then he appeared to forget it for some weeks.

The other day the maid in the kitchen sand buttling and the some weeks. sang lustily as she went about her work: "Shall we gather at the river." Little Walter, playing with his blocks in the next room, caught the words. He called out reprovingly: "No, no, Carrie. Don't sing ribber. No ribber. Water all dried up."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

The local market this morning was fairly large compared with that of other days and a considerable amount of produce was offered. Hay and oats were not offered in large quantities and oats remained firm, while the average price for hay was about $16. Eggs brought 45 cents a dozen, retail, and 40 and 42 cents, wholesale. A shipment of hogs was received Wednesday and brought from $18.50 to $19 per cwt. Green corn brought from 12½ to 15 cents per dozen, and some very good corn was offered.
All the rest of the vegetables remained firm in price. The rain of yesterday affected greatly the picking of fruits, which resulted in these products being very scarce this morning. What fruit was offered remained firm in price. gested two changes in the local traffic bylaws as a result of the reference to himself by a special committee of the city council of the matter of redrafting and improving the regulations controlling all vehicles.

First and most radical, Mr. Graydon believes it an absurd thing that motor cars should be permitted to park on the principal thoroughfares for periods of three hours. Three hours mean that any businessman can leave his car at the curb practically for the whole day and by this license, according to the magistrate, is the door opened to a veritable blocking of traffic on all the principal blocks of the city.

WALL STREET. WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 29—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Shippings and olls led the steady but dull opening of today's stock market, Atlantic-Gulf soon gaining 1½ points, and Texas Company half a point. United States Steel rose a small fraction with independent steels, but coppers were slightly irregular with rails, motors and specialties. There was a further inquiry for foreign issues on the good war news, but Liberty bonds were moderately reactionary.

Noon.—Stocks recorded little variation in the first hour, but reacted generally later. The decline was concurrent with reports from Washington which conveyed the inference that the next Liberty Loan offering has been fixed at $\xi_000,000,000,$ a figure in excess of Wall Street's estimates. United States Steel yielded a point with other leaders, and increased heaviness was shown by specialties, notably General Motors, which dropped another 5½ points.

1:30 p.m.—General Motors continued to slump during the noon hour, extending its loss to 10½ points, or 30 points.

2:50 for third. loss to 10½ points, or 30 points $2.50 for third. tion from their setback of the morning.
