General Assembly Pays Honor to King George on Occasion of His Forty-fifth Birthday

Resounding Chorus Responds to Call of Chairman for Singing of National Anthem.

Message Sent to Under Secretary of State for Colonies for Transmission to King.

Session Largely Devoted to College Reports—Lively Debate Over Appointment of Prof. Kent

HIS MAJESTY KING GEORGE V., WHO ENTERS UPON HIS FORTY-SIXTH YEAR TODAY.

Special to The Standard. Halifax, N. S., June 3.—The "galleries" are enthusiastic in testimony that the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in Canada is able to make "missions" interesting. Even old St. Matthews has never seen the scene of meetings, whatever their character, that made a deeper impression upon those present than the meeting of last evening.

But the outlook was not discouraging, the debt of $19,000, with which the preceding year closed, having been wiped out with the exception of $600. The receipts from congregational show a large increase, $35,420, against $21,275.

The honor, Lieut. Governor Fraser, then moved the adoption of a resolution to the effect that the following telegram be sent to the under secretary of state for the colonies:

In moving the resolution His Honor referred to a day when in his own words, "our forefathers came to the king to ask for their rights. Ourselves they were granted, but the king broke faith with them. Happily those days are past."

The passing of the resolution was as genuine and loyal as the unanimity of the gathering, to quote the moderator, Dr. McCurdy presented the report of the foreign mission committee, eastern section. The fields under the jurisdiction, said he, were not many, nor large, but widely scattered. With almost unqualified truth it may be said that "Upon the field the sun," as upon the British Empire, "never set."

PERSECUTION IN RUSSIA

All Jews Engaged In Drug Business Subject To Strict Inspection—Expelled On Merest Pretext.

St. Petersburg, June 3.—In furtherance of its purpose to drive back into the Pale—the district formed by the Polish provinces and the Ukraine—all Jews who cannot establish a legal right of residence outside its confines, the Russian government is now pursuing a close inquiry regarding those engaged in the drug business or who claim to be so engaged.

The proprietors of the drug stores, as well as salesmen for druggushes, travelling in the interior, are now called upon not only to exhibit pharmaceutical certificates, but to satisfy the authorities that they are actively occupied with the business for which they are licensed.

These certificates are rather easily obtained and are held generally by drug store employees and those travelling as salesmen, many Jews it is claimed by the government, have established residences on the strength of their certificates and subsequently ceased to follow the profession or business. All such are now subjected to expulsion.

The report was not formal, the doctor summarizing in an interesting way what had in a general way, been accomplished during the year in an eloquent recital. This was especially true of the description of the educational work. The expenditure of the year was a little over $83,000, not quite met by receipts, the amount of year was a little over $82,000, not the committee hesitated to pass all the estimates received from the various mission centers.

Debt Wiped Out. But the outlook was not discouraging, the debt of $19,000, with which the preceding year closed, having been wiped out with the exception of $600. The receipts from congregational show a large increase, $35,420, against $21,275.

A resolution was, in conclusion, moved by Dr. McCurdy, providing for due regard by the church to the claims of this vitally important work.

An interesting fact brought out by the doctor was that the committee of the church in Canada sends loyal greetings to their sovereign lord, King George V.

Dr. Buchanan, of the mission field in India was the next speaker. He is delegated by the fifth general assembly of the church in India, and gave most interesting accounts of what is being accomplished there.

The proprietors of the drug stores, as well as salesmen for druggushes, travelling in the interior, are now called upon not only to exhibit pharmaceutical certificates, but to satisfy the authorities that they are actively occupied with the business for which they are licensed.

State department officials are elated at the success of the joint offer of mediation which was proposed by Secretary Knox.

Dr. Clarke paid a fine tribute to the Chinese character, and designated the present time as the time of the church's opportunity—opportunity which no words can picture adequately.

HAVEMEYER RESPONSIBLE FOR FRAUDS

Heike On Stand In Own Defence Testifies That Late Head of Sugar Trust Was Guilty Party.

LETTER PRODUCED TO SHOW INNOCENCE

New York, June 3.—Testimony which led direct to the grave of Henry O. Havemeyer, late head of the American Sugar Refining Company, was given on the witness stand today by Chas. R. Heike, secretary of the company, who is charged with conspiring to defraud the government on under-weights of sugar. Heike's defence opened today, and his counsel tried to shift all responsibility for the conduct of the company's affair upon its late president.

Hitherto, in the defence of Ernest W. Gerbracht, superintendent of the company's Williamsburg (Brooklyn) refinery, and James F. Bendernagel, former cashier, who are also on trial, only hints were made in Havemeyer's direction. But Heike's story put the direct responsibility upon his dead chief.

