WAR ON MOSQUITO.

(Times of India.)
The history of the spasmodic war against the mosquito in Bombay city and of the progress which still prevails, would form a striking comment on the ability of the medical profession to persuade mankind to protect itself against disease. We can only hope that with the spread of education the kind of "safety first" ideas which help to prevent disease may become more popular. There is no lack of object lessons to show what can be done. It has, for example, always been recognized that the elimination of the mosquito is really an engineer's job. Residents in Bombay can see that for themselves at Colaba where the reclamation work has had the excellent effect of greatly diminishing the incidence of malaria among the troops in barracks.

LATIN-AMERICA IN NATIONS LEAGUE

Under Secretary-General to be Appointed—Of Growing Importance.

By HENRY WOOD.

(United Press.)

Geneva, Aug. 19—With the ever-increasing importance in the League of Nations of the Latin-American countries, the fifth annual assembly of the league, which has been summoned for Sept. 4, will be called upon to consider the creation and appointment of a Latin-America under-secretary general for the past two years.

Along with this appointment, which would give Latin-America the same representation at the secretariat as is now enjoyed by England, France and Italy, there would also be an increase in the Latin-American bureau which has already existed at the secretariat for the past two years.

Definite recommendations for the above have now been made by Sir Eric Drummond to the council and the assembly, and the final decision will be taken by the latter in September. Owing to the fact that the Latin-American block in the assembly is, at virtually all times, to control the necessary majority vote, no doubt exists as to the success of the recommendation.

With Sir Eric Drummond representing England as secretary general, Monsieur Averil representing France as first under-secretary and Signor Attol representing Italy as second under-secretary, Latin-America will, in the new third under-secretary general, enjoy the next highest place in the organization of the secretariat.

While this recognition is accorded for what Latin America has already done in the league, leaguers are also looking forward to the future and providing for the ever-increasing role which it is conceded the Latin-American countries are destined to play. With the rise of Argentina to the league there is every reason to believe that Mexico will soon present her application, at which time all Latin America will be in the league with the exception of Ecuador.

Already there exists in the assembly the Latin-American block and when this has been augmented by the addition of Argentina, Mexico and Ecuador, it will give the latter a voting strength which, in the future, will always constitute the greatest safeguard against any possibility of the league being dominated by European nations or policies.

To date, the Latin-American block has shown a greater degree of solidarity in its actions than any other block of nations, and this solidarity is expected to increase steadily in the future. It is this solidarity that has not only justified but rendered necessary the proposition of Sir Eric Drummond to increase steadily in the future. With the question of naval disarmament coming before the league and other questions in which the interest of the Latin-American countries are directly affected, the work entailed will greatly exceed the limits of the present bureau, and Sir Eric Drummond has recommended the creation also of an adequate staff to work under the direction of the proposed Latin-American under-secretary.

THE COURTS AND THE CRIMINAL.

(New York Herald-Tribune.)

In welcoming to the General Sessions bench William Allen, just appointed by Governor Smith, Judge Alfred J. Tally said:

"You have come on the bench of the greatest criminal court in the world at a time when this country is suffering under an indictment which proclaims it to be the most lawless on earth. You will find that the United States go with a warning, the sentencing judge may look with confidence to his return on another charge."

It is true that the great majority of defendants are youths. But that is to be expected. Youth is naturally more headlong, more impatient of restraint than maturity. And when the plea of youthfulness is accepted as an excuse for crime, and instead of a salutary sentence a young moron is allowed to go with impunity, trusting to the leniency that too often is to be found on the bench.
