Nfld. Reservist Enjoys Naval Life

Portsmouth, England, Sept. 12th, 1915.

Dear Mother,—Just to say we arrived here yesterday all well. It was a pleasant surprise for us when we were called home. I think we were about the longest ship in the Navy away, we were out nearly eleven months, but it is good to old England again, we are getting seven days leave so you see all the crew can go home and see their people, all except me. I am the only one from across the "Pond," so you see it is impossible for me to do so, but we must be satisfied, if my lot is to live through this great fight I will see you all again, if not we must be satisfied. We had a fine crew on our ship, about nine hundred. We are turning over to H. M. S. "King Alfred." I am on draft for her but we do not know for sure yet if we will be sent to her or not, so I cannot send you any address, but just as soon as I know the ship I will write, we will know in a week's time. I cannot tell you anything about the war as I have not got time. Don't worry about me. Give my love to father and tell him to be of good cheer. We are not downhearted, we "got to get there." Love to everybody.

10,000 Cambridge Men Are In Khaki

London, Oct. 4.—Ten thousand Cambridge men are fighting or in training to fight, for the defence of their country. Already 470 have been killed, 7,000 have been wounded and more than 200 have won distinction in the field. These figures were given to-day, by Vice-Chancellor James, in his address at the beginning of the academical year.

The University's enrollment he said had shrunk to less than one-third its normal amount. This decrease had affected the finances of the university so gravely that it would begin the year's work with a deficit of $10,000.

A Splendid Tribute to the People of Joe Batt's Arm

(Editor Mail and Advocate)
Dear Sir,—I take the pleasure of writing to your interesting paper concerning Joe Batt's Arm, as I was there a few days ago for a load of dry fish, and I want to let the readers of The Mail and Advocate know how I was treated.

It was my first time visiting there. I could never think Joe Batt's Arm was the same as it is, for I tell you that everything seems to be on fire there. When I got near the harbor the wind was blowing out and it appeared difficult to get in. There was no one that seemed to take much notice of the vessel, because she was unknown to them, and as I had no union flag to put up, I had to hoist the flag that was never used on the people found out that we were coming for fish for the Trading Co. I had no trouble in getting a pilot and could scarcely see across the harbor for motor boats coming to help us to anchor.

I thought that they were going to tow us across the island together. I don't suppose Mr. Hancock has stopped laughing at the rate we were towed to the Union wharf. Then the work of loading began. Every man was at the job, working all night putting aboard one hundred quintals an hour, and soon we had our vessel loaded. We were ready to start the next day but the wind was blowing in the harbor a strong breeze, and we had to remain there that day. Good friends told me that when I could get an opportunity to go out to hoist my flag, they would give me all the help I needed. The next morning it being fine and wind moderate I hoisted my flag. The first that I saw was a man coming down the wharf. It was scarcely light enough to see, it was Mr. Hancock, the manager. When he got on the wharf he asked what I was doing, I said that I was preparing to leave. It wasn't long before motor boats were puffing all over the harbour.

I hope all of our Union men will take a note of those remarks and endeavor to be as good and willing as the friends at Joe Batt's Arm are to aid the Union Councils.

Thanking you for space,
Yours sincerely,
HENRY WHITE.

Shows the Need of F.P.U. Branch at Rose Blanche

(Editor Mail and Advocate)

Sir,—I wish to show the public how the fishermen of Rose Blanche are treated. The public here asked for the construction of a public wharf and our member wrote to the Road Board saying: That he would not issue any money to build a wharf on Harvey & Coy's land. A meeting of the Road Board was held to consider the matter, and after quite a time the Chairman being pressed by the public read the letter. The public decided that the wharf should be constructed where most convenient to the public.

We now find that the wharf is being built on Harvey's & Coy's land for which they are to receive a rent of $50.00 per year and freight free for 25 years. Does the Premier know anything about this matter? Who is responsible for such condition of affairs. Many people are of the opinion that a couple of the merchants here are running the whole concern, member and government. We can get no public improvements here, we have never received our share of public grants.

There is a freezer here also owned by Harvey & Co., and we are told that the Government granted a portion of the cost of this freezer for the benefit of the public, but only Harvey & Coy's men can get bait. If the Government subscribed any money towards the erection of this freezer, how is it that all the fishermen cannot secure bait from the freezer. Where is the Fishery Department that it does not consider our interest, the whole thing is a one-sided affair, and it looks as if we are to be robbed off all our rights and everything is to go to Harvey & Co.

Yours truly,
A. H.

Big Temperance Rally at Grand Falls and Millertown

Literature Distributed and Great Impetus Given Prohibition Movement in Northern Districts

Large and appreciative audiences have listened to the addresses of Mrs. Howland of Boston, who left the city on Oct. 2nd, accepting invitations from the Temperance Campaign Committees of Grand Falls and other places.

On Sunday evening Oct. 3rd a mass meeting was held in the Town Hall. The attendance was all that could be desired, many were compelled to stand during the entire meeting. The chair was taken by Rev. Mr. Loder, Anglican clergyman, who gave an excellent address. Address were also given by Mesdames Howland and Pippy, which was listened to with rapt attention. The Temperance Committee occupied seats on the platform.

At the close literature was distributed, also a branch of the W.C.T.U. organized with 32 members. The officers being elected as follows: President, Mrs. Pike; Secretary, Miss Scott; Treasurer, Mrs. Judge.

On Tuesday at 2.30 p.m. Millertown was reached and the deputation were met by a large committee who greeted them most kindly. A meeting, which was most successful, was held at night. Rev. Mr. Dunn presided and addresses were given by Mrs. Howland and Mr. Batstone who is a member of the Temperance committee. It being ascertained that a number of men were preparing to leave for the camps, of which there are forty averaging thirty men to a camp. A package of literature was prepared and presented to each company of men who were simply delighted to be able to read for themselves what has been accomplished by Prohibition in other lands and some of the terrible effects of alcohol on human life.

Plans were made to visit Bishop's Falls, Botwood, on Wednesday and Friday, respectively.

The party expects to arrive in Bonavista for a meeting on Sunday and in Elliston on Monday the 11th inst. Returning meetings will be held at Cat-
