

ANOTHER SCENE OF DISORDER
OCCURRED ON FORT
HOWE.

Evangelist Louis J. King, the reformed Catholic, held forth on Fort Howe Sunday afternoon, and, as on the previous Sunday, there was almost a riot.

On Saturday and Sunday morning he evangelized as requested by the police to discontinue the open-air services and thus avert trouble; however, he did not heed the request, and Sunday morning crowds of people, who expected trouble, were on Fort Howe. At 2:30 o'clock the estimate was that there was about 2,000 men, women and children on the spot. About this time King and a few followers, of both sex, arrived. A large rock, which is generally used by the evangelist as a platform, was thrown by some boys who refused to move away.

On the whole the scene was a very disgraceful one for a Sunday afternoon and the prominent part that a civic official took in leading the disturbance should be looked into. These services should be discontinued, the evangelist given proper police protection or the result will be a fight in which loss of life may occur.

Stock Being Bought Up—Commercial Hotel to be Enlarged—Hay Crop Good—A Pork Factory Talked of.

A London letter states that probably no woman living has so many friends who know something about her as Mrs. Alexander. Her name is known to almost everything like a million readers in the United States in the course of the last generation or two, and much has been said about her. It is true that nothing has been written of her personally. Outside of the stipulations of her will, she has never been mentioned. It is said to resemble Queen Victoria as much as a lively, quick-witted woman of forty-four could resemble a Teutonic monarch. Eighty. Mrs. Alexander spends most of her time at her desk, writing away cheerfully as if she did not know that she was writing. She goes where she wanted anything, and for several years she has been almost constantly in the United States. She writes with pen and ink and some typewriters and stenographers. When asked how many novels she had written, she said she was not quite sure what the total number was—thirty-three or thirty-five. Mrs. Alexander's husband died in 1892, and she has since lived at home in Simla and Bombay as he was in London. At one time he was engaged in railroad construction in the district of the Punjab. Mrs. Alexander has a garden at Eden. Mrs. Alexander has a son who is in the Far East and a daughter who is in the East. She has a French army, now in Dahomey. Another daughter is Elder Hagard's secretary and general assistant, and the youngest

The Journey of Womanhood.

When a young girl develops the first symptoms of womanhood, it is said that she is starting alone upon a strange journey beset with rough and dangerous paths. A wise and loving mother will not neglect the delicacy to prevent her from giving her daughter the plainest information and advice at this critical stage of her existence.

Young girls suffer a vast amount of unnecessary pain and misery for lack of frank and honest and congenial information in their physical selves.

The special weaknesses and diseases in women's organic development are completely and permanently remedied by "Fierce's Prescription" prepared by Dr. R. V. Fierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

More than 50,000 cases of obstinate female difficulties have been absolutely cured by this wonderful "Prescription." It heals the strengths and completely rejuvenates the nerves and nerve-centers of the feminine organism. It is the only medicine devised for this special purpose by a regularly graduated experienced physician. It is the one authorized preparation which may be safely used without a doctor's care.

Mothers and daughters may consult Dr. Fierce's Prescription by letter with the same absolute confidence. Their letters will be answered now by a woman nurse, and by an educated and skilled physician. Dr. Fierce's Medical Adviser will be sent free by mail at one-cent stamps, and will show the cost of customs and mailing only.

Mrs. Edith Calk, of Clinton, Allegany Co., N. Y., writes: "I take pleasure in writing of my health in your 'Fierce's Prescription.' After two months of use, my nerves are strong, my blood and system and now I am entirely cured. I had been a trouble-maker for some time, and now I am as well as ever. I have a troublesome drain on the head, and I am now as well as ever. I have been healed and I can heartily recommend Dr. Fierce's Fierce's Prescription."

ANARCHISTS AND SOCIALISTS KILL AND DESTROY IN PARIS.

PARIS, Aug. 20—Paris was today the scene of most serious disturbances, recalling some aspects of the Commune. In response to an appeal of the journals Le Peuple and La Petite Republique groups of Anarchists and Socialists gathered about 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Place de la Republique.

The police had taken precautions and there seemed no danger of disorder. Sebastian Faure and Faberot, well known revolutionary Anarchists, were among the ringleaders. Faure, standing on the pedestal of the statue which rises in the centre of the place De La Republique, addressed the crowd. Among other things he said that the Anarchists should be masters of the streets. The police then interfered and dislodged Faure and Faberot, making three arrests.

The crowd at this point dispersed, but a column of demonstrators, headed by Faure and Henri D'Horr, made for the Place de la Nation.

The police broke through the column and a struggle for the mastery followed. Shots were fired and M. Coullier, commissary of police, was stabbed with a knife. This threw the police into momentary confusion. The mob reassembled and ran toward the Place de la Nation. The police, reinforced by a squad that had been in the reserve, made another attempt to stem the current, and fresh fire fighting occurred, three civilians being wounded.

