

THE ST. JOHN EVENING TIMES

TWELVE PAGES—ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1904.—TWELVE PAGES

If you like the EVENING TIMES, Tell your friends about it.

VOL. I., NO. 49.

SEEMS TO BE A BAD LOTT.

The Man Who Had the Bogus Ballot Boxes.

MORE EVIDENCE

But Byron Lott is not Yet in Court... The Boxes Were Made in Watertown, New York State... Rielly Talks.

Belleville, Oct. 26.—(Special)—John Brenner, publisher of the Bancroft Reporter, was on stand in the ballot box case this morning. He testified that he was a supporter of B. O. Lott, at the recent election.

Witness— "yes, I did not know contents."

He further testified that he had given them to Magistrate Harriet B. O. Lott was still absent when court opened.

The Star witness yesterday was F. K. Rielly, the Kingston teacher, who swore that he had been approached two years ago about the bogus ballot boxes to be made in Watertown, N. Y. Nothing definite came of it then.

In October last, Rielly admitted he went to Watertown at the request of Shibley, the government candidate in Frontenac, to see how the man Carascallan, who had agreed to make the boxes, was getting on with the work.

Rielly said he had secured a dominion ballot box from the deputy sheriff of Frontenac, to be used as a pattern. The box was taken to Watertown by Shibley after Rielly had told the government candidate in Frontenac, to see how the bogus boxes worked.

Rielly said he had been handed $100 on a dark night in Kingston to a man he did not know, to pay for the bogus boxes. He had been told by Shibley he should deposit the money with the K. & P. depot in Kingston which would hand him $100. He knew what it was for.

Rielly described how the boxes had been shipped from Watertown to Ogdensburg, taken across the river to Frontenac, and then to a printer named Brenner, and to Frontenac to a man named Kerfoot.

Rielly was still in the witness box when the court rose at 1.30.

These happenings, county councillor for Frontenac county, swore that the election was a bogus one, and not the one supposed by the government to be used.

The express agent at Bancroft showed by his book that a box had been received on Oct. 26 by John A. Brenner, the man who was incriminated by Phil Lott.

MIGHT HAVE CAUSED WAR.

Paraguay Forts Fire on Argentine Torpedo Boat... The Incident Closed.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 25.—The Argentine Minister to Paraguay has informed the Foreign office here that an Argentine torpedo boat proceeding to Formosa (Argentine Republic) received four cannon shots fired from Paraguay forts at the event occurred in the day time and that the Argentine flag was clearly visible at the time. The minister visited the Paraguayan President and protested energetically, stating that it was not the first occasion of such an occurrence, and demanded satisfactory explanations.

Later information received at the Foreign office intimates that the Paraguayan government offered ample satisfaction. President Escarria, visiting the Argentine cruiser El Plata as an act of courtesy and to demonstrate his friendship.

Instructions subsequently were wired to the commanders of Argentine warships off Asuncion to adopt measures and to the Argentine minister to withdraw in the event of a repetition of such proceedings.

The incident, which threatened to be serious owing to possible complications with Brazil, is now finally closed.

LA PRESSE IS INCORPORATED.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—(Special)—La Presse Publishing Co., Montreal, has been granted incorporation. Those who applied for incorporation are Hon. T. Berthiaume, H. O. Godey, Simon Beaudin, L. G. Gratton, and J. E. Dupont. The proposed capital is $1,250,000.

JAPS WERE REPULSED

In Another Attack on Lone Tree Hill... Greater Activity at the Front... Severe Winter Weather... The Baltic Fleet Moving Toward the Far East.

Mukden, Nov. 26.—The Japanese again on Nov. 25 made a preliminary bombardment of Lone Tree Hill, under the cover of which they attacked, but were repulsed. There were encounters at other places along the front but they were in the nature of small brushes and mostly took place at night. Yesterday there was a light fall of snow and the surrounding country has all the appearance of winter.

Tokio, Nov. 25.—The Manchurian correspondents telegraphing yesterday from one o'clock at night (23rd) The enemies infantry made a series of attacks against our outposts at Lamutun (Lamutun) but retreated northward before our fire. Simultaneously the enemy's artillery bombarded the neighborhood of the Shasha railroad bridge, firing thirty rounds with no damage to us.

