

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

DECEMBER 17.

MARK XVI. 9-20.

AFTER HIS RESURRECTION.

1.—This Evangelist mentions only three appearances of Jesus to His disciples; all of which took place on the day that He rose from the dead. That there were other appearances, and some of them very important ones, we learn from various passages...

2.—To the two who were going into the country.—These are evidently the same two of whom St. Luke tells us, who were going to Emmaus (Luke xxiv. 13-35).

3.—To the eleven (Luke xxiv. 36-49; John xv. 19-23). St. Mark tells us that on this occasion He upbraided them for their unbelief in not accepting the testimony of those who had seen Him.

4.—Ver. 15, 16.—Here we have what has been most appropriately called "the great commission." Richard Watson truly says, in the sermon which he preached at the formation of the Wesleyan Missionary Society, "Every minister is by virtue of this commission to him, this charter to the human race, made a minister of man—a minister of the whole world."

5.—The United States census reports an elaborate chemical analysis of the woods of North America with reference to comparative values for fuel. The highest value is shown to be that of the mountain mahogany, a Pacific-coast tree; hickory (the shag-bark variety) stands second. Pine is placed almost as high as maple.

6.—The abolition of recess in the Albany public-schools and the change of school-hours to sessions of from 9 to half-past 11 in the morning, and from a quarter past 1 to half-past 3 in the afternoon, have proved to be so successful an experiment that the Board have made them permanent. Physical, moral, and social results have all been excellent.

7.—Various cases of poisoning from the use of perfumes have been reported in recent English journals. In one instance a little girl had bought some belladonna perfume at a bazaar, and had applied on her face. This caused a vesicular eruption, swelling, itching, and, in fact, erysipelas, which lasted for some time. The scent was made with some of the odoriferous principles of plants, these acquiring its irritating properties.

8.—In ver. 16, the condition of salvation is plainly laid down as it is in so many other places in the New Testament. But it should be noted that baptism is added to beliefs, and

9.—The Philadelphia Ledger says: "The 'red-head match' fire which caused the destruction of a traveler's valise at New Bedford, Mass., the other day, is not a singular case, by any means, of damage done by the sudden 'going off' of matches of that description. Quite recently the fireman of a seaside hotel found his trousers burning up by the 'going off' of a lot of matches in his pocket—the trousers having been hung up in a hot sleeping room over the kitchen. In this instance the fire spread to the combustibles in the room and threatened for a while to involve the hotel itself. It is dangerous under any circumstances to have or keep that kind of matches about the house, or the person, or anywhere except in a match safe."

10.—PAIN IN THE SIDE.—Mr. W. A. McMillan, Waterville, N.S., says:—"I had for ten years suffered with pain and soreness in my side, caused by a sprain or stress, and was so weak that any extra exertion would cause so much pain that I could hardly use my arm, until some sixteen years ago when suffering unusual pain from a recent stress, that I used Graham's Pain Eradicator and Pills and was completely cured by using them a few times."

not in the sense of being an essential part of the condition, but as the outward expression and sign of the faith professed. In St. Matthew's record the command to baptize is included in the commission (Matt. xxviii. 17). This shows the rite to be of universal obligation as an expression of discipleship.

WHAT IS FARMING?

It is something more than staying on a farm. It is something more than skinning the soil. It is more than selling hay or potatoes, and bulky crops unutilized. Farming is a business, a profession, a practical and scientific operation whereby the soil is used for profit, and improved under the operation. The processes of nature must be understood and worked in harmony with the chemistry of the earth and air. The processes of the elements must be understood, if not in their technical terms and language, in that sensible understanding, that common-sense way, that their own advantages and capabilities may be turned to best account.
