

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., OCT. 6, 1899.

Sir Charles Tupper's Visit.

Sir Charles Tupper arrived in Wolfville on Monday's Bluenose in route for Berwick, where he spoke the next day, and was the guest of Dr. Keirstead until Tuesday noon.

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock Sir Charles met the teachers and students of Acadia Seminary and Horton Academy in Alumni Hall and made a brief address of a non-political character referring to his student days when he with Dr. Parker, began to study public affairs.

Town Council Meeting.

The town council met on Wednesday evening, with the mayor and all the members present except Councilor Chipman.

The following bills were read and motion ordered to be paid: C. Rounsefell $2.63, O. W. Strong 11.31, Overseers of Poor (Horton) 3.41, Noble Crandall 2.31, Caldwell & Bowden 17.63, Valley Telephone Co. 1.19, Town Clerk (postage) 2.02, L. H. Baird 1.90, J. Jodrey 5.25, T. McAvity & Son 4.24, Hibley & Harvey 39.22, J. W. Selfridge 10.52, Acadia Electric Co. 37.88.

Mr. H. G. Collins, Superintendent of streets and water, having applied for leave of absence it was decided that he be granted on the condition that he provide a suitable man to take his place during his absence to the satisfaction of the Streets and Water Committee.

Resolved that the mayor and councilors call a public meeting to be held on the first Monday of November at 8 p. m. in the Temperance Hall, in the interest of the proposed public building, and for voting money for the purchasing of property and erection of said building.

The clerk was instructed to notify all persons keeping pigs within the town limits that they must comply with the Act by making application for permission to keep them.

A motion was passed instructing the town clerk to bring to the notice of the D. A. railway the necessity of putting up an electric light at the railway station in a place suitable for the lighting of the grounds around the station.

The weather on Tuesday was easily the worst of the season. The rain fell in torrents and a biting cold wind prevailed. The attendance at the political gathering at Berwick was in consequence, as might be reasonably expected, not a large one.

Open-air speaking was out of the question, and for want of better accommodation, the ladies' pavilion on the campground was used as a speaking place. This building will accommodate 400 persons and was speedily crowded to its utmost capacity.

Barclay Webster, Esq., presided and an address of welcome was read by Mr. P. Innes. Sir Charles made one of his characteristic speeches which was listened to with close attention.

Addresses were also given by Senator Ferguson, of P. E. I.; C. E. Kaulbach, M. P. for Lunenburg; J. E. Mill, M. P. for Annapolis, and others. The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen and Sir Charles Tupper.

The anxiety felt by consumers as to the supply of iron and steel for the coming year is covered up. All hope some way will be found to meet requirements without hoisting prices higher.

Considerable business is already side tracked on that account. Machine, ship and agricultural implement requirements are in very great demand. All manner of iron and steel-making capacity being strained to the utmost.

The four issues of The Youth's Companion to be published during October will include two double numbers with devoted covers. One of these will be the special Anniversary Number, out October 15th. It will contain a full illustrated Prospectus of the coming volume for 1900.

Address to Sir Charles Tupper.

To the Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, Bart.: In welcoming you, honored sir, to our town we are mindful of the very great honor you are conferring upon us. You are not only the leader of the great liberal conservative party of Canada, you are even more than that, Sir Charles Tupper. While your public life has been from the very political opponents harsh criticisms oftentimes, he must be a bigot indeed who is blind to the inestimable service you have rendered our country.

We recognize, sir, that our province owes to you a far greater debt than to any other living son. It is especially fitting that we, the citizens of a town that takes a justifiable pride in its educational advantages, should welcome you, the one above all others who has made this possible. We shall not easily forget your successful efforts in effecting legislation for public institutions in our province in days gone by. That work on your part has without a doubt done more for our province than any other work on the part of our political leaders in this town especially will this be readily accorded.

The interests of our province by the sea has been uppermost in your mind, and in innumerable ways you have furthered them. But we know you better in a far wider sphere. We welcome you as one of the Fathers of Confederation. While those who could not see what was to their advantage, who could not rise to the ambition of being part of a dominion that should one day occupy a foremost place in the movements of the world, while such were loud in their opposition and bitter in their criticisms, to-day the opposition has ceased, the complaints have died away, the party cry of repeal which seemed so loud a few years ago is even now regarded as a huge joke. From a few scattered provinces there has grown in a comparatively few years a great dominion, known and reckoned with the world over. Every Nova Scotian to-day is proud to count you a Canadian. We love our country. We are proud of her. We love to honor those who bound the scattered provinces into one, and made this great dominion possible. We have known you, sir, as one of the most prominent in this great work.

We have known you, too, as one of those who have done the most to guide the affairs of our dominion, during those years that have intervened, and efforts on through whose counsel and efforts our country is what it is to-day. The policy which, it may be said, has made our dominion, owes its origin mainly to you, sir, and our late lamented Sir John A. Macdonald. Not only in this confessed political opponents, as is proved by the fact that the policy of the present government is practically the national policy.

