Receives 35 Years' Jewel.
Mr. W. G. Kennedy, a veteran member of the Oddfellows' Order, and for 35 years a member in good standing, received the 35 years jewel last Tuesday evening from the members of Stella Lodge. This presentation of a 35-year jewel was a rare thing, and Bro. Kennedy, in acknowledging the distinction, spoke of the great benefits of the Order and gave some very timely hints to the younger members to "go and do likewise." The jewel was presented by N.
D. McCallum, P.G., the candidate being introduced by Mayor Smythe, P.G.

The Geographic Board has approved of the name Kitchener being applied to a high peak in the Rockies at the headwaters of the North Saskatchewan and Athabaska Rivers, hitherto known as Douglas. Proposals are under consideration to name a newly-explored series of high peaks on the Alberta, B.C., boundary, west of the Kananaskis Lakes, after leading Generals of the allied forces.

The Dance cards advertising Friday evening's dance fail to state that ladies are welcome. The Committee wish to make this fact clear, also that a charge of 25c will be made for spectators in the balcony.

Mr. D. B. McLaren received a letter yesterday from his son David, written on the 29th October, two days before his death, in which he stated that he was still alive and improving and hoped soon to be removed to England. His writing was natural, and there was no indication of weakness about it, and yet on the 1st November he passed over to the silent majority. A second letter, from his brother John, also in France, written the 30th, stated that everything was quiet with him but he understood David was in a very hot part of the fight, not knowing that his brother had been wounded three weeks previous.

These incidents go to show how little the soldiers know of what is doing beyond their own line in this terrible conflict.

DIED OF HIS WOUNDS

DAVID McLAREN
Son of Mr. D. B. McLaren, reeve of Beckwith, who succumbed to his wounds in France on November 1st.
The deceased was 20 years of age last August, and was a young man of perfect physique. The deceased family have the deepest sympathy in their sorrow.

Chimney Fires.
For a chimney fire a few pounds of salt thrown in at the top is probably the best handy extinguisher; but a pail of sand, earth, ashes, or even coal, will be very helpful. If a fireplace connects with the chimney, the latter materials are not desirable to use, since they are liable to scatter the burning soot into the room where the fireplace is located.

St. Andrews W.M.S. Thank Offering.
The annual thank offering meeting in connection with St. Andrews W.M.S. was held last Wednesday evening, and was largely attended. The address of the evening—a very strong one—was given by Rev. R. M. Hamilton, of the First Presbyterian Church, Brockville.
Mrs. Andrew Bell presided, Mrs. Dr.
McIntosh read the scriptures, and Mrs.
G. A. Burgess made the dedicatory prayer. Solos were rendered very pleasingly by Mrs. J. J.monds and Mr.
Berresford, the organist. The offering amounted to the handsome sum of $306.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Stanzel, At the ripe old age of 90 years.

Mrs. Stanzel, widow of the late William Stanzel, died last Wednesday evening at the ripe old age of 90 years.
The deceased lady was born in Dublin, Ireland, and came to Canada with her parents when a child of seven. She married William Stanzel, tanner and shoemaker, of Stittville, where the family lived for many years, coming to Carleton Place some 30 years ago.
During the big fire of 1873 Mr. Stanzel had his tannery destroyed, with everything else he possessed. About 18 years ago Mr. Stanzel died, since which time the aged mother has resided amongst her children, seven of whom survive.
The sons are Stephen W., shoe merchant, Richard at Lachine, and Alfred and Fred in town; the daughters are Mrs.
John Johnston and Mrs. F. Collins, town, and Mrs. J. N. Hart of Pembroke.
Mrs. Stanzel was of a retired disposition and was scarcely known outside her family and immediate neighbors. She was a member of the Anglican faith, and the funeral on Friday afternoon took place to St. James church and cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs.
Stephen Garland, Goulbourn, William and Patrick Garland, and James and Silas Alexander, of Ottawa, and Con.
Neil of Smiths Falls, all nephews.
Beautiful floral tributes adorned the casket.

Call to Self Denial and Prayer.

In accordance with the request of the finance board of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, that two weeks of self denial be observed in all congregations previous to the special offering for the budget deficit, the united congregations of Knox Church, Beckwith, and St. Paul's, Franktown, will observe this ordinance from Thursday next, Nov. 16, until Thursday, November 30, St. Andrews' Day, which anniversary will be observed by the people of these congregations as a day of humiliation and thanksgiving, fasting and prayer, with solemn devotions in their homes and churches and the bringing in of their offerings to the great cause. The period of special prayer and self denial will be ushered in by divine service in the church at Franktown, on Thursday evening of this week, at 7:30 o'clock, and a missionary thank offering meeting in Black's Corners Church, on Friday evening On St. Andrew's Day, a public service will be held in both churches, when suitable sermons will be preached and the period of special solemnity closed.
The pastor and session call upon all the people earnestly and faithfully to observe the two weeks appointed, and shall be pleased to have any other friends who may desire it, to unite with them in the exercises of this sacred duty and privilege, and to be present at the services of public worship on St.
Andrew's Day.
