DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

In Trinity church school house yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Cummings, of Toronto, a leading worker in missions, addressed a number of ladies of the W. A. of Trinity church.

Mrs. Cummings showed that there were 740 branches of the Women's Auxiliary in Canada, having a membership in all of about 17,000. A sum of $45,000 was collected in the past year, and devoted to missionary work.

It is probable that Bishop Kingston will soon be asked to call a meeting for the purpose of organizing a diocesan women's auxiliary.

ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 19, 1908.

THE ALASKAN DECISION.

In the matter of arbitration Canada can receive fairer treatment from any nation on earth than Great Britain. That is not because British statesmen desire to be unfair, but because they are too inclined to overlook Canada's interests in consulting those of Britain. They look upon Canada as a dependency of Great Britain and in matters of international import, think nothing of sacrificing her interests when they judge that the greater interests of the Empire will be better served by such a sacrifice.

Especially does Britain desire the friendship of the United States and most laudable in every effort she can put forth to cement that friendship. But she acts unwisely, when, in making those efforts, she forgets the fact that Canadians, though loyal to Britain, consider that their country has rights as a sovereign state which should not be infringed upon for any reason without their permission.

In the Alaskan boundary commission it was a foregone conclusion that the whole settlement hung on the decision of Lord Alverstone. The three American commissioners were too convinced of the justice of their claims to be easily open to argument and Lord Alverstone's concurrence was necessary before the Canadian commissioners could even tie the vote. A perusal of the arguments made before the commission cannot but convince the opinion-minded that Canada's case on several of the points was the stronger and Canadians will be slow to believe that Lord Alverstone's decision in favor of the States, if the report that he has so decided be true, was not influenced a little by the fear of affecting the cordial relations between Britain and the States by an adverse judgment.

AN IDIOTIC POLICY.

An example of retaliation that affects the retailer more than the object aimed at, is provided in the surtax with which Mr. Fielding proposed to punish the presumption of the Germans for their discrimination against Canadian goods. The provocation was great and the object undoubtedly a good one, but the means taken were idiotic. The new duty imposes a high tax on goods which Canada wants and which only Germany can provide, so the inevitable result is that the goods are still coming in and the Canadian consumer is paying a considerably higher price for them. There are many articles of German manufacture which are also made by other nations and a discriminating tax on these would have met with little objection. Canada's present policy reminds one of that remarkable individual who to spite his face proceeded to amputate his nose.

FABIAN LEAGUE.

The Fabian League, which holds its annual meeting this evening, is an organization which so far has failed to make good the promise with which it began. The reason is not clearly in evidence. It certainly does not lie in its object which is most laudable:—

"The study of all questions arising between capital and labor, the free discussion of economic problems, such as old age pensions, living wage legislation, civil ownership of public utilities, government ownership of railroads and telegraphs, and the propagation of all ideas that tend to lighten the toil, promote the welfare and elevate the social and moral conditions of the people."

Besides the abstract discussion of these subjects so important to modern living, the league has interested itself toward procuring legislation for compulsory education, for the prevention of the employment of children in our factories, for the remission of the tax on small incomes, and for the protection of employees in various departments of labor. The men behind the league have worked hard, but in spite of the natural interest these matters would seem to have for the working man, he refuses to be interested in the league.

But the leaders are not disappointed and propose to go to work this winter with more energy than before. Considering the worth of their object and the efforts they have already put forth it is to be hoped that the confidence and support of the working men, in whose interest the society was founded, and without whose co-operation it cannot exist as a useful body, will be accorded with greater unanimity than heretofore.

THE COST OF LIVING.

The Montreal Gazette has gathered the following figures regarding the cost of living in various countries:

The average wage per week in the United States is $11.25, and the average expenditure is $8.10, leaving a margin of 2.15. Then there is a very considerable drop. The Frenchman is next best off after he has settled his weekly bill. He has $1.58 left from wages of $5.50. He has this respectable balance because he lives cheaply. He enjoys but few of the luxuries the United States workman considers as every-day things. The British workman follows. His balance is $1.37 out of an average wage of $3.25. He gets about as much for his expenditure as any one but no one will argue that he is as well housed as he might be, and that some of the things he would appreciate daily only figure in his bill of fare on rare occasions. Then there is another considerable drop. The German workman has only $1.07 left. His living expenses are the lowest of any, being only $2.75 per week, and the standard is fairly well indicated by the amount. The Belgian finishes the week with only 23 cents, and the Swiss has only 25 cents left, both receiving a little more weekly than the German, but losing it all in the high cost of living.

The senate has thoroughly identified itself with the machine. The work of reforming that one-time honorable body has been well done, and it can now be guaranteed not to balk at anything bearing the government mark. Though its action on the G. T. P. business was partly expected, the news of the passage of the bill on the second reading came as a shock to those who have heretofore upheld the worth and usefulness of the Upper House.

