House of Assembly, 1917

Official Synopsis of Debates

SATURDAY, July 21st, 1917.
The House met at 3 p. m. pursuant to adjournment.

THE PREMIER moved second reading of the Bill for the Control of Trading in the Necessaries of Life. It was proposed to appoint a Board to enquire into prices, importation, the needs of the public, distribution and transportation, etc. The Board would have power to make regulations governing the prices of all necessities of life, in so far as it might deem desirable; and also in relation to the encouragement of production, the prevention of waste, it would have large powers to purchase, commandeer, and otherwise control the markets. There was a widespread feeling in the country to-day that legitimate profits had been made out of the needs of the public. The man who intentionally and wilfully made exorbitant profits out of the necessities created by the war was worse than an open enemy; yet the reports of the Commission on the high cost of living strongly suggested that this was the case. The powers of the Board would continue until six months after the termination of the war. Much would, of course, depend on the character of the Board; it would be necessary for them to investigate the position with the utmost care, and then, if they decided to act, to do so with firmness and decision. The Bill was read a second time.

THE PREMIER moved second reading of the Bill to amend the Pension Act, to be fixed by the Governor-in-Council, and to relieve the New Minister of the necessity of completing elections within six months of their appointment. The Bill was read a second time.

The Bills relating to the River-side Woolen Mills Ltd., and Nfld. Knitting Mills, Ltd., were read a second time.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on these four bills, passed them without debate read them the third time, and sent them to the Legislative Council.

The House then adjourned to Monday, at 5 p. m.

MONDAY, July 23rd.
The House met at 3 p. m. pursuant to adjournment.

HON. MR. BENNETT moved second reading of the Naval and Military Pensions Bill. He spoke appreciatively of the work done by the Provisional Pensions Committee up to the present time. Although all busy men, they had given thorough and careful attention to the matter. The Bill now moved was almost identical with that recently adopted by the Canadian Government, both here and in Canada and the United States, of the material necessary to enable us to decide upon a satisfactory scheme.

HON. MR. CLIFF explained some of the difficulties which had been met with, and emphasized the importance of the work, and the expenditure likely to be involved. He was glad that some of the present Committee were willing to continue work for the present, if the Government so desired, and give the benefit of their experience.

THE PREMIER said that no amount which this Legislature could afford to vote against the greatness of the work which our soldiers had done for us; and it would be an everlasting disgrace if any of them or their dependents had to look to any form of charitable assistance to put them back as nearly as possible in the position they were in before their enlistment.

Much would depend upon the way in which the Pension Act was to be amended. The Board to be appointed would have to be one of the highest and most judicial character, in order that it might satisfactorily deal with the exceedingly varied situations which might arise. He felt that there was not a family in Newfoundland to-day but would be proud and glad to bear its share of the expense incident to making a proper provision for this purpose.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, and delivered his Budget Speech, the following extracts therefrom are of special interest:—

The fiscal years 1915-16 and 1916-17 have both been completed, and in reviewing them I can congratulate the Colony on the fact that they will disclose in their respective transactions the largest credit balances ever yet achieved in our fiscal history.

The Revenue on current account for the fiscal year 1915-16, the accounts of which have been finalized, was $4,600,271.66, which was an increase of $1,347,632.33 over the amount received the previous year; $381,842.83 more than received for 1913-14, and $681,231.13 larger than the Revenue for 1912-13, which was the largest previously collected.

On the other hand, the expenditure for the year 1915-16 amounted to only $4,110,885.33, an increase of but $102,262.63 over the expenditure of 1914-15. This left a surplus on account of 1915-16 of $489,386.27; but from this we must deduct $67,832.51, an exchequer balance due the Bank of Montreal on account of 1914-15, so that there was at the end of June, twelve months ago, a net surplus of $431,553.76, the largest surplus up to that time ever resulting from a year's transactions of the Colonial Treasury. This surplus we propose to apply to the cost of the Colony's participation in the war.