Paul and D'Ann jumped into a passing street car that was going to the depot. The Sepaths and the driver on arriving there, gave a signal to the police, who immediately arrested the two fugitives. The police then searched all were conveyed to the District Jail. All barracks. Only D'Ann was released. The Sepaths were not released. In the meantime the Asarambist mob retreated its course to the Place De La Republique, smashing the windows of the shops and the houses. Suddenly, either at the word of command or in obedience to impulse, the mob rushed to the church of St. Ambrose, where the rioters smashed the windows. The mob then proceeded to the Fairground De Temple, which they reached at the corner of Rue Darboy and the Boulevard de la Chapelle. They then jumped into a compact body. Hatches were suddenly produced with long knives and the crowd was then a scene of concentrated rush was made upon the church of St. Joseph. The rioters, seeing the mob, immediately closed the outer gate, but this was soon forced with hatches and bars and the rioters then entered the church and then attached.

According to the first account the wild Aorde burst into the church, which in the confusion of the night they set on fire. Allars, fonts and statues were hurled to the floor and smashed; pictures were rent; candlesticks, ornaments and crucifixes were broken to pieces. The brown doors and trampled underfoot. The crucifix above was made the target of missiles and the figure of the Saviour was trampled in the place of the Virgin. While confusion reigned the "Carle magne" of the choir were carried outside, piled up and set on fire in the centre of the square fronting the church. The crucifix was pulled down and thrown into the flames. Suddenly a cry was raised that the statue of the Virgin had been rescued. The crowd returned and from this door the

Meanwhile the Secretaries, who had been captured by Anarchists, and called out by the police and Republican Guards, who promptly arrived with many constables. The police constables in each building were ordered to form up in line of defence, as the Anarchists attacked them fearfully with knives.

The officers began to gain the mastery. A score of Anarchists took refuge in adjacent houses. Others were driven out of their hiding places and fiercely defended themselves by throwing missiles on the Republican guard, but finally these were dislodged. The police then entered the houses taken to the police station, searched and found to be carrying revolvers, loaded with bullets.

When the police entered the church the Anarchists had just set fire to the interior. The interior of the edifice was a mass of flames and billowing clouds of smoke. The police, who had no old pictures, that can never be replaced, were ruined.

At 4 A.M. Jacob had been driven away from the cathedral, the incumbent, collected the fragments of the sacrament and released them in the ciborium. As he did so he uttered a bitter lamentation.

The people living in the houses nearby extinguished the bonfire.

At 5 o'clock (the night)—Since 3 o'clock the demonstrators, as far as Gare de L'Est, have been repeatedly driven back by police charges, and the shouting, "Vive l'armée" and "Vive la république."

The police also dispersed a crowd of demonstrators who were burning boulevards newspapers.

About 10 o'clock disorders occurred on the boulevard De Magenta, and boulevards De la Chapelle and de Valenciennes were fired, but nobody was injured.

Two newspaper stands were burned and the demonstrators were in connection with it.

PARI8, Aug. 21—1 p. m.—Up to the present hour 50 persons have been reported killed, and 100 wounded.

No one so far as known, was injured by freezings. Nearly all were hurt by being crushed or trodden under foot, and by being run over by automobiles in the courtyard of the Gare De L'Est.

PARIS, Aug. 21, 1 a. m.—Shortly after midnight noisy crowds began demonstrating in the Rue De Chabrot, but they were soon dispersed by the police.

Your correspondent was informed by an officer of the York and Carleton County Railway Co., that provided the local government renewed the subsidy for the branch line from Cross Creek to Starley, that work would be immediately begun on that section, and an attempt made to have the grading done before winter set in.

All the schools in this section reopened for the summer term on Monday. Very few changes have been made in the teaching staff of the various schools. Mr. John McKinnon, a highly respected resident of Tay Creek, died very suddenly on Monday, the 7th inst., of inflammation of the bowels.

Believed the Bank Robbers Who Cracked the Standard Bank Are in Jail.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 16.—Chief Genest, of the Hull police, claims to have solved the mystery of the Standard Bank robbery, which occurred in Bowmanville last May. The suspected bank robbers are now in the hands of the Hull police.

On May 13th a gang of six robbers stole $11,000 from the Standard Bank of Canada. The night watchman saw six men enter the bank and saw them leave with some of the men if ever he saw them again. A reward of $500 was offered for their capture. A gang of tramps was arrested by the Hull police some time ago, and Chief Genesee took them to the bank authorities so that they might be the bank robbers. He worked on the quiet for three months. The tramps were photographed and their fingerprints taken by the bank authorities. Some of the fellows were identified by the watchman. They are James Colquhoun, George, John Murray, Wm. McLaughlin, John McLaughlin, John, Wm. Bilmore, Patrick K. McLaughlin, John Logan, Wm. Johnson, Richard Wilson and Thos. Clifford. Parties from the Hull police are working hard to make a more complete identification of the men.

The young Queen of Holland is 5 feet 4 1/2 inches tall, her shoulders are 42 inches, her waist measure is 21 1/2 inches, while her hips measure only one inch less than her bust. The Queen of England only surpasses the Queen of Holland in her bust measure, the 18-year-old monarch being 42 inches, while Victoria's is 44 1/2. Of course, with these proportions, Wilhelmina is accused of being, and who, can blame her?—she is a blonde, and, like the girl in the photo: The worst of it is, at her time is sure to come when the 21 1/2 inch waist will match the hips and bust, and the hips will be as wide as the bust. So, do let her majesty enjoy her very height and girlish waistline as long as she can. Figures, even with the most delicate, will vanish with age, and then the cost of mawkish