The Siberian Railway. St. Petersburg, Nov. 26.—7.05 p.m.—A correspondent returning to the front after having been wounded at Liao Yang, and convalescing at Moscow writes from Irkutsk, severely criticizing the traffic arrangements of the Siberian Railway. He says that hospital trains after discharging the wounded at Moscow, are returning to the front absolutely empty, though the hospitals both in the field and at the base urgently need medicine, bandages and surgical appliances, and the only excuse for not sending them empty trains are going back to the front to not only carry hospital material, but to easily hasten the arrival of the wounded. The correspondent says that enough empty trains are going back to the front to not only carry hospital material, but to easily hasten the arrival of the wounded. The correspondent says that enough empty trains are going back to the front to not only carry hospital material, but to easily hasten the arrival of the wounded.

A Remarkable Man. St. Petersburg, Nov. 25.—The Associated Press correspondent today saw M. P. Bobokostoff, procurer general of the Holy Synod who is credited with having informed the emperor in connection with the presentation of the memorial to his majesty that no middle ground is possible at the present juncture.

This remarkable man, who has exercised so much influence in the councils of the empire, is now a mere shadow, almost four score, and his tail withered from some to be bowed with the weight of his finely chiseled, white-like head. Nevertheless fire still smoulders in the sunken caverns of his grey eyes. An impression of wonderful vitality still clings to the ghost-like figure. He today received the correspondent in the most friendly manner, but absolutely declined to discuss the Zemtsov memorial.

"I am an old man," he said, "little time yet remains. The world cannot see no longer. The thoughts that are left me are dedicated to the holy church."

At Vladivostok. Naganaki, Nov. 26.—10 a.m.—A Russian who left Vladivostok the past month twenty steamers have arrived at Vladivostok bringing coal and sundries. He also confirms previous reports that the Russian protected cruiser Bogatyr though not docked, is unassailable and is badly shrapneled. Repairs on her will require some months. A submarine boat which was brought from St. Petersburg, has completed several trials satisfactorily. The location of her base is in a secret. A result torpedo boat No. 208 was sunk and a German steamer has been damaged by coming in contact with a mine.

The Russian Fleets. St. Petersburg, Nov. 25.—Two Russian battleships, three cruisers, seven torpedo boat destroyers and nine transports from Port Sata, have arrived safely from the Bitter Lakes, in the canal, where they anchored for the night. Under instructions the destroyers and came on to Susa, where they anchored, proceeding to the Bitter Lakes, arriving here at 2 a.m. While the destroyers were passing through the canal near the station at their guns and torpedo tubes. The cruisers and battleships will leave the Bitter Lake at daylight.

The Hill warships were traversing the canal both banks were strongly guarded by Egyptian soldiers and coast guards. The Russian Admiral's intention is said to be to go to Diego Suarez, Bay of Madagascar.

TO ASCERTAIN A BASIS FOR ADVANTAGEOUS PLAN. Canadian Manufacturers will Tour Industrial England and Scotland and Consider a Reciprocity That Will be Mutually Beneficial.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—A special cable to the Star today from London says: The London Chamber of Commerce, in association with influential friends in Canada, is arranging for a reception to the leading Canadian manufacturers, who are to visit Great Britain in July. The party is expected to number three hundred and a special steamer will probably be chartered. Lord Strathcona is taking a keen interest in the project and Lord Brassey has also asked to be associated in the reception. Arrangements are in progress to show the visitors the best of industrial England and Scotland, especially with a view of ascertaining the best basis for mutually advantageous reciprocity. Public meetings are also to be held.

AN EDUCATED HORSE NOW A POLITICAL ISSUE. FINE CHURCH DESTROYED.

New York, Nov. 26.—A Berlin dispatch to the Times says:—"Herr Has Van Ostrow's extraordinary Orloff stallion has become a political issue in Prussia. Several members of the diet are highly indignant on account of the enthusiasm which Dr. Studt, the minister of education, displayed over the animal's powers, and he will be questioned in the house regarding the matter. An interesting debate is expected. It is said that the animal and its report will soon be made public."

The story goes that Dr. Studt visited the animal to display his powers before Emperor William, and that the other ministers strongly opposed the plan. Thereupon, it is asserted, Dr. Studt threatened to resign. It is said that the dispute was smoothed over for the time being, but it is likely to come up again. Scientific circles are still displaying intense interest in the alleged powers of the horse. Another committee of scientific men has been examining the animal and its report will soon be made public.

MICHAEL IS DEAD.

Famous Little Bicycle Rider Passes Away While Enroute to New York.

New York, Nov. 26.—"Jimmy Michael, the noted Welsh middle-distance bicycle rider, died suddenly last Monday morning on board the French line steamship La Savoie, of congestion of the brain. Michael was coming to the United States to 'race' again, and was accompanied by a number of long-distance riders who are to enter the six-day contest to be held here soon.