George S. Graham who made the opening address for Heike said he regretted bringing discredit upon a man now dead, but circumstances of the case demanded it. Heike, he said, was at a period in life when a prison sentence, even if short, would mean a life term.

It was brought out through a letter written by Havemeyer to Gerbracht that Heike called Havemeyer's attention to the "liberality" of the government sugar weighers. He denied any knowledge of the trick scales on the docks and said he did not even know the company had scales there, but thought they belonged to the government.

ALEX. JOHNSTON STILL LOOKING FOR JOB

Ex-M. P.'s Appointment As Deputy Minister Of Marine And Fisheries Hangs Fire—Will See Mr. Brodeur.

Montreal, June 3.—There is apparently a hitch over the appointment of Mr. Alex. Johnston, ex-M. P., for South Cape Breton as deputy minister of marine and fisheries, in place of Mr. Desharats, the former deputy who is now deputy head of the naval department. It was reported some weeks ago that Mr. Johnston had been appointed but no order-in-council has yet been signed to that effect. Mr. Johnston was in the city tonight and stated that his appointment had not yet gone through. He will see Mr. Brodeur here tomorrow.

The Tessiers are descendant from patriot stock, two of his maternal grand uncles having given up their lives in the defence of their country in the battle of St. Denis in 1837. It was during this battle that his mother was born in the woods three miles from St. Denis, the women and children having been removed there for safety.

ROOSEVELT ACCUSED OF COMPLICITY

Radical Paper Charges That Guildhall Speech Was Inspired By Reactionaries Who Desire Gorst's Recall.

EX-PRESIDENT STANDS BY SENTIMENTALITY

London, June 4.—The Times this morning publishes a letter from Mr. Roosevelt, written in reply to a correspondent who requested him to substitute the word "sentimentality" for "sentimentality" which he used in his address at the Guild Hall last Tuesday when the freedom of the city was conferred upon him.

Mr. Roosevelt in his speech was analyzing British rule in Egypt. He said he declared had given Egypt the best government the country had had in 2,000 years, but in certain vital points it had erred.

"Those who have to do with uncivilized peoples, especially fanatical peoples," he said, "must remember that in such a situation as that which faces you in Egypt, weakness, timidity and sentimentality may cause infinitely more harm than violence and injustice. Sentimentality is the most broken reed on which righteousness can lean."

To the objector to the word sentimentality Mr. Roosevelt writes: "Dear Sir—I regard sentiment as the exact antithesis of sentimentality and to substitute sentiment for sentimentality in my speech would directly invert my meaning. I abhor sentimentality, and on the other hand, think no man worth his salt who isn't profoundly influenced by sentiment and who does not shape his life in accordance with a high ideal."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT." The Leader's Comment. In commenting on the speech the Leader, which to a large extent represents the Labor party, says: "Mr. Roosevelt's references to Egypt at the Guildhall on Tuesday were worse than an impertinence; they were a breach of good taste and good manners."

"For the first time probably in history a distinguished foreign visitor at a non-party function meant to do him honor has gone out of his way to take sides in a question of foreign policy upon which opinion in this country is sharply divided."

"It is known that in financial circles there is a move on to secure the recall of Sir Eldon Gorst (British agent in Egypt) who being a man of honor, as well as a great administrator, is seeking to enlist the active support of the educated class in Egypt in carrying on the government of the country in fulfillment of the pledges of a most solemn kind again and again repeated. For this he has incurred the displeasure and active hostility of the stock exchange and reactionary forces generally, and the thinly veiled attack made by Mr. Roosevelt upon Sir Eldon Gorst's administration must have been inspired by the vampire."

"His references to the Nationalist Party and to the reasons for our being in Egypt betray such colossal ignorance as to put Mr. Roosevelt out of court as a serious guide, but, apart from this, it is intolerable that a man from this, is it incredible that a man from this, is it intolerable that a man who has been President of the United States of America, and may be so again, should be allowed to interfere in our foreign politics, and use a position of public privilege to wound out of them a valuable servant of the state with whose policy he does not happen to agree."

"When the German Emperor expressed an opinion concerning our navy in his speech to the late Lord Tweedmouth there was a tremendous outburst of public indignation. This blazing indiscretion of Mr. Roosevelt cannot be allowed to pass without being challenged."

STOCK MARKET TAKES HYSTERICAL TURN

New York, N. Y., June 3.—They had an almost hysterical time of it on the New York stock market and there were periods when the market bordered on complete demoralization.
