successful and enjoyable yet experienced by members of the McIlwraith Ornithological Club. The composite list of birds observed is published herewith, and totals 179. Several of the members individually saw over 160 species, but a list such as that may only be obtained by one who is willing to spend considerable time afield, and during April and May, to forego those extra "forty winks" in the morning, rising with the break of day to spend the early hours in some favorite woods or swamp.

The good luck, if such it may be called, which followed the club during the season, was manifest quite early in the year, for on the usual New Year's Day trip from Hyde Park to the city the members noted no less than 24 species, which is about double the usual species, which is about double the usual number. The success or failure in making a "big list" for the year is in no small degree dependent upon the winter birds. Many of these are rare and most of them irregular in their habits, some years invading the south in force and other seasons being entirely absent.

The Crossbills.

Among these might be mentioned the Crossbills, peculiar birds the mandibles of whose bills do not meet evenly, but cross as their name suggests. The projecting points, however, are found most convenient for extracting the seeds from the hemlock cones, which is their principal food in winter. There are two varieties, the American or Red Crossbill. Both were seen New Year's Day (1920), it being the first and also the last appearance of the latter, which is somewhat the rarer of the two. The Red Crossbill, however, stayed around until the middle of May, being seen at different times and in a variety of places.

Another Group.

Another Group.

Another Group.

Another group of winter birds are the Grosbeaks. There are two varieties of these also, the Pine Grosbeak and the Evening Grosbeak. The former visits us in small numbers almost every year, but until quite recently the latter was a decidedly rare bird, and its occurrence was considered the event of the season. The seeds of the Manitoba maple are a great attraction to them, and in 1911 a large flock spent some time in and around the Ontario Hospital grounds, where a number of those trees are growing. Their re-appearance since 1911 has each year been looked for eagerly, but not until 1920 did they really come again in numbers. They were first reported on January 5th, and remained until May 21st.

Other Winter Birds whose names may be seen on the list are: Redpoli, Pine Siskin, Brown-Capped Chickadee, Bohemian Waxwing, Northern Shrike and Snowbird, but while the winter of 1919-1920 was notable for the invasion of these northern birds, it was also remarkable for the number of species remaining over, whose members usually all leave for warmer climes before even the first snowfall. In this latter list we have the Rusty Blackbird, Fox-Colored Sparrow, Yellow-Bellied Woodpecker, Robin, White-Throated Sparrow, Red-Winged Blackbird, Black Duck, Song Sparrow, Bronzed Grackle and Kingfisher. The three first mentioned have never been reported from here in winter before, and are, therefore, new records. It seemed unusual to have so many staying over, as the weather was exceptionally severe, but it is impossible for mere humans to understand the ways of the birds. We can only study them and strive to learn what we can of their habits of life.

Rarer Birds.

Among the rarer birds seen during the spring and summer months might the spring and summer months might be mentioned the Bald Eagle, Ring-Billed Gull, Bonaparte's Gull, Yellow Rall, Least Bittern, Prothonotary Warbler, Henslow's Sparrow, Hölboell's Grebe, Short-Eared Owl, Turkey Buzzard, Long-Billed Marsh Wren and Black Tern, but it would hardly do to take time and space to mention more than their names.

The largest number of species seen on one day was eighty, on May 24th, and as it may be of interest to some these have been marked with a star on the appended list

The club appreciates very much the couriesy of the daily press in publishing the series of "Bird Notes" contributed by the club last spring, and it is possible that with their kind cooperation these may be resumed as interesting incidents come to notice from time to time.

The men taken on today were distributed over various city jobs. They will be given three days' work. Then another group will be given employment. All men wishing to obtain employment with the city must register at the city bureau, where their applications will be taken in strict numerical order. The new group will start work Saturday. All applications must be in by Friday.

Thereafter men wishing employment with the city must be at the employment offices every Tuesday and Friday.

City Engineer Brazier is expected back before the end of the week, and still more extensive public works may be started.

Montfort on December 21, 1919, was yesterday sentenced to fifteen years in enitentiary.

According to the testimony at the trial given by Paul Hecko, a boy who was arrested in Hamilton shortly after the time of the murder, and who later made a confession to the police, he and Beauregard had me Brooks at a shack at Montfort and stayed there overnight with the victim. It was on the rext morning that Beauregard shot Brooks with an automatic pistol, and later burned the shack to conceal the crime. The charred remains were later found, but it was thought that Brooks ald come to his death by overturning a lamp and being burned in his sleep.

BAVARIAN PREMIER MAY BE COMPELLED TO RESIGN OFFICE

The first part of the first pa ST. THOMAS. Feb. 8.—That a recorded expression may be given by the people on the demand of the members of the teaching staff of the collegiate for higher salaries, a plebiscite may be taken.

Owing to the serious economic conditions in the cify by reason of the practical shutting down of the shows of the Pere Marquette and M. C. R. and the loss of thousands of dollars of revenue to the city from this source, the people as a whole are not in accord with the action of some of the members of the board of education. The time, the ratepayers claim, is not opportune for the advance of salaries in any of the municipal departments.

A special meeting of the board will be called to again consider the petition of the teachers, but the temper of a few trustees will be stirred again if the staff insist upon a revision of the established schedule.

Before the teachers carry out their threat to resign because of the refusal of the board to come to their terms, the general ratepayers wish to Jegister their opinion on the matter.

BURNHAM MAKES CHARGES.
Peterboro, Feb. 9.—Today J. H. Burnham, defeated candidate in Monday's by-election in West Peterboro, reported to the chief electoral officer at Ottawa that hundreds of names had been left off the voters' lists by apparent design on the part of some of the house-to-house canvassers.

Mr. Burnham declares that some of the convassers made it a point to find out how the women intended to vote, and by the production of a typewritten piece of paper bearing the names, assured them that they were on the list. When the time came to-vote they were not off the regular lists, it is claimed. BURNHAM MAKES CHARGES.

SARNIA, Feb. 8.—The first practical steps towards carrying out its announced policy of retrenchment was taken by the city council today, when the report of the finance committee, presented by Ald. Thomas H. Cook, chairman, was adopted at a special meeting. Among other things, this report recommended that a new bylaw be prepared respecting the salaries of civic officials. When this is completed employees desiring reappointment will be required to make application in the regular way.

In view of present conditions, the housing commission will be instructed to suspend applications for loans under the housing act for the present, and the salaries of the commissioners will be suspended after March 31. This year the committee hopes to save $10,000 in salaries and wages and $25,000 in appropriations.
