Proclamation of His Accession Will Officially be Made at 10 a. m. To-day in London and Elsewhere.

St. Paul's Cathedral Prayers Have Already Been Altered to Read "For Our Sove eign ord the King and Que en Consort."

London, Jan. 23. - King-Empero Edward VII., entered his capital at 12.55 p. m., London time, and proceeded to Marlborough house. Edward is not only King of Great Britain and Ireland but Emperor of India as well.

At the meeting of the Privy Council the King took the title of Edward VII. of England and Emperor of India.

After attending the first Privy Council at St. James Palace, at 2 p. m., when a decision will be reached re-garding the public proclamation of his accession which it is expected will be read to-morrow, at 10 a. m., H's Ma-jesty will proceed to the House of Lords for the meeting of parliament. Lords for the meeting of parliament.

London has donned a garb of mourning from end to end, and early hour found a thick fog enveloping the city like a pall, a fitting accompaniment of the funeral apparel of everyone. Throughout the west end drawn blinds are the order of the day, while on all the embassies, government offices and public buildings, the flags are halfmasted, The law courts, the stock exchange and all the produce and metal change(and all the produce and metal exchanges throughout the country only assembled to close immediately after the presiding officers had additional additional actions and the country of the presiding officers and additional addit dressed a few words of tribute to the dead monarch.

The public buildings are being draped with black, the stores are displaying many signs of mourning and business is practically at a stand-

Dense crowds, beginning at St. James treet, lined the entire route to Victoria station from an early hour to-day. The Mall in front of Buckingham palace was especially thronged. From the palace to Marlborough House carriages filled with ladies stood as if for a drawing room, excepting that the coachmen, footmen, and ing that the coachmen, lootinen, and occupants were all dressed in mournThe police precautions were unusual.
Men on horseback and on foot guarded almost every yard of the way. The crowds waited patiently for hours to greet their King. Finally, preceded by half a dozen mounted policemen, the new sovereign arrived in a plain brougham, which was driven very rapidly, with the coachman and footmen in their usual gray liveries, with mourning bands on their arms. An equerry was seated beside him.

The King was, of course, dressed in the deepest and most simple mourning, and carefully raised his hat in activated expert of the silent uncoverand carefully raised his hat in .ac-knowledgment of the silent uncovering of heads, which was more impressive than the most enthusiastic cheers. The King looked tired and very sad, but very well. Following him came the Duke of York, the Duke of Connaught and others. Both the King and the Duke of York looked pathetically up at Buckingham Palace as they passed, and acknowledged the salute of the guard of honor drawn up inside th palace grounds. The troops there, and elsewhere, showed no signs of mourning, except that the bands were mot present, but all the officers had crepe

His Eminence said not word but dropped on his knees to pray, remaining in this attitude for a considerable time. Afterwards he gaye orders that in all churches prayers for the Queen be offered up to-morrow.

The Pope will be represented at the funeral by Cardinal Vaughn.

THE KING'S DEPARTURE. Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 23, 8.30 a. m.—The morning opened dull and threatening and the town bears a misthreatening and the town bears a mis-erable aspect. Everywhere the blinds are drawn and black is displayed. There is scarcely a sign of life any-where, except at Trinity pier, where there is a constant interchange of signals between the royal yacht Alberta which lies alongside the pier, and the yacht Osborne, aboard of which some members of the royal family still remain.

A message just received from Osborne House says Emperor William's plans are as yet not known, but it is believed he will not leave to-day. The Alberta had steam up all night, and now has a big awning fixed in readiness to proceed to Portsmouth at 9.40 o'clock, with King Edward VII., the Duke of York, Balfour, and the earl of Clarendon on board, to catch a special train for London at 11 o'clock. The royal yacht Alberta has received orders to be in readiness to convey orders to be in readiness to convey the Queen's remains to the mainland The transfer of Her Majesty's body will, it is believed, take place soon. The coffin will be placed on the main deck athwartships, just in front of the structure known as the "queen's canstructure known as the "queen's canopy," in which her majesty was in the habit of sitting during her trips on the yacht. The coffin will be placed on a spot marked on the deck with a brass cross, where the coffin of Prince Henry of Battenburg also rested.

Look carefully at this little picture. There's a great deal to it. There's a lamp, that makes the heat. Right over it is the vaporizer that holds the Vapo-Cresolene. This Cresolene is a wonder-

CHATHAM GRAIN MARKET.

Planet Office Tuesday evening January 22. John Waddell, of J. B. Stringer & Co., gives The Planet the following grain gossip:

Wheat—Small receipts are noted of late. Street prices hold steady at 65c standard. Market is very quiet both in the States and abroad. The speculative spirit is in very little evidence at present. The feeling, however, is that to-day's price is as low as this crop will sell.

Coarse grains—Oats, corn, barley, etc., are in fairly active demand, with prices to-day the highest on the crop. Street prices are: Oats 250 to 26c, corn 34 to 35c., barley 75c. to $1 per cwt.

Receipts small.

Beans—Demand is less for them the last week or two, in sympathy with U. S. market, an easy feeling is noted. The decline is about 10c. a bushel. It is expected renewed activity will take place within four to six weeks. Foreign beans, landing in New York and Boston in considerable quantities of late, have been a factor in making it dull for American and Canadian stock Our farmers are getting $1.10 to $1.25 at the moment. Receipts are small.

Dressed hogs—Receipts are small pressed hogs—Receipts are an average, in good demand. A check has, however, been put on the upward tendency by reason of the packers refusing to meet the higher prices lately asked. The buyers here pay $7.50 to $7.60 for selections, poor lots at 50c. to $1 per cent loss.

S1 per cwt. less.

Live hogs, there is a decidedly weaker feeling in the market for both live and dressed hogs. The market is unsettled, and O'Keeffe & Drew state that it is difficult to give quotations.
