GOOD WORK BY REV. H. T. PARLEE

Once Rector of Westfield, He is Now Meeting With Success in Aylesford, N. S.

Rev. H. T. Parlee, formerly rector of Westfield, but now of Aylesford, N. S., is meeting with much success in his work in Nova Scotia. Recently he undertook the erection of a new church at Morden, N. S., and its completion furnishes the final chapter in an interesting story. He was appointed rector of Aylesford, N. S., about four years ago and the very first night he held service at Christ church Morden, it was burned to the ground with no insurance. Undaunted, Mr. Parlee undertook to replace the church and the result is that there now stands on the old site a modern church building which will be opened for service in August. In the erection of this church Mr. Parlee has been his own architect and master builder and has also managed the collection of the funds. A large bell was placed in the church tower last fall. A large triple window in memory of the late J. G. Clarke of Morden has been placed in the west end of the nave of the church while the late Miss Orr provided for stained windows in the sides of the nave. The east window will be, in memory of Rev. R. Avery a former rector. Gifts of an altar, lectern, prayer desk, etc., have been received from Yarmouth. Rev. Mr. Parlee is to be congratulated on the success which has attended his efforts.

FINED FOR DESTROYING A TREE IN SEASIDE PARK

Frank Scott Brought Before Mr. Justice Masson at Fairville This Morning

It costs money to mutilate the trees in Seaside Park. Yesterday Frank Scott, a young man, cut some boughs from a handsome birch tree. He was at once reported and this morning was haled before Mr. Justice Masson of Fairville. He pleaded not guilty and costs, the fine being allowed to stand for his future good conduct, but the costs were imposed in full. Justice Masson advised the young man that his action rendered him liable to a term in Dorchester, and said that a repetition of the offence would lead to its being exacted.

The party was met at the station by automobiles and buckboards and headed by a band was driven through the principal streets. After the performance in the evening, which was witnessed by a large and enthusiastic audience the visitors were treated to a reception and dance in the K. of P. hall. They returned to St. John early Thursday morning and on Friday went to Fredericton where they played to another large and delighted audience. Some of the members returned to the city by boat on Saturday while others spent the day in Fredericton, returning by trail at night.

THE CASE OF PAUL CULLEN

Young Man Prevented By U. S. Immigration Officials From Entering United States is Still at the Metropole

Paul Cullen, the young fellow who was prevented from entering the States by the U. S. immigration officials, is still at the Salvation Army Metropole. Adjutant Cornish received a wire from his parents in Boston, a few days ago, stating that the lad was a son of American parents. More proof than this is wanted, however, before the authorities will allow the boy to proceed on his way. Mr. Miller, the chief of the U. S. staff here, said he knew nothing of the despatch, when asked about it yesterday. If the authorities here received a favorable reply to a letter which they had sent to Boston, young Cullen would be sent to his destination. Adjutant Cornish was very indignant when communicated with on the matter last evening and said he, himself, would make a move soon if the officials did not.

A DAY OF POSTPONEMENTS

The weather prevented the sports by the Westfield Outing Association. The outing of the employees of the London Life Insurance Company to Loch Lomond was also postponed. The races at Brown's Flats were postponed also, as was the Marathon-Clipper ball game.

A finer day for horse racing could not be wished for and a large crowd is attending the postponed races at Moospath this afternoon. Trains left at 1:15 and 2 o'clock, the races starting at 2 o'clock. The two events are the 215 trot and pace and the Dufferin Hotel stake, 224 trot. Meth have good entry lists and good races are assured.