For the fiscal year 1916-1917, which ended three weeks ago, but with respect to which it is, of course, impossible to submit already a finalized series of accounts, as the ultimate adjustment cannot be made until the books are closed at the end of October, when the next of the four months' Customs bonds expire, I estimate the total Revenue to reach $5,245,465.75, and an expenditure of $4,726,000, less say dropped balances totalling $60,000, or a net expenditure of $4,675,000, leaving a net surplus for the fiscal year just ended of $470,465.75, included in this expenditure will be Supplemental Supply to the amount of $617,000, which I tabled recently, and the largest individual items of which are two sums of $50,000 each, which we propose to take out of the prospective surplus and apply, one to the improvement of our roads and bridges, and the other to the improvement of marine works throughout the Colony, following the policy in the same respect which we adopted in previous sessions; and $28,000 to augment the salaries of school teachers from January 1st to June 30th of this year, as requested by the teachers last week, we having previously proposed that this should come into effect from the first of July in this year.

In the fiscal year just opening I look to secure at least as large a Revenue from general sources as in the year that closed on June 30th, which, as I have just stated, I estimate will reach $5,145,000; but I think it is safe to calculate that in view of the highly promising outlook for the price of fish, oil, and other products of the Colony, stimulated as these will be by the operations of new cold storage companies and the competition by our neighbours to the West for stocks of our fish, we may look upon a substantial swelling of the Customs receipts, increasing the total to say five and a quarter million dollars. To this I would be disposed to add a quarter million dollars as a minimum.

The Bill was read a second time, receipt from the new Business Profit Tax which we propose to impose, and legislation for which will be introduced hereafter, so that the total of the fiscal year now just begun at five and a half million dollars.

TUESDAY, July 24th.
The House met at 3 p. m. pursuant to adjournment.

The Naval and Military Pensions Bill passed Committee without debate, and was read a third time and sent to the Legislative Council. The remaining orders of the day were deferred.

WEDNESDAY, July 25th.
The House met at 3 p. m. pursuant to adjournment.

HON. MINISTER OF FINANCE AND CUSTOMS moved the House into Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means, and delivered his Budget Speech. The following extracts therefrom are of special interest:—

The "Gen'l Laurie" Sinking

Capt. R. G. Benson who was master of the schooner General Laurie when she was sunk recently in the Mediterranean, was in Shelburne, a few days ago, says the Gazette. The General Laurie, was built at Lockeport by Mr. William MacMillan and some time ago she was purchased by Newfoundland parties. Captain Benson being a part owner. When sent to the bottom she was bound to France with a load of cocoa and was within 10 miles of her destination. Without warning, a submarine at a distance of two miles, began firing at her. The schooner's crew took to the boats and while they were in them the firing continued. It was not till the crew rowed towards the submarine that the shooting ceased. In all Captain Benson declares thirty shots were fired. The crew were picked up by a passing vessel.

That Arctic Indigestion Cure Cures Indigestion

Bigus Junction, June 28, 1917.

I have been a sufferer of that dreadful disease Indigestion, for two months. I tried different medicines but all to no avail, till at last I heard of A. I. C. and I am glad to say that one pint bottle perfectly cured me.

I might say a word to all sufferers. Don't be afraid to give this great medicine a trial.

The 'Imperial' Leads Them All

An Unsolicited Testimonial

Black Tickle, Labrador, August 15, 1916.

Mr. C. E. Russell,
Dear Sir,—It pleases me very much to be able to give praise to the 5 h.p. Imperial Engine which I bought from you this spring. It has given me the best of satisfaction, and I can honestly recommend them to any fisherman wanting a reliable Engine.

There are, some five or six different makes of Engines used here, but the IMPERIAL can lead them all. It can steam faster than any of the five and-a-half of any kind used here.

Wishing you all success. Yours truly,

MARK MORRISSEY,
North River.