The Star commends to the minister of militia the statements made by the leading militia officers of this city, published in its edition of Saturday. The necessity of a new drill shed here is undoubted and the arguments advanced in favor of its erection in a central location are incontrovertible. The militia must be kept up to a first-class standard, which under present conditions is impossible.

"The liberal party press is united on the merits of the measure," says the Globe, referring to the G. T. P. deal. This summary dismissal from the party of the Telegraph, the Montreal Witness, the Charlottetown Guardian and a number of other papers, for continuing in the stand taken some months ago by the Globe is rather merciless, to say the least.

It has not yet been explained why the I. C. R. could not load those two Allan boats at St. John as well as at Halifax. In this connection, it would be interesting to know what Mr. Hugh Allan really thinks of the business men of this city.

TO R. L. S.

By Henry Johnston.

O gallant heart and gallant pen,
Rich nature, finely strung,
A child with charm, with men,
Endeared to old and young.

Your love, embracing all mankind,
Your hate and scorn of wrong—
Where may we hope their match to find,
Though late we search and long?

Until your life, a rounded whole,
Went downward into dust,
You never drew your singing-stole,
Nor falsified your trust.

Sleep well; about your resting-grave
The winds are breathing free,
While far below, in wave on wave,
Breaks your beloved sea.

WANTED—A case of Headache that KUMFORT Powder will not cure in ten to twenty minutes.

ST. JOHN LIFE SAVERS.

New Lifeboat Did Grand Work in Yesterday's Terrible Storm—Considerable Damage.

The storm which prevailed during Saturday night and yesterday caused considerable damage about the harbor. The wind was strongest at eight o'clock on Saturday, when it blew at the rate of 45 miles an hour, afterwards decreasing, but varying between 30 and 40 miles, until late evening. During the 24 hours 1-4 inches of rain fell.

Down at Broadview beach, the bathing houses were damaged by floating timber from the I. C. R. extension. Yesterday a number of men were at work trying to prevent further damage.

The schooner Edna, bound for New York, found the weather on Saturday too rough for navigation and came to anchor two miles south of Partridge Island. Her anchors dragged and the schooner was driven towards the Red Head shore. About seven yesterday morning, the Edna brought up off the bank, but shortly afterwards moved again. At daylight, Capt. Donovan displayed signals of distress, which were seen from the city. Fred Lahey, Edward Lahey, Harry Spears, James Murray, Edward Murray, John Leary, Thomas Collins, John Miller and Daniel McDermott launched the new lifeboat, and at the risk of their lives went to the assistance of the six men clinging to the crew of the Edna. After an hour and a half's hard rowing through the storm, the boat reached the shore and with some further difficulty managed to remove the crew to Partridge Island, where all were made comfortable by Edward Kelly. About 3 p. m. Capt. Donovan decided that as the weather had moderated he would return to his vessel. The lifeboat crew accordingly put the seamen back on the Edna and returned to the city. The schooner is not injured.

Capt. Donovan has thanked the lifeboat crew through Consul Myers, and it is probable that the U. S. state department will make some recognition of the services performed.

Dr. March's yacht, the Clymene, broke from her moorings at Reed's Point yesterday, and had a narrow escape from destruction. Everything movable about the hull of the Laka Superior has been swept away. The Neptune Club boat house broke loose and was somewhat battered. A chimney on the Maritime Navi Works was blown down. Trees were broken and fences demolished in all parts of the city.

Barn Blown Down.

SUSSEX, N. B., Oct. 18.—Gideon McLeod, of Penobscot, met with a serious loss this morning, when his fine, large barn collapsed near the centre, killing ten or twelve of his best cows and seriously injuring more.

There were twenty-seven head of cattle in the barn at the time. The heavy gale this morning is thought to have spread the beams, causing the scaffold overhead the cattle to fall.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Fishing arrived Saturday afternoon from Parrishore with barge No. 1, cool laden.

Sch. Nellie I. White loaded, with laths, reached St. John from an up the bay port yesterday, bound to the westward. She came in for shelter.

Rev. N. H. Smith arrived from the West Saturday to enter upon his duties as pastor of the Waterloo street mission.

The smoke stack on the Maritime Navi Works was blown down about 8 o'clock Sunday morning. A chimney of the three-story wooden building on the corner of Camden and Portland streets was blown off last night.

The funeral of the late Mr. Caples which was to take place at Chapel Grove yesterday, was postponed until this morning at 1 o'clock. The river was so rough that it was not thought advisable to cross with the body.

The death took place yesterday at his residence, Portland street, of Robert McIntyre. Deceased, who was in his 54th year, was well known at one time as a ship builder. He is survived by three sons and two daughters.

