W. DEVENNIE

St. John Soldier Who is One of Four Brothers in King's Uniform

The following interesting letter came to Mrs. A. DeVennie, 27 Barker street, from her son, Sergeant Walter DeVennie, No. 5 Co. C. A. C. He is one of four sons in khaki. He writes:

Dear Mother:
 It has been some time since I have written to you but some how or other I have been kept on the move most of the time and even when I had time it has been hard to do. I had a letter about a week or so ago from Will and was glad to hear that all hands are, or were at the time of writing, well.

So Leyland has enlisted—Well, in one way I am sorry as you have been enough to worry you with the rest of us getting out, but on the other hand I am glad he has the nerve to do it and I know you are made of the right sort of stuff to let him go. You are having a bit more than your share, but cheer up and don't worry. We will all be back again some day and then look out for your pantry shelves as we will have some appetites.

Everything goes on over here fairly smoothly. We plug along in the same old way trying every day to do our little bit in the game. You would be amused to see the houses we boys are living in. A number have tents, but most of us are camped in so-called dug-outs. We dig a hole in the ground the size we want then stack up around the edge sacks filled with earth, across the poles are placed and over these a tarpaulin or sackings; this is covered with earth. A fire-place is dug in the side and there you find us as snug as a bug in a rug. There are three of us in our dug-out. Bill, Nedwell, Sgt. Hanson and myself and we are very comfortable.

I have seen some of the boys of the 26th Batt. and they seem to be quite content.

The 26th have made a splendid name for themselves and have done some great work.

I understand they are having some great recruiting meetings at home and that quite a number are answering the call. We need them here, or any rate we want them ready in case they are needed.

Write to me whenever you get a chance as mail means a lot to us these days, a great deal more than when in England. Many are the boxes of good things that come to the boys and they are always shared with their chums. We are having excellent weather and we had no rain for about two weeks, it being about as warm as it is at home the first part of September. We don't care how much of this sort they send along.

Our boys of old No. 8 as a whole are enjoying good health and everyone seems to be content and enjoying the life very much. We are up bright and early in the morning and lights out at 8:40 at night so you see we have plenty of sleep anyway. No one is allowed out after 8:40 so you see we don't get much chance to get away from camp. But still after the day's work is over we are quite content to turn in when night comes. We have some jolly times which the sound of guns don't interrupt one bit. Please remember me to anyone who might be interested and say to them that I would be glad to hear from them at any time. There are many things I would like to tell you about but I am not allowed to, so will save it until I get home again. Don't worry about me as I am and will be all O. K. in fact I never felt better in my life, lots to eat and enough exercise to digest it. Write when you can to your boy, WALTER.

F. S.—Mother, there is something would like very much to have and that is a pair of those high-cut lace tan waterproof boots size 7 1/2. Any of the boys will know what I mean. I wonder if you could get a pair and send them over to me, as it will be very muddy and wet here this winter and they would be a great thing for me. The ones I mean come pretty nearly up to the knee, W.

'LAST POST' SOUNDS
FOR PTE. BROWN

Funeral This Morning of Member of 52nd Battalion

BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS

Comrades and Citizens Pay Tribute of Sympathy to Soldier Who Died on Sunday—Impressive Service in St. David's Church

The bugles sounding the plaintive air of the "Last Post" marked the conclusion of the final tribute to one who had died while on his way to fight for king and country, when Private James Brown of the 52nd Battalion was laid to rest today in Fernhill cemetery, with all the honor due to a soldier who meets death in the front line.

The funeral service took place at nine o'clock this morning in St. David's Presbyterian church and was conducted by the minister, Rev. J. A. MacKellan, who had been with the soldier in his last moments and who had been entrusted with the final messages of the dying man to his aged parents in Scotland. It was the chaplain of the battalion, Hon. Captain Elliston, assisted with the service and a quartette from St. David's choir aided in the musical portions of the service. The church was filled with the officers of the battalion and the comrades of the late soldier and a large number of citizens. In the gathering were many who have members of their families at the front and who were anxious to show on this occasion the sympathy which they hoped would be shown in return for the sacrifice of their loved ones.

The casket was draped with the Union Jack and covered with a floral blanket, the gift of a St. John lady. It bore also a handsome floral tribute from Major Allan and the men of Private Brown's company, a wreath from the local recruiting committee and flowers from the Women's Canadian Club and the Brotherhood of St. David's church. Surmounting it were the soldier's cap and belt.

The service was an impressive one, but its key note was not one of mourning, but rather that of a tribute to a soldier who had died while fulfilling his duty. In a brief address the chaplain said "A few months ago Private Brown answered the call of his king and country. Now he has answered the call of the King of Kings. Not for him was the honor and glory of fighting for those principles in the defence of which our Empire is at stake, but for the sake of his country. He has given his life in the service and he has died for his country. We truly say we fall on the field of battle. Our message today is not for the dead, but for the living, and may be summed up in the words of the Scout motto 'Be Prepared' that we may be ready, as he was ready, to answer the call of the King of Kings." At the close of the service, the strains of the Dead March in Saul, the casket was reverently borne out by the comrades of the soldier and placed in the hearse, while the guard of honor stood with rifles at the "Present Arms."

The funeral cortege formed, headed by the firing squad, followed by the band of the 52nd Battalion, with snuffed drums, and by the bugle band. Following the hearse was the company of which Private Brown had been a member, and then a large number of representative citizens. At the cemetery the grave had been prepared in a lot devoted to soldiers, where lie the remains of Q. M. Sergeant Wetmore, 4th Battalion, K. O. Rifle Corps, who died in 1898, and Gunners Cross and McDonald, whose deaths occurred in 1866. The grave had been decked with greenery, roses and other flowers, a thoughtful touch by Superintendent Clayton, himself an ex-soldier with four sons now in uniform.

The grand service was conducted by the chaplain, assisted by Rev. Mr. MacKellan, in the presence of a large gathering, and when the grave had been filled, the firing squad fired their last salute of three volleys over the graves—not only of Private Brown, but also of the other soldiers who lie buried there. Then the "last post" was sounded by the buglers.

Some men are convinced that there "aint no such animal." Sometimes, however, storekeepers look on the manufacturer's newspaper advertising somewhat in this light.

The manufacturer is spending money to benefit them. But the more alert realize that they can double and treble the benefits of the manufacturer's investment by SHOWING THE GOODS.

The manufacturer's advertising in the newspaper and the GOODS in the window bring business. Don't let the manufacturer lift all the load—do YOUR part.
