Woman Goes Over Falis. Niagara Falls, N. Y., Dec. 29.—A woman believed to be Mary Hogan or Buffalo, committed suicide yesterday morning by going over the Americar falls. She entered the river 500 feet above the brink of the falls, leaving her cape, umbrells and purse on the shore.

"When the game was over I told him I never wanted to come and see another game; that I couldn't bear to see above the brink of the falls, leaving her cape, umbrells and purse on the shore.

OLD AGE

OLD AGE.

Old age, as if comes in the orderly proce's of Nature is a beautiful and maje tie thing. The very shadow of eclipse which threatens it, makes it the more prized. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. That is old age as it should be. But old age as it so often is means nothing but a second child-hood of mind and body. What make the difference? Very largely the care of the stomach. In youth and the full strength of manhood it does not seem to matter how we treat the stomach. We abuse it, overwork it, injure it. We don't suffer from it much. But when age comes the stomach is worm out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body, and the body, unnourished, falls into emile decay. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are "weak" ery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are "weak" and whore digestions une "poor." Its invigorating effects are felt by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age, and makes old people strong.

BALL PLAYERS' WIVES.

How They Feel When Angry Fans Abuse Their Husbands.

It is probable that oftentimes the wife of a ball player can tell more accurately why it is he muffs a ball or makes a bad throw than he could him-self. Some of the wives of the Pirate players attended every game played here during the second here during the season and have alter-nately heard their husbands cheered to the skies as heroes worthy of a place on Mount Olympus and at other times have seen them the targets of the mal-contents in the bleachers.

"What are the feelings of a player" what are the reelings of a players wife when she hears the fans yell to 'take him out?' said the wife of one of the players whose husband is a pitcher. "Why, when I first heard it I wanted to cry and get out of the grounds as quickly as I could. I knew Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

"When the game was over I told him he just laughed and said that what they said one way or the other didn't amount to anything. He told me that the same crowd that were yelling to 'take him out' would be wanting to take him off the field on their shoulders the next day maybe and that their applause was just as unreliable as their hisses. Of course, he said, a man would rather be applauded than shouted at, but a baseball crowd was the most fickle of any kind of sports and the side of the that it didn't make any difference what kind of men attended the game, they were all the same way if things didn't go right. As a rule, he said, he never paid any attention to the howls of the crowd, but he knew there always comes a time in the career of a ball player when the how! Take him out means something, and when that time comes the player had better get

"But, just the same, I never get over feeling bad when I hear the crowd yell at my husband, although I have got so I don't care as much as I used to. Probably lots of people think baseball is easy work, but it is an awful strain on a man, and after a few years I hope my husband will settle down to something else."—Pittsburg Press.

In looking around at the successful men of the present day one is depressed to notice how few are good looking. Is it possible for beauty and brains to exist together? Though more fortunes are made in business now than ever in the past, it grows daily more obvious that we are not beautiful. Again, does the good looking man succeed? The finest men, the artist will tell you, are the Italian peasantry of the do noth-ing type. It does not take much trou-ble to notice how very few of the fine men are among the successes. Mr. Stackpool O'Dell, whose knowledge of brains is famous, remarked that if the Apollo Belvedere descended to earth today he would probably be found in a very humble position—as a commissionnaire, or a footman, or an artist's model. Yet how many captains of industry would care to share a pedestal with him in the South Kensington museum?—London Mail.

Briefless Judges.

It is a tradition of the United States supreme court that the late Justice Gray, who wen worldwide distinction as a member of that great tribunal, never tried a law case. The reason of this might have been that he went on the bench in Massachusetts so soon after he was admitted to the bar that neither the opportunity nor the necessity for practicing his profession was presented. Of his successor, Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., the same statement is made. His career has almost exactly paralleled that of Justice Gray. Even the great Justice Story, who ranks with Marshall and Kent as a commentator and interpre ter, is said never to have been called upon to practice before the bar.

The Calamity Auto. Prominent at the annual toy show in Paris is a motor car called the "catas-trophe automobilé." When wound up this tiny machine runs a few paces, then a crack is heard, the car falls to pieces, and its little passengers are flung out. The machine can be quickly put together again and is then ready for another catastrophe. Another de-vice is an alarm clock which fires off a pistol and then lights a lamp under the sleeper's breakfast. The inventor asseerts that next year he will improve it by inventing a lever bedstead in con-nection with it. If the sleeper does not arise after the firing of the pistol the mechanism will let down the bed, rolling him out on the floor.

Moving Canada In France. Monsieur Leo Lefebvre of Paris, France, sent to Canada by the French Government in order to secure moving pictures for public exhibition there, has sailed for Europe. The only Toronto picture he secured was the busy King and Yonge street corner. He has been in Canada four months and a half, and will return to this continent next year, when he will take mining pictures from Seattle northward, and will test the rigors of the Alaskan climate. Heart Strength Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Postively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault.