Michael complained of being ill on Sunday night, saying to the ship's doctor that he was suffering from a severe headache, and refused to eat his supper, and according to the steward of the ship was the happiest and brightest member of his party of bicycle riders.

About 3 o'clock Monday morning his companion, Juan Gonzalez, the French bicyclist, heard Michael struggling violently in his stateroom. Dr. Maire was at once called and pronounced Michael to be in a dangerous condition. In his delirium he struggled violently and died at 4 o'clock. Michael was 27 years old, and had been a member of the French national team for several years.

Michael's companion, Juan Gonzalez, was a member of the French national team for several years. He was a member of the French national team for several years.

Michael's companion, Juan Gonzalez, was a member of the French national team for several years. He was a member of the French national team for several years.

Michael's companion, Juan Gonzalez, was a member of the French national team for several years. He was a member of the French national team for several years.

Michael's companion, Juan Gonzalez, was a member of the French national team for several years. He was a member of the French national team for several years.

SOLDIER CAN NOT HIT BACK.

German Privates Get Five Years Each For Resenting Superior's Insult.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—The German soldier does not possess the right of self-defense against an attack by a superior. This amazing decision has been handed down in a case judged by Dusseldorf.

The facts of the case are as follows: Sergeant Hesse was drunk, entered a public dancing saloon and insulted two girls, who were in the act of dancing. The girls applied to their companions for protection, and the soldier proceeded to draw his sword. He made a drunken lunge with the weapon and slightly wounded one of the girls. Hesse was arrested by a superior officer.

In the course of the trial the prisoners' counsel contended that it was permissible for soldiers to defend their honor and life, even against a superior. "Nothing in the act," responded the prosecuting counsel, "is a conception that does not exist in the relations between soldiers and their superiors."

Counsel for the defence asked: "Must a soldier allow himself to be urinated upon by a superior officer?" The prosecutor replied "yes."

The court, however, partially dissented from this view. In the case of a soldier whose life was endangered, explaining the fact that the soldier must not strike a superior. "The soldier must not strike a superior," the court said, "but he may defend himself if his life is in danger."

The court, however, partially dissented from this view. In the case of a soldier whose life was endangered, explaining the fact that the soldier must not strike a superior. "The soldier must not strike a superior," the court said, "but he may defend himself if his life is in danger."

BROKE ARM AND LEG.

Serious Accident on Mill Street This Morning.

A serious accident happened on Mill street this morning in front of Hawker's drug store, when the young son of Israel Corber, clothing manufacturer, met with a most unfortunate accident. In some manner he got between the wheels of a passing truck and his right leg and left arm became entangled in the wheels, seriously fracturing both. The driver of the truck stopped as quickly as possible and the injured lad was taken into Hawker's drug store. Dr. G. A. B. Ady happened to be passing at the time and rendered prompt assistance. The unfortunate youth was conveyed to his home where the injured members were set. Young Corber is resting easy.

Dr. G. A. B. Ady happened to be passing at the time and rendered prompt assistance. The unfortunate youth was conveyed to his home where the injured members were set. Young Corber is resting easy.

JACOB BERRY & CO. HAVE MADE AN ASSIGNMENT.

New York Stock Broking Firm With Branches in Canada Assigned Today... Liabilities Are $200,000; Assets $150,000 to $200,000.

New York, Nov. 26.—Jacob Berry and Harold L. Bennett comprising the firm of Jacob Berry and Co., members of the Consolidated Stock Exchange to-day made an assignment for the benefit of creditors to Ashbel P. Fitch. The liabilities are estimated at $200,000 while the assets are placed at from $150,000 to $200,000.

The firm of Jacob Berry and Co. was one of the oldest brokerage concerns in this city, having been established in 1845. It held membership on the New York Produce Exchange and the Philadelphia Stock Exchange as well as the Consolidated Stock Exchange. It dealt in stocks bonds grain and cotton.

Boston, Nov. 26.—Benjamin F. Copeland, Boston manager for Jacob Berry and Co., brokers of New York today received information that the concern had assigned. Mr. Copeland said: "I have no idea as to the cause of the failure. Besides the principal offices at 42 Broadway N. Y., the company has offices at Boston, Springfield, Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport, Conn., Albany, Montreal, Brooklyn Philadelphia and Quebec."

ROOSEVELT AT THE FAIR.

