Parliament - Bureau of

Ottawa, July 6, 1920

Dear Mr. Baldwin:

This is just a brief line to thank Mrs. Baldwin and yourself for having me in your thoughts at the time of your daughter's wedding. Our Parliament was concluding its sittings at the time your kind invitation was received. We were in session by night as well as by day, and I was obliged temporarily to forgo all correspondence, excepting that of the most pressing nature. This will explain why an immediate acknowledgment was not sent to Mrs. Baldwin and yourself.

I trust it is not too late to extend my congratulations to you both, and my best wishes to your daughter and her husband for their future happiness.

With kind regards,

Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

Mr. Elbert F. Baldwin,
The Outlook,
New York.