This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have the same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr.
Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and alling Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, sufficeating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds:
it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.
If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-catabilish shem as needed, with pictures from Seattle northward, and will test the rigors of the Alaskan climate. His present trip has been devoted chiefly to the lumbering industry. He has taken pictures of timber in every stage of manufacture in the various mills, and has visited some of the greatest mining camps of the West. His experiences in British Columbia were somewhat arduous. He had his delicate instruments carried to camps to which a footpath was the only means of access. The roads were at times rough and dangerous, but he believes the pictures secured will be well worth the trouble. Besides these very instructive views, Mr. Lefebvre has taken a number which illustrate the beauty of Canada. These include views of Niagara and other Falls, the Thousand Islands, the Rockies from a C. P. R. train, etc. He has also a set illustrative of the codfishing industry. The trips being taken by this French Commissioner are a sign of the progress of France along the lines of free education. The pictures are to be exhibited at what are known as the "conferences populaires," which are free illustrated lectures, to which any citizen may gain admittance. The subjects treated include many branches of study, agriculture, geography, the arts, and should prove most useful in raising the standard of national intelligence. "People in France have no idea that Canada is so big," declares Mr. Lefebvre, whose views will be a splendid immigration agent for the Dominion wherever they are shown. Dr. Shoop's

A SOLDIER'S GRAVE

Discovered In London, Ont., in Out-of-

Discovered In London, Ont., in Out-ofthe-Way Cemetery Corner.

Dr. H. J. Morgan of Ottawa has been instrumental, with the assistance of Mr. G. B. Harris of Eldon House, London, Ont., in discovering the grave in that city of an officer who took an active part in the defence of the western frontier of the Province of Ontario (then Upper Canada) during and subsequent to the rebellic of 1837. The grave was found to be in an out-of-the-way corner of the English cemetery, and in a capital place to be covered with coal ashes. All traces of it would inevitably have been lost within a few menths. Upon a stone, which was found to be broken in three places,
was the following inscription:

"Colonel the Honorable John Maitland, C.B., commanding the London and Western Districts, LieutenantColonel of the 2nd Regiment, and youngest son of the Earl of Lauderdale. Died at London, Upper Canada, on the 18th January, 1839. Erected to his memory by the officers of the 32nd Regiment, which he commanded for upwards of twenty years, as a mark of their esteem and regard."

Of the officer above mentioned an account is published in Dr. Morgan's "Celebrated Canadians" (Quebec, 1862). He was the third son of the eighth and the brother of the ninth and tenth Earls of Lauderdale. Born March 5, 1789, he entered the army in 1797 as ensign in the 52nd Regiment, and was present with that corps in the expedition to Copenhagen, under the command of Lord Catheart Subsequently he eserved in Spain and Portugal under Sir John Moore, and was in the Peninsula (1810-11) as A.D.C. to Sir William Houston. Returning to England, he was appointed A.D.C. to his uncle, Gen. Sir Thos. Maitland, and accompanied that distinguished officer to Malta on his being appointed commander of the tinguished omeer to make in ing appointed commander of the forces in the Mediterranean and Lord forces in the Mediterranean and Lord forces in the Mediterranean and Lord High Commissioner of the Ionian Is-lands. Here Maitland was appointed inspecting field officer of the forces. In 1814 he obtained a majority in the De Rolls Regiment, and in 1819, when not quite 29 years of age, he was gazetted lieutenant-colonel of the 32nd Regiment, which command he con-tinued to hold till his death. Coming with his regiment to North America in 1830, it was his good or evil fortune, according to the view taken by the in 1830, it was his good or evil fortune, according to the view taken by the reader of the circumstances, to be present in Canada throughout the rebellion of 1837. In 1838 he was placed in command of the London and western districts, whose militia forces he organized. His most brilliant exploit was the repulse of a band of American brigands at Point Pelee Island, Lake Erie, on March 3, 1833, for which he received from the late Queen a C.B. queen a C.B. Contracting a severe cold on the march to and during the attack on the island; he died unmarried, a victim to consumption, at the time and place above mentioned. One of his subalterns in the 32nd was the future hero of Lucknow, Major-Gen. Sir John Inglis, K.C.B., a Canadian. Col. Maitland is described as having been a man of a kind and gentle disposition, whose constant study was the promotion of the comfort and happiness of the officers and men serving under him. On the occasion of his death Sir George Arthur, the lieutenant-governor of the province, issued a general order expressive of the esteem and respect entertained for him by all classes of the community. It is now proposed, with the permission of the officers of Col. Maitland's old regiment, to remove his remains to the new cemetery at London, and to have the broken tablet placed in the English cathedral of that city. As the body when interred was deposited in a lead coffin, there will, it is hoped, be no difficulty in carrying out the first of these intentions to do honor to the memory of a brave and gallant officer.
