Re-education Classes for Returned Soldiers to be Conducted in 16 Industries at Guelph M.C.H. Guelph, Ont., Aug. 22.—September should see occupation of the former Ontario government institution which was turned over to the Military Hospitals Commission as its chief re-education centre in Ontario for disabled soldiers.

THE OLD DORMITORIES in the main building are undergoing transformation. The appearance of those portions already finished would emphatically belie the stranger's assertion that the building had once been a prison.

REDEcoration in cherry hospital units. These also have been redecorated. White enamel hospital beds have been substituted for the sleeping accommodation and first class toilet and bathing equipment has been added.

THE kitchen could not be improved, but the dining room has been altered in appearance. A scenic recreation hall is also being added.

THE great advantage of the institution is its industrial equipment. Sixteen separate industries, including agriculture, dairying, planning mill, furniture shops, metal shop, abattoir, etc., are in full swing on absolutely commercial lines.

ABOUT eight hundred soldiers at a time will be cared for at Guelph, owing to the difficulty of men with disabilities learning new industrial occupations, it is anticipated that in some cases patients may remain there for possibly two years before they are able to take positions.

THE 800 acres of farm land adjoin the grounds of the Ontario Agricultural College and arrangements have been made whereby the staff of that institution will co-operate in the instruction work.

Brilliantly Told Cuban Story Enticing—Excellent Vaudeville Offerings

"A Feast of Life" is the picture feature in the Gem's new mid-week programme. Starring the noted Clara Kimball Young, this five reel World Film release affords a vehicle well suited to her personality.

Romantic in the extreme, this story is one of love and adventure in Cuba. It was written by Frances Marion and is replete with interest.

Their act is given a strikingly effective setting. The performers are skillful in their dancing, singing, and dialogue, musical numbers and acrobatic dancing. They excel in all their offerings and are rewarded with hearty applause.

The Gem will continue this programme until and including Friday night with an entirely new bill on Saturday afternoon.

DYSENTERY DANGEROUS

DYSENTERY IS DANGEROUS. Dysentery is one of the worst forms of bowel complaint. It comes on so suddenly, the pains in the bowels become so intense, the discharges occur with great rapidity, and are very often accompanied by blood, and the action of the system is so weakening that its termination often proves fatal.

When the bowels get loosened up in this way, and you wish to check the unnatural discharge without bringing on constipation, there is only one remedy to use, and that is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

This remedy is not an experiment as it has been used in thousands of Canadian homes during the past 72 years. Mrs. Albert Fearon, Bryan's Corner, N.B., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for the past ten years, and I would not be without it in the house."

There are many cheap imitations of this sterling remedy on the market. Ask for Dr. Fowler's and see that you get the genuine when you ask for it. Price 8c. Put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

VALESKA SURRATT AT THE STAR THEATRE

Seeing Her in "The Victim" Lives No Wonder Why Women Like the Movies

The mid-week attraction at the Star Theatre this week is "The Victim" in which Valeska Surrott portrays the role of a girl against whom fate raises its overmastering power. Her struggle is terrific but she wins. Her father wrongs her in his greed and suffering into her own life and threaten to wreck her happiness. She wages a fearless fight and wins against almost insuperable odds.

It seems that Miss Surrott's sole ambition is to be well dressed; in fact she verifies this in the following lines. This is what she says: "If I had twenty thousand dollars And twenty thousand gorgeous hats, And coats and gloves to match their hues, If I had twenty thousand minks And furs and riding boots and shoes, I'd like to know with all my heart If I should then be satisfied."

Miss Surrott has personality. That elusive charm which is rarely attained on the screen has been captured by the noted actress of William Fox dramas. The distinctive characteristic which brings its possessor into the first rank of stars is owned by Valeska Surrott, the woman of a thousand emotions.

MIGHT WELL BE AVOIDED

Complaints of unnecessary noises in the residential districts, so oft repeated as to constitute a nuisance reach The Times. The noisy playing boys we always have, but the honking of auto horns in the middle of the night, the rattling and banging of milkmen's cans are regarded by the complainants as easily avoided. In one case in particular serious results to a sick person are received. It is well for people to have thought of others; falling into this trap a police reminder may prove effective.

WATER AND SEWERAGE

It has been found necessary to carry the water main renewal in Prince William street farther than expected. The plans showed the ten inch main from St. James street running to the Three Lamps and it was intended to make the connection with the new main there. Another week will be required to complete the water main renewal in Sheffields street.
