NORTH OF ENGLAND NATIVES AT REUNION
500 Attend Affair Arranged by "Y" Industrial Secretary.

About 500 natives of the North of England gathered in the "Y" auditorium on New Year's night to spend a typical North of England social evening. Only through the untiring efforts of a good working committee could the plans made be carried out with success. Lantern slides of the scenic parts of the country in the north were shown, and these helped greatly to bring all back to the times when they were young. The evening opened with a sing-song which was led by T. H. Full. Following this was the address of welcome, by Geo. Yull, chairman of the committee. He thanked the people for coming out, and warranted the next reunion evening would equal this one. A concertina solo by W. J. Way, a dance by Miss Ivy Baldwin, solos by Miss E. Selmond and Miss L. Talbot and Jack Morely followed. The next ten minutes were spent in another sing-song. The popular English songs, "Give Me a Cozy Corner," "All the Nice Girls," "Just a Song at Twilight" and "Some Sunday Morning" were sung. P. Howard gave a splendid mouth organ solo. A five-minute address. After this, two popular choruses were played on the piano by Harry Clarke, and silver collection was taken. A feature of the evening was the solo given by R. P. Liddle, industrial secretary of the local "Y." Mr. Liddle has done considerable to make these reunion nights a success, and much praise was given him Saturday evening for his part in drawing up the program. Especially fine was the work of Harry Clarke at the piano. Election results were shown on the screen, and this probably was one of the big drawing cards towards the attendance. The next reunion night will be the first Saturday evening of February.

MEMBERS' FRIENDS ARE GUESTS AT "Y"
Gymnastic Stunts, Drills, Boxing Bouts on Afternoon's Program.

The whole of the local Y. M. C. A. was thrown open to the members' friends on Saturday afternoon to witness the different tests and gymnastic stunts was put on by the members of the "Y." An official welcome was given the visitors at the main entrance at 3 o'clock by the officials, and all went to the gym, where the "Conners" gave a character drill. Group games amongst the juniors and the Junior businessmen were staged. An unique feature was the gym display by the Leaders corps. Boxing bouts under the leadership of Boxing Instructor Sgt. Tom. Wallace were staged. A volley ball game between the Pickers and the Mashers resulted in a win for the Mashers. The basketball game between the Students and the Old Boys was won by the former team by the score of 37 to 24. The "old boys" put up a good game, but were handicapped by not being in as fit condition as the young men. The Junior boys staged several fine stunts on the top floor. Popular among these was the summer camp. Showing everything necessary to make a camp, one's thoughts were brought back to the warm days, when one could sit out in the open by the camp fire or along the winding brook, trying one's luck for the ever-watchful trout. The large dining hall was thronged to capacity, when the violin selections by Master "Billy" Duncan and the piano solos by Master Hugo D'Pillio were encored several times. The Dundas Centre

Methodist Church minstrel quartet won repeated encores. L. H. Houlding, secretary of the boys department, led them in a sing-song.
The day ended when light refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the association.

JOHN MCCLARY, ON 92ND BIRTHDAY, HOLDS DINNER

Only Few of Most Intimate Friends Are Invited.

Showers of congratulations reached the home of John McClary yesterday on the occasion of his 92nd birthday. Mr. McClary celebrated quietly, only a few of his most intimate friends being asked to dinner, among them Col. W. M. Garrison, and Mrs. Garrison, who is a daughter, and other relatives. Despite his advanced age, Mr. McClary visits his office almost every morning, and takes a keen interest in municipal as well as world-wide affairs.

HOT ELECTION AT WOODSTOCK TODAY

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 2.—The municipal election Monday promises to be the most stubbornly-contested in years, and a large vote will be polled. There will be contests for every office. The mayoralty campaign has been quietly conducted, but ratapayers are few who have not been canvassed by one or other of the three contestants. Tonight all three contestants are given a chance, but the race between Aldermen Paul and Parker and ex-Mayor Kemp will not be decided until the very last vote is polled. The four retiring school trustees are fighting to regain their position, with Mrs. V. L. Francis, the fifth candidate. The latter is given more than an even chance to oust one of the old members.
