MR. BUTLER REPLIES TO HON. MR. EMMERSON

The Montreal Star called the attention of Deputy Minister Butler to some criticisms of the new management of the I. C. R. made by Hon. H. R. Emmerson, in which the ex-Minister of Railways, claimed that the I. C. R. had not been overmanned and suggested that probably repair work was being left undone.

"We are doing more work than ever," commented the deputy minister. "It is quite true that we did not seem to be over-manned as compared with other roads, or if we were, the percentage was fractional. But in the first place, a fractional excess might make a big difference in expenses. And in the second, the comparison did not take account of the difference in the business being done by the respective roads. Why, Mr. Emmerson knew that the new shops at Moncton were built with the expectation that it would cut out repair expenses by one-third. We had built to save labor and how could we save labor without discharging men?"

In reference to the labor disputes now going on between the employes and the management, the chairman of the board of management said:—"The real issue is whether the management shall have the right to say who shall be dismissed. The union claims that we shall dismiss young men and keep on the older and consequently less active employes. That is a point on which no management could yield. If we cannot have a free hand to dismiss or retain on grounds of efficiency, how are we going to make the road pay?"

"It is reported that you have been dismissing married men because they are not Liberals?"

"That is not true," flatly replied Mr. Butler.

The average girl thinks she could die for the hero in a novel.

PREMIER WILL NOT RESIGN SAYS HON. H. R. EMMERSON

(Toronto Telegram.)

"All the current talk regarding Sir Wilfrid Laurier resigning the premiership of Canada, in my opinion, has no foundation," said Hon. H. R. Emmerson, former minister of railways and canals, to The Telegram this morning. "Before Sir Wilfrid resigns I think you'll find that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is completed. When that is done, in all probability, he will abandon his duties as premier, as his life work will be accomplished.

"I had a conversation with Sir Wilfrid just recently, and apparently he was in good health and spirits. Poor health is said to be the cause of the many rumors in circulation to the effect that he will resign. Well, to me he appeared to be in the best of health despite his ripe old age. I don't think he will give up his office voluntarily until the G. T. P. is finished.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson is on a business trip, and will not be here for any length of time.

"Although a member of the House of Commons, I do not take any more a very active interest in politics," he said. "Of course, I work for my own constituency. Business interests occupy most of my time, and that combined with old age. I am not as active as I was when I was younger."

PULP MILL FOR PRESCOTT

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 27—As an outcome of Canada's export duty on pulpwood a number of prominent capitalists of Ogdensburg are forming a company with the intention of starting a pulp mill in Prescott in the vacant starch factory. The price named for the property is $35,000.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold Everywhere. In Boxes 25 cents

AWAY GOES ALL STOMACH MISERY

No Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gas on Stomach or Heartburn Five Minutes Later

If you had some Diapepsin handy and would take a little now your stomach distress or Indigestion would vanish in five minutes and you would feel fine.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, out-of-order stomach before you realize it.

If your meals don't temp you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acids, no stomach gas, or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no undigested food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store waiting for you.

These large 50 cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disturbance.

RURAL TRAINING BIG ADVANTAGE

Figures Showing Large Percentage of Public Men to Be From Country.

New York, Oct. 26—Last spring W. J. Spillman, of the U. S. department of arriculture set forth at some length in science his reasons for believing that the country boy gets a better start in life than the city boy. For a long time this was generally assumed to be so obvious as to call for no discussion. But in recent years champions of city breeding have arisen and made out a very good case for their side of the argument. In a recent issue of the same journal Mr. Spillman brings forward some new and rather interesting data in support of his conclusions. Some of it is epitomized in the following table:

Class of men	Per Cent. From Country.
Presidents (U.S.)	.92
Governors	91.2
Cabinet Officers	83.9
Railway Presidents	55
Congressmen	64
Senators	70.6

Among the replies to his letters of inquiries, those from the railway presidents seem to be of unusual interest. President Lucius Tuttle, of the Boston and Maine, wrote: "The farm boy learns methods of economy and the value of money. He is a part of the business machinery of the farm. The city boy as a rule has no connection with his father's business and knows little about it." President Hill, of the Great Northern, says, "I am living on a farm at some personal inconvenience in order to give my three boys a start in life." President White, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, thinks that farm training develops independence, self-reliance, and the spirit of achievement.

It is this last feature of farm life—its promotion of independence and self-reliance in the boy—upon which Mr. Spillman chiefly bases his belief in its mental value.

TEN YEARS AGO OUR SOLDIER BOYS LEFT FOR THE WAR

(Toronto World, Monday.)

Ten years ago today 130 of Toronto's bravest sons departed for far-off South Africa, to help fight Britain's battles against the Boers. Accompanied by 900 others from different parts of Canada, they sailed on Oct. 30, on the Sardinian from old Quebec, which for the first time in 150 years, was stirred by the war spirit, and enlivened by military activity.