No. 5 Hose Co. was called out yesterday afternoon on a still alarm for a supposed fire in a coal shed of the Maritime Navi Works. The coal had gone out and would probably have been on fire in a short time. It was moved into another place.

The Hebrew Immigration Society met at the Synagogue on Carleton street yesterday morning at 1 o'clock, and elected the following officers: Dr. Rabinowitz, president; A. S. Komien-sky, vice-president; Mr. Reigel, secretary; W. Webber, treasurer.

W. H. Thorne, Geo. McKean and George McLeod, arbitrators in the Kilgour Shives wharf dispute, with Hon. Wm. Pugsley, counsel, returned to the city Saturday. Considerable evidence was taken, but the case was not concluded and will be continued at a later date.

There will be a social in the vestry of the Lennox street church this evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Martha Clark, who has been at home on furlough for the past year, is about to return to her work in India. The reception and social is in her honor and given by the W. A. societies of St. John and Fairville. Miss Clark sails from New York on the 24th inst.

Rev. Albert Cohoe of Ontario preached his first sermon, as pastor of Brussels street Baptist church, yesterday morning. Although a very young man, he is an earnest and talented speaker, and his sermons yesterday were delivered in an eloquent and scholarly manner.

Robert McIntyre died last evening at 63 Portland street, in the 54th year of his age. He is survived, by three sons and two daughters.

Deceased had lived in the North End for practically the greater part of his life, and for years was connected with ship building. A year or so ago his brother died, who was one of the survivors of the suspension bridge disaster here many years ago.

STOLE 4,496 BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Increase of 2,016 Forgetful Members Over Last Year May Necessitate Changes in Rules.

One by one from the New York Public Library last year 4,496 books were stolen.

According to the report of the director, Dr. J. S. Billings, made at the meeting of the trustees yesterday, this is an increase in the number of thefts of 2,016 over the year previous. It may necessitate a change in the present method of disbursing books, particularly at the libraries.

Under the present methods in the branches members are allowed to go to a shelf and pick out the volume desired, with the understanding that it must be properly registered before taken away. Members only are allowed to do this, and as the number of forgetful ones appears to be increasing they may also be compelled to give up the privilege.

At the meeting also, fair progress was reported on the Bryant Park building. Marble is being received and four details of marble setters were said to be working steadily, despite labor troubles, on other important buildings.

A GOOD ACTRESS.

In giving the assurance that the cast of this year is away ahead of those of previous seasons, the management has but to point out that Ethel Brandon is now playing the part of Thelma.

How well those who have seen the finished work of this capital actress will know. Miss Brandon is a woman, the charm of whose presence will dominate any scene in which she appears. She is graceful in carriage, possesses a most musical voice, and has that winning magnetism that has endeared her to the theatre goer all over the land, but she is by no means a novice, nor does she pose for fame on the fact that she is a most superb dresser. Miss Brandon can act.

The kangaroo can jump a bit; The flea's a jumper, too— He'll jump, he'll bite, and then he'll sit.

And never leave a claw.

When either jumps, nobody tries His jumplets to pursue— We're glad the flea has not the size Of the big kangaroo.

—Chicago Tribune.

DEATHS.

THE DRILL SHED.

On Saturday the Star published a number of opinions on the proposed new drill shed. The following is from a prominent officer of the city militia: "I think a drill shed should be built up town. There are many drawbacks to the present location. It is at the extreme end of the town, which is geographically impossible ever to become central. The locality through which the men have to pass to reach it is objectionable. It takes considerable time for the men to get there from their homes, and an equal time to return. It is out of the way for persons who care to look on, but one chief point is the difficulty in holding a night street parade in addition to the ordinary work. There is nothing attractive or to be gained by marching in the dark with nobody looking on. What first induces the young soldier to do his best is the pleasure of the commanding officer and the onlookers. To get the corps into the centre of the town, where the streets are well lighted, requires the individual to walk to the drill shed, in many cases long distances. Then the corps marches half a mile through empty streets to the centre and by the time they march through the better lighted part of the town is done and the men march back to the drill shed the individual walk to the soldier's home makes a long distance to be covered, and no time is left for any other drill. These marches out in well lighted and crowded streets have in view an additional object besides that mentioned. This is recruiting. It seems necessary to keep a corps before the public in order to easily fill the ranks. As to the clubroom features of a centrally situated drill shed, I do not approve of these. I have always thought that men ought to be willing to join the militia without such attractions, which are generally connected with objectionable features and especially with late hours. Men who have to be at their work at 6 a. m. in the morning ought to get home at a reasonable hour. I think a site could be obtained in a locality sufficiently central to meet the requirements of St. John for many years."
