Tonny—Pop, what is a photocall?

Tonny's Pop—A photocall, my son, is a man who has enough money to make a fool of himself without being one.

Three Photographs.

"P" PHOTOGRAPH all the prisoners? Sir Felix Felix-Williams, the Canon, who had been in the prison for some time, was sitting at the table in the prison, and he was looking at the three photographs which were hanging on the wall. He was looking at them with a very curious expression on his face. He was looking at them with a very curious expression on his face.

"But why," he said, "in the name of common sense?" Sir Felix persisted.

"I suppose," hazarded the Admiral, "it helps the police in identifying criminals."

"But the letter says 'all the prisoners'?" You don't seriously tell me that anyone wants a photograph to identify a criminal?"

"No," the Admiral mused, "but I see what the Home Office is driving at. Someone has been perusing them to test these new theories in criminology the doctors are so busy with, especially in Italy."

"But the letter says 'all the prisoners'?" You don't seriously tell me that anyone wants a photograph to identify a criminal?"

"No," the Admiral mused, "but I see what the Home Office is driving at. Someone has been perusing them to test these new theories in criminology the doctors are so busy with, especially in Italy."

rible I would have this picture framed and glazed and hung up in every cottage home in the land."

"My dear fellow," interrupted Sir Felix, "we cannot possibly let this monstrous go up to Whitehall as representative of the inmates of Tregarrick jail. It would mean an enquiry on the spot. It would even reflect upon us. Ours is a decent county, as counties go, and I protest it shall not, with my consent, be injured by any such libel."

Mr. Smithers handed up photograph No. 2.

"This looks better," began Sir Felix, and with that he gave a slight start, and passed the photograph to the Canon. The Canon, too, started, and stole a quick glance at Sir Felix; their eyes met.

"It certainly is singular," stammered Sir Felix. "I fancied—without irreverence—but you detected it too," he wound up incoherently.

"I have a look," the Admiral peered over the Canon's head; who, however, did not relinquish the photograph, but turned on Smithers with sudden severity.

"I presume, sir, this is not an audacious joke?"

"I assure Your Worship," protested the photographer, "I had some thoughts of tearing it up, but thought it wouldn't be honest."

"You did rightly," the Canon answered, "but now that we have seen it, I have no such scruple." He tore the print across and across again. "Even in this," he said, with a glance at the Admiral, who winced, "we may perhaps read a lesson, or at least a warning, kept a misapprehension in extending the bounds of his knowledge—or as I may prefer to call it, his curiosity—may—bring him face to face with—"

But the Canon's speech tailed off as he regarded the torn pieces of cardboard in his hand. He felt that the others had been seriously perturbed and he was not listening; he himself was conscious of a shock too serious for that glib emolument—usually so efficacious—the sound of his own voice. He perceived that it did not impose even on the photographer, a less comfortable silence fell on the room.

Sir Felix was the first to recover. "Put it in the waste-paper basket; no, in the fire," he commanded, and turned to Smithers. "Surely between these two extremes—"

"I was on the point of suggesting that Your Worship should find No. 3," he said, "but I have never been interrupted, forgetting his manner in his anxiety to restore these three gentlemen to their ease. His own discomfort was acute, and he over-acted his constitutional infirmity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials."

GROSS EXTRAVAGANCE.
"I never heard of such extravagance," exclaimed Mrs. McBride to her husband.

"What's the matter now?"
"Mrs. Fodick has given a beefsteak dinner to sixteen guests. Think of it!"

The girl is the mother of the woman just as "the boy is the father of the man." The period when the womanly functions begin is one to be carefully watched and considered. Irregularity or excess at this time may be promptly met and cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

But neglected at this critical period may entail years of future suffering. "Favorite Prescription" acts directly upon the womanly organs giving them perfect vigor and abundant vitality. It removes the obstructions to health and happiness, and delivers womanhood from the cruel bondage of "female weakness."

You pay the postage. Dr. Pierce gives you the book. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to defray cost of mailing and customs. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper bound book, or 50 stamps for cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

She—If you had told me your were not feeling well I'd have fixed up some of those old fashioned remedies a couple of days ago.

He—Yes, I know that's why I didn't say anything about it.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
