How the Shamrock bia swept across the finish line, the Shamrock was hardly visible astern, only the outlines of her sails being seen. Ten minutes and eleven seconds Lost the Race.

SHE WAS NEVER IN IT FROM THE START-FIRST CONTEST TO THE AMERICAN YACHT.

New York, Oct. 17 .- The cup which the old schooner America won so commandingly against all comers over the ourse around the Isle of Wight in 1851, and brought back across the seas, may possibly remain here another year. In a glorious breeze, over a windward and leeward course of 30 miles, the Columbia scored against the Shamrock yesterday in the first race of the 1899 series for the trophy. She bounded across the finish line fully a mile and a half ahead of the challenger, defeating her by ten minutes and fourteen seconds in actual time, or ten minutes and eight seconds corrected time, allowing the six seconds handicap, which the Columbia must concede to the challenger on account of her longer water line.

It was a decisive contest, a magnificent race, magnificently sailed and nificent race, magnificently sailed and magnificently won. Opinion as to the merits of the two boats had been somewhat divided as a result of the flukes during the past two weeks. Although the preponderance of expert opinion never wavered in its loyalty to the wonderful speed and ability of the white fiver, no nautical sharp exwonderful speed and ability of the white flyer, no nautical sharp expected the Shamrock would be so overwhelmingly vanquished as she was in this royal struggle. The Yankee boat outgeneralled her at the start, beat her hopelessly in windward work to her hopelessly in windward work to the outer mark, and gained twentytwo seconds in the run home before

There was a good strong, ten to twelve knot breeze, and it held throughout the race. It is undoubtedly a bitter blow, because the English hopes of lifting the cup have never the beautiful the process to the cup have never lish hopes of lifting the cup have never been higher since the Thistle met, the Volunteer in 1887. Like the Shamrock, she was decisively defeated in the first hour's sailing. The regatta committee, as a result of the showing made by the Columbia, are convinced that the cup is safe. Blow high or low, the Columbia, it is believed by her manager, Mr. Iselin, can beat the Shamrock. Sir Thomas, like the true sportsman that he is, confessed after Shamrock. Sir Thomas, like the true sportsman that he is, confessed after the race that he had been fairly beat-en. He had no apologies to make.

THE START. There was some lively jockeying behind the line before the start and Columbia got the better of it. She clearly outmaneeuvered her rival, eventuring the start was a start of the start of ally forcing her over the line first by half a length, but leaving Columbia in the weather position.

Close hauled on the starboard tack the yachts plunged seaward, heeling to the 12-knot breeze. The first few minutes of the race were most inter-They made a beautiful picture as they raced away like hounds. Their sails to the nautical eye were perfection in fit. They looked as if they might uave been curved out of labaster, so firm and faultless were the white flyer was forging shead. The clear water began to show between them. The Columbia not only seemed to outfoot the the chal-lenger, but the experts saw that she pointed higher. It was astonishing pointed higher. It was astonishing how she sliced her way up into the wind. Within fifteen minutes she had lead of five lengths and from that

The patriots were jubilant and the bands, which began playing, never stopped until the race was over. The Columbia seemed more tender than the foreigner, showing yards of her bronze underbody, as she leaned away with her lee rail almost awash. Steadily she continued to draw ahead until within half an hour, having unequivocally demonstrated her super-iority in windward work, it became only a question of how far the white flyer would beat her rival to the outer mark.

The Shamrock footed valiantly, but neither in speed nor in pointing could she compare with the Columbia. Then neither in speed nor in pointing could she compare with the Columbia. Then the three skippers on the Shamrock put their heads together and tried new tactics. The Shamrock made a dozen short beats. Evidently her skippers were under the impression that she was quicker on her heel and better at fore-reaching than the Yankee boat, but the Columbia proved quite as nimble as the Shamrock.

When the Shamrock got through with this line of tactics, the Columbia had increased her lead until she was half a mile ahead. At the end of another half hour, as the wind continued to freshen, the Shamrock took in her baby jib topsail, figuring that without this light headsail she might be able to hug the wind closer. The Columbia held on to hers, and as the Shamrock did not improve her position at the end of ten minutes, her skippers at the end of ten minutes, her skippers again set the sail. By 1 o'clock the Shamrock was fully a mile and a half astern and the Columbia was a winner all over. THE RUN HOME.

THE RUN HOME.

As the Columbia swung around the outer mark she eased off her main boom, let mer spinnaker pole drop to port and breaking out the cloud of canvas, fled homeward like a scared deer. Her big balloon jib blossomed out 48 seconds later. The ships of the excursion fleet at the outer mark, gave her a rousing reception.

The Shamrock was already hopelessly beaten. A quarter of a mile from the home run the Columbia crossed the path of the Shamrock still beating to windward and robbed her of the wind for a minute or two as she went past. windward, and robbed her of the wind for a minute or two as she went past. It was nine minutes and forty seconds later when the Shamrock swung round the mark and squared away for the finish. From that time on it was simply a procession, the Columbia re-ceiving a great ovation as she crossed the finish line. When the Colum-

The elapsed time of the Columbia from the outer mark to the finish was two hours 6 minutes and 40 seconds; Shamrock, 2 hours, 7 minutes 2 seconds, showing that in the fifteen mile run before the wind Columbia had gained 22 seconds.

After the race, while the yachts were being towed back to their moorings, Sir Thomas Lipton's steam yacht Erin ranged up alongside Columbia. In St. Peter's church, Raleigh, and the Tilbury Roman Catholic church statues are being erected to St. An-thony. The Rev. Fr. De Paul, of St. Joseph's parish, has been selected to deliver the discouse at the dedication of both statues. Lajoie's Annual, a compendium of moders medicine, pays a tribute to one of Chatham's medical men, Dr. McKeough, in that it quotes his writings as authority on several medical topics. This is an honor of which Dr. McKeough and his friends should feel justly proud.

Peter Doyle, of Chatham township, and Miss Elsie, daughter of Jos. Woods, of the same township, were united it marriage at St. Joseph's church this morning. The bride was supported by Miss Annie Gallagher, and the best man was John McCart, of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father de Paul. Miss Woods is a recent convert.

Before marriage most men are far-sighted. They see good qualities that their sweetheats don't possess. Then they become near-sighted by fail ing to see the good qualities their wives possess after marriage. Near-sighted, far-sighted, before and after marriage, if you need glasses call on E. J. MacIntyre, leading optician, opposite Grand Opera House, Ohatham "The first thing the civic manufacturing committee should take up, if they want to boom this city is the question of natural gas," said Detec-tive Archie Skirving. "Now I have been talking to the experts down at Ruthven, and they tell me there is no question of natural gas being found here. They say you can get it without fail by boring anywhere in Chatham or about it. Now, what puzzles me is why don't the citizens take the matter up. Get your natural gas and the things will come themselves.

THE MALARIAL MOSQUITO Remarkable Results of the Investigations in Africa

London, Oct. 15. — Major Ross, the discoverer of the malarial mosquito, who has just returned from Africa, says that although his investigations only proceeded six weeks, the results were remarkable. The authorities in were remarkable. The authorities in Sierra Leone, acting on his advice, are now destroying the virulent mosquito by every means in their power. In the judgment of Major Ross, the future of the West Coast will be assured as soon as the colonial authorities take similar steps in the neighborhood of the principal towns, although years must elapse before the inland stations are improved.
