Mott, Franklin, and their respective families, also her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Latimer and her family, gathered to enjoy the beauties of the Lake for the day.

Mr. D. Derbyshire, M.P., was this week elected Grand Warden of the I.O.O.F. at the meeting of the grand lodge at Orillia. This is a coveted honor, for which there is always keen competition, as its attainment means that the successful candidate will be Grand Master the following year. We congratulate our able parliamentary representative on the distinction he has achieved.

As a medium for the sale of cheese the usefulness of the weekly meetings of Brockville Dairymen's Board of Trade has long been open to question. The salesmen, for some reason (not known to the uninitiated) seem averse to selling their goods in the open market, though it is well known that they fail to get more and sometimes accept less than the highest bid. At Saturday's meeting Mr. Johnston predicted Board's collapse if prevailing practice of buying on the curb instead of on the board is kept in vogue. He felt confident that the continuation of this practice must ultimately mean the finish of the board and thought it near at hand. The highest bid on the board was 11 1/2c, but it secured no cheese. After adjournment nearly 10,000 boxes were sold, some at 11 1/2c, some at 11c, but the ruling price for the day was only 11c. For the corresponding week last year the ruling price was 12c.

Ten cents worth of peanuts contain more than twice the amount of energy contained in a porter house steak, is the statement made by Prof. F. E. Jaffe of the State University at Berkeley, Cal., in a bulletin just prepared for the United States Department of Agriculture.

Those who want an excuse to stay out late at night have it now. The comet is visible only at 2 a. m., so if you see an otherwise respectable citizen loitering around at that hour examining the heavens don't come to the conclusion he is "out for a time," he is merely an enthusiastic amateur astronomer.

About forty Leaguers enjoyed the hospitality of their President, Mrs. W. G. Towris, at her pleasant home on Monday evening, the night of their regular meeting. A choice programme of music was rendered by Mr. Alex. Compo, violin, accompanied on the piano by Miss Belle Earl, and there was an interesting and entertaining contest on the subject of trees. In preparation for this latter feature the members on arriving were presented with a boutonniere spray of leaves. The answers to the questions submitted showed marked originality as well as deep thought. Refreshments were served and thoroughly enjoyed and then saying good-bye to their kind hosts the young people departed for home, all agreeing that this social evening had been a pronounced success.

AT THE BIG Summer Sale

The goods and not the talk about them, makes this sale. It isn't because of large type and big space in the newspapers, it isn't because of persuasive argument, it isn't because of any special public preference for this store. It isn't for any of these reasons that this sale is in records of sale far beyond anything in our history. It is because of the high quality of the goods and the extreme low prices that the chief July activity centres here.