President Arrived at St. Louis Today and Was Enthusiastically Received... Work of Dismantling Will Be Begun Tonight... The Exposition Closes on Nov. 30.

St. Louis, Nov. 26.—"President Roosevelt's private secretary, the elevated terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour, and every car line terminating at the World's Fair, poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition grounds. By the request of President Roosevelt's private secretary, the terminal tracks along the Mississippi river. From the train was taken to Union, a brisk wind, ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous programme arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire in one day a comprehensive idea of the great exposition.

WEATHER... Colder, with some local snow flurries tomorrow.

ONE CENT.

THE CZAR'S SYMPATHY

Received the Zemtsov in His Palace.

REFORM MAY COME.

The Delegates Highly Pleased With Their Reception and Hopeful of Good Results... A Wonderful Old Man.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 26.—(2.50 a.m.)—The unexpected may happen at all. The meeting of the Zemtsov-voites "first Russian congress" as it is now called, may indeed work the inauguration of a new era for Russia. Emperor Nicholas, the initiator of the initiator plan for universal disarmament, made a surprise back-up his reign by granting to his subjects the constitution which his grandfather had already prepared when he fell by the hand of an assassin.

The basis of such a possibility is the significant fact that late this afternoon the emperor received in the palace at Tsarskoye Selo M. Shipoff, of Moscow; M. Petrukevitch, of Tver; M. Rodzianko, of Ekaterinburg; and Count Heiden, four prominent members of the Zemtsov congress, and listened at length to their views. It develops that Minister of the Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky presented the Zemtsov memorial and resolutions on Nov. 24, the emperor was so deeply impressed as well by the character of the documents as by the content of the arguments that he immediately expressed the desire to personally receive a deputation of four.

Czar Sympathetic. The Zemtsov therefore went to Tsarskoye Selo by imperial command. At their audience, it is understood, they explained fully their position and reiterated the views expressed by the memorial that the salvation of the empire from ruin by revolution lay in the adoption of the general ideas expressed in the memorial. The emperor was greatly impressed by what he heard and asked many questions. While it is understood that he gave no indications of his purposes except the sympathy he returned to St. Petersburg, were in high spirits. Naturally, the delegates did not say anything for publication regarding the visit.

The news that the delegation had been given an audience by the emperor spread like wildfire throughout the city tonight and created a tremendous sensation, rejoicing among uncompromising supporters of the old regime. Earlier in the day the report was current that an immediate effect of the Zemtsov meeting would likely be the realization of the plan for giving two elected Zemtsov representatives seats in the council of the empire.

WINTER PORT NOTES. Two Steamers Sall and Two Arrive—No Cattle Yet.

The Lonia sailed at 1.30 o'clock today for Liverpool. She has a large cargo, including 200 tons of timber, 850 standards of deals, 16 cars of U. S. meats, 4 cars of Canadian meat, 3 cars of goods, 1 car of apples, 2 cases of butter. She will take about 30 first cabin, 30 second cabin and 150 steerage passengers.

The Allan line steamship Bavarian arrived this afternoon from Liverpool via Halifax. She has 1300 tons of freight for this port and the west.

Her daily runs were: 19th, 2044; 20th, 320; 21st, 374; 22nd, 378; 23rd, 375; 24th, 368, and 25th, 663 miles. She brought 411 adults and 37 children passengers.

The steamer Manchester Exchange, Capt. Borwell, sailed to-day for Philadelphia and Manchester. Steamer London City, Capt. Ferenc, arrived today from London direct, with a large general cargo for this city and the west.

There have been no cattle landed here yet this season for shipment. The Allan line will run three cattle steamers this winter, the Corinthian, the Silician and the Pretorian. Each of these will make two trips to Liverpool during the winter. The Corinthian will sail from here on Dec. 10th. She is capable of carrying 600 head of cattle, and will probably now being purchased in the west, and will leave Montreal about Dec. 7th.

The steamer Corinthian sailed from Montreal yesterday afternoon for Halifax and St. John, from Liverpool. The first turbine—the Victoria—will sail from Liverpool Feb. 23rd, and from St. John March 11th.

MURDERER ARRESTED.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—Frank Sawyer, who shot and killed Henry and George Henderson, colored, at Bethayres last Tuesday night was arrested today at Langhorne, near the scene of the double murder. Late Sawyer was seen to be taken to Bethayres.

THE LARGE DAILY CIRCULATION OF THE TIMES MAKES IT AN EXCEPTIONAL GOOD MEDIA FOR UP-TO-DATE ADVERTISING.