They were the first men of the first contingent. Others followed them during the succeeding 18 months, 3,000 or 4,000 of them, but the partriotic enthusiasm which marked the departure of the first body of soldiers was never equalled before nor since. War was new to Canadians of that generation, and it became the all absorbing topic. The anxiety to prove the loyalty to the empire, which many superficial observers had questioned, helped to bring about the general outburst.

One thousand men were, of course, a mere handful of the vast army which Great Britain threw into South Africa, but they looked great and powerful to the Canadians at home.

The Boer war has passed into history, and now at the close of only the first decade, the outstanding historical fact is the reconciliation of the races in the territory where they strove so bitterly for supremacy. What fictionist of the days of 1899 could have pictured with any appearance of probability, Gen. Botha, then leading his grizzly warriors through the fastnesses of the Transvaal against the British, becoming within a short period of ten years by the grace of those Britons, the leading political figure of a South African commonwealth, in which each race was to enjoy equal rights and liberties? Already historical writers are blaming two or three men for the war, and perhaps a few decades hence the fused races of South Africa will wonder why they ever came to strife.

CANADA'S NAVAL POLICY AS VIEWED IN QUEBEC

Montreal, Oct. 27—There can be little doubt as to the peculiar position of the Conservatives in this province regarding the attitude of the party, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier brings down his naval defence policy at the opening of the coming session.

Perhaps the situation will be a little clearer after F. D. Monk makes his speech at Lachine next Monday at a banquet to be given in the French Conservative leader's honor by his supporters in Jacques Cartier.

It is understood Mr. Monk is to have an interview with R. L. Borden before the banquet.

As usual, the French Liberal papers are taking their word of command from their leaders, and go the whole project as far as the naval policy is concerned. Again, as usual, the French Conservative sheets are divided and L'Evenement, which is supposed to speak for Senator Landry and Hon. Thomas Chapais, while eulogizing Borden, says that they cannot adhere to his policy in its entirety, preferring the motion of Hon. Geo. E. Foster to the Laurier policy. It believes in fact that the question justifies an appeal to the people before undertaking such a heavy expenditure. Le Courier, a paper published in Grand Mere, is also alarmed at the growing spirit of imperialism and militarism, and wants to know who is to take the place of Bourassa and Lavergne when the measure is brought before the house of commons. La Patrie is also very careful, and believes that the people should be consulted.

KING'S PICTURE FOR SCHOOL ROOM

Ottawa, Oct. 27—The furnishing committee of the public school board has decided to recommend the purchase of framed pictures of King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra to be placed on the walls of the various public schools. Pictures will be placed in each room. The members were of the opinion that these pictures would increase the patriotic spirit of the pupils.

Dark grey is promised a great popularity, and a new shade, dubbed coal dust, is among the leaders.

NINE PUNISHED IN THREE YEARS

Happy State of Pupils in One City School Attributed to Military Drill

Ottawa, Oct. 26—That the primary motive in giving military instruction in the public schools, is not to make soldiers, but to make citizens of good self control is the opinion expressed by Dr. J. C. Glasham, inspector of Ottawa Public Schools when interviewed on criticism by Mrs. Asa Gordon, of Ottawa of military training of pupils. The Ottawa woman had a paper on the subject at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. in Belleville last week. Mrs. Gordon claimed that the drill tended to too much militarism.

Dr. Glashan said that the drills might tend to make boys better soldiers, if need ever arose for them to engage in active service, but that this was not the object that the school board had in view.

The drills were based mostly on calisthenics and military training was only a secondary consideration. Dr. Glashan pointed out that since the introduction of military drill into the schools there have been fewer cases of corporal punishment then ever before, and the inspector attributes this to the self-control which military drill teaches the pupils.

In one school in this city there had been no pupil punished since October 1907; this remarkable result he also attributed to the pupils being taught to govern their unruly passsions through military training.

ROYAL YACHT RACES, AT THE NICKEL

Without question the most inspiring yachting pictures ever taken by a motion-picture camera are those to be shown at the Nickel today in the big feature-film, International Regatta at Cowes. No yachtsman should miss this remarkable photograph as it is replete in the most exciting races ever held off the Isle of Wight where the royal yacht squadron has its headquarters. The magnificent craft, the careening, towering ninety-footers, and among these boats the Meteor IV. sailed by the German emperor, also King Edward's fast yacht will be seen. It is the finest marine photograph brought to this city. Besides this there will be Selig's Cowboy Millionaire, which is a fast-and-furious mixture of circus feats of horsemanship and daring and the story of a cowboy invasion of a quiet city. Traced by a Kodak is a clever detective yarn. Master Georgie Fairbairn, who made such a hit again last night, will sing Carrie and Harry for the last time tonight and tomorrow is to render the Indian number, Moon Bird, in costume. Frederick Driscoll will have a new sing tomorrow but today will wind up with My Wife's Gone to the Country, which is such a scream. Orchestra, too.
