AT THE GRAND.

Enthusiastic appreciation on the part of large audiences twice Thursday greeted Harvey's Greater Minstrels, a troupe of fifty people, every one a star, who presented easily one of the best combination minstrel, vaudeville and musical comedy programs offered in London in years. The performance includes a little of everything, and every part of it was of the highest quality in entertainment. in entertainment.

der manufacturers again a shortage of As minstrels the company has probably few equals in America, and as vaudeville entertainers they surpass the excellence of their minstrel perpower until October of next year, when probably few equals in America, and as vaudeville entertainers they surpass the excellence of their minstrel performances. There is not a member of the company that is not deserving of special mention, and there is not a weak point in the whole presentation.

Musically, Emmett Moss, who sings "The Big Bass Viol," and Lawrence Baker, who makes a big hit with "Mammie o' Mine," are stars of the first order, and Irvy Richardson was well received, when he sang "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." Charlie Beechum, with "The Alcoholic Blues," also evolved tumultuous applause. Almost equally clever and admirably presented song numbers are contributed by Noah Robinson, Will Merritt, Josie Gardner, Slim Jim Austin and Jakie Smith, while the Harvey quartet, including Will Merritt, Whitney Viney, Emmet Moss and Charlie Beechum present several numbers of high calibre. Leland Goldman is the star both of a touching patriotic song hit, and of a brilliant saxophone number in the vaudeville section.

Frank Kirk, with oddly contrived musical instruments, fairly convulsed the audience with good humor, his improvised bagpipes and Scottish number the Chippewa Creek hydro development is completed, O. E. Fleming returned from a conference with Sir Adam Beck at Toronto, in which the London power knight informed him that all information demanded by manufacturers who had appealed to the Government for a complete investigation of the hydro situation had been furnished the Hearst Govern-ment in 1915 and 1916 by the hydro commission, which had asked for authorization to go ahead with needed extensions.

The fault for the present acute shortage was obviously not with the hydro commission, but with the short-sightedness of the Government, Mr. Fleming intimated. ST. JOHN, Que., May 13.-Arrived-Steamer Tungus, Cuba; Steamer Drummond, Cuba.

Willie and Mabel Edwards, Cuban athletes, offer a high class vaudeville number with difficult wire-walking stunts, and are acrobats and contortionists of a superior grade.

Alonzo Moore, as a magician, is a worthy disciple of Herman the Great. Charles Beechum and Helen Johnson have a snappy line of comedy, and Whitney Viney and Noah Robinson also provide an entertaining act.

"THE IDOL DANCER."

Have you ever felt the urge to seek the great adventures of life, to thrill with wonderful romance, to see strange countries and stranger people? Then come to the Allen—come and see D. W. Griffith's great production of the South Sea Islands, which is showing at the Allen again today and tomorrow.

The faraway tropics, the glistening isles of the South seas, the land of exotic beauty, where dwell a people apart from the rest of the world. Here is the port of missing men, where hide the rebellious, the outcast, the derellicts. Here lenient nature harbors her slackers, feeds and clothes them, and fans their passions to a fever heat, and thrills their hearts with the throb of the romance as they tread the soft path of the moonflowers to the land of dreams fulfilled.

WAR HERO.

At the Allen yesterday afternoon after the overture a young lady was seen over in the corner in one of the restroom chairs with a handkerchief to her eyes, and on being asked if there was anything wrong she replied that—sniff, sniff—"I'll be all right in a minute," and with a little dab at her eyes she explained: "You see, I was a nurse over in France during the war, and my husband, whom I had married a year before, was fighting in the trenches. One day they brought him into our hospital horribly maimed and close to death. A few days afterward he died of his wounds, and while I sat at his bed during his last moments two convalescent men Hurt? No. not one bit!
