Robert Godsoe, a young man about 28 years of age, belonging to this city, was picked from the roadside at Nauyasawak, last evening, and brought to the city he showed no outward signs of injury and it was thought that the man had been drugged. It was learned at the hospital, however, that he was not of sound mind.

FATHER CONWAY GOING TO CHAPMAN PARISH

Popular Assistant at Cathedral to Succeed Father Hannington — Was Eloquent Preacher.

It will be learned with regret, especially by the members of the Cathedral congregation, that Rev. E. J. Conway is to leave the city. He has been appointed to the charge of Chapman parish, Queens county, which includes Minto, Newcastle and Young's Cove, and he will leave next week to take up his new work. Father Conway succeeds Father Hannigan, who, in turn, succeeds Father Porter at St. Mary's, Kent. Father Conway is an eloquent and forceful preacher, very active in good works, and deeply interested especially in aiding the young men. In this connection his work as spiritual adviser of the Young Men's Society of St. Joseph has been very effective. Throughout the city he is held in high esteem and he will be followed with all good wishes to his new field of labor.

Mrs. Jane Lynch. The funeral of Mrs. Jane Lynch took place at 2.30 o'clock from Messrs. Fitzpatrick's undertaking rooms to the Cathedral. Burial service was read by Rev. Miles Howland. Interment was at Sand Cove.

NO MORE ENGLISH FARMERS' CABLE FOR BRUNSWICK

Secretary Gilchrist, of Farm Settlement Board, Receives Cablegrams Asking for Reservation of Large Areas—Beneficial Act Proves Great Boon to New Brunswick.

Two cablegrams from England were received yesterday by the secretary of the Farm Settlement Board asking for reservations of farms held by the board for new settlers. In both cases the farms asked for were large, and evidently the parties wanting them are men of considerable capital. Mr. Gilchrist said yesterday that the number of enquiries for farms under the Settlement Act coming in from the Old Country was increasing rapidly, and that the indications were that next year the board would have its work cut out finding ready-made farms to meet the demand.

DESPATCHING BY TELEPHONE ON THE I.C.R.

Government will Install System on Line Between St. John and Moncton — Building New Stations.

The I. C. R. is making arrangements for the installation of a telephone train despatching system on the St. John and Moncton sections. Tenders are being invited for the running of two copper wires between St. John and Moncton, with telephones in the despatchers' offices and in each station along the line between the two cities.

The I. C. R. has not yet tried the system of train despatching by telephones and the installation on the line between St. John and Moncton will be the first experiment in this direction. The C. P. R. has tried the telephone system at the St. John end of its line, and also on its Lake Superior section, and the results have been so successful that the government has been satisfied that it is desirable to introduce the telephone system on the I. C. R. After a trial on this section it is likely the telephone system will be extended to other sections of the government-owned road.

In addition to this change the I. C. R. is arranging for the installation of the automatic block system between St. John and Moncton, and on other sections of the road. When Mr. Gutelius took charge of the I. C. R. it was announced that there would be a grade revision of the entire road, and a start will be made on the Cape Breton section as soon as the necessary expenditure is authorized. Surveys are now being made between River du Loup and St. Flavie where the grades are heavy, and at other places. In the meantime the government is building new stations at Bathurst, Sussex and Truro. The station at Truro will be one of the finest in the Dominion.

DIG INCREASE NEW SETTLERS

1,100 Farmers Have Been Located in Province During Past Year.

MANY POSSESS FAIR AMOUNT OF CAPITAL

Provincial Immigration Authorities very Successful in Efforts—Old Country Men in Majority.

So far this year the Provincial Immigration Department has located 1,100 new settlers in New Brunswick. As compared with the preceding year this shows a considerable increase in the stream of immigration to the province. In 1912 the total number of immigrants settling in the province was a little over 800. The aim of the department has been to bring out people who will settle on the land, and stay here. Officials of the department say a large percentage of those brought out recently have been old country farmers with a fair amount of capital, and that the amount of wealth added to the province by immigration this year will run well into the hundreds of thousands.

In pursuance of its policy of securing farmers who are likely to take up land in the province, the immigration department has shown considerable care in the selection of the immigrants, and has avoided the methods adopted by some of the western provinces, whose sole aim has been to pump in immigrants regardless of what might become of them. In practically every case the provincial immigration authorities have undertaken to find farms for new settlers who wanted them, or to provide employment for those who wanted experience before deciding to take up farms on their own account. Every effort has been made to give the intending immigrants a fair impression of conditions here, and avoid the possibility of giving the province any undesirable advertisement. As a result of this policy the men who have located here have not been disappointed, and the letters they write to the immigration officials indicate that they are satisfied with the conditions and prospects, and will become good publicity agents through their letters to friends in the old country.

Since the Hazen-Flemming government came into power and inaugurated a live immigration policy the number of immigrants coming to the province has been increasing every year, and as great care has been devoted to the problem of assimilating them the number is likely to increase at a more rapid rate in the future.
