snow softens the ice
 coating the tufts of grass around the tree
 stump
 and a sparrow
 huddles in a hole
 in the wood
 head under a wing

a single stalk of reed
 thrust up through
 ice
 beneath a winter sun
 in morning
 casts a perfect
 shadow
 over the snow
 crust
 straight and
 pointing