We can truly say as we have followed your great political career from the fifties, which covers the greater part of a full century, as you have predicted the future and grasped and wrestled with the great problems of the province and of the Dominion of Canada, ever ready and willing to use your great talents in her interests, and having so often witnessed the fulfillment of your predictions and the success of your efforts. We, sir, irrespective of party in which Canada is universally joining, recognize in you not merely the leader of a great party, but as the leading statesman without a peer in the Dominion of Canada to-day.

Though you are advancing in years, you are still in the harness using your ability and great experience for the welfare of party and state. We trust that many years of health and comfort may yet be yours, and that as you are nearing the end of the journey of life you may have the satisfaction and joy of hearing from many of your opponents some of the good things which they will honestly accord to your memory when you have gone.

On behalf of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Wolfville: R. W. Starr, president, B. O. Davison, secretary.

It is as Easy to Love

Your neighbor as yourself when your neighbor is a pretty girl. It is just as easy to cure yourself of Catarrh, Bronchitis or Asthma, if you use Catarrhine, the new medicated air treatment for all disease of the nasal and respiratory passages caused by germ life. Catarrhine cures by inhalation without danger or risk to the sufferer. It goes wherever air can go and never fails to reach the affected parts. This is why it exceeds treatments requiring the use of sprays, douches, powders, ointments, &c., which cannot reach the seat of the disease and are therefore useless. For sale at all drug stores, or direct by mail price $1.00. Send 10c in stamps to N. C. POLSON & CO., manufacturing chemists, Kingston, Ont., for sample outfit.

THE VERY BEST WAY TO CURE A COLD IN THE HEAD.

People who have tried it say that the surest way is to buy a fifty-cent bottle of Ozone.

Dilute a little of it in warm water, and then inhale it through the nose. It will kill the germs every time.

Reflections of Youthful Days.

Fair the fields of old Grand Pre, Shut my eyes and there they be, Waving green in early June, Bobolinks in sweetest tune, Buttercups and daisies bright, Smiling at you day and night, Where the flowering briar grew, Thorns would stick you through and through!

Bright those happy days of June, Days that ended all too soon; When we hunted the bumble-bee, Along the dyes of old Grand Pre.

Then the busy harvest time— The mowing machine's chattering chime, As it crept beneath the falling grass, Tedders and rakes a-following fast The lofty loads of new mown hay, Smelling so sweet as they drove away, Along the dry and dusty roads, Past the pools of the croaking toads; The lonely thrush and his mournful cry, Crows above all cooing high, The gentle breeze from the distant sea, When the sun went down on old Grand Pre.

Blomidon in the distance, too, Sky above so bright and blue, Long Island and the Basin shore, Where they caught the fish by the hand-rod score.

The village back on the higher land, Among the shade trees calm and grand, Famed in song and ancient story, Legends quaint and allegory— Houses and barns all painted white, Looming up in the clear sunlight, The old homestead, standing back Just above the railroad track, Lariks and robins all twittering so, Just as it did long years ago, The shade of the apple tree, My boyhood home at old Grand Pre.

Gaspereau river, don't you mind How it used to course and wind Through the marshes and round the hills From way up by the old grist mill? Over the rocks a-chuckling low, Just as it did long years ago, Where we caught the speckled trout, 'Fore the city folks found it out, Always came home with a good sized string.

When we washed the sheep in spring, 'Twas no trick to catch a mew, Those days in an hour or less, 'Twas no now as it used to be, In those days at old Grand Pre.

The school house by the edge of the woods, 'Fore it pine and spruce trees stood, Where we studied the rule of three, Reading and writing and geography, Learning our lessons in good old ways In the frosty winter days; And hauled our sleds up the icy track To coast with the girls a-coming back. Pears to me the sun shone brighter, Somehow, too, the snow seemed whiter, And the skies were twice as blue, And the days were shorter, too, 'Twas the girls were real so kind, When your lessons got behind, So much truer, too; somehow Not up to date, perhaps, as nowadays; But somehow, they seemed to be at hand, Hear and prattle in old Grand Pre.

The old meeting house on the hill, The graveyard back, so dark and still, Can almost hear the church bell ringing, Hear the congregation singing, 'Praise God For Whom All Blessings Flow.

At the prayer-meeting in the room below, Where we used to sing school Winter nights so clear and cool, Where the boys would wait, a dozen or more, To meet the girls at the vestry door, To see them home, sweet words to say, Going around the longest way, Or the sleighride home in the rosy moonlight.

The jokes we passed the songs we sang, When the lads came home from sea, To spend the winter in old Grand Pre. Speaking of girls; and then How it all comes back again— When the huckin's came around And the red ear of corn was found, That was a chance you couldn't miss, If it took a twine to get the kiss; Jack o' lanterns at Hallow 'e'en, From pumpkinkins made, scooped out so.

The cancan; The cancan; The cancan; The dancing that often kept up till three, Apple parings and cider sweet, Pumpkin pies and hot mince meat, How my old mother waters still, As it goes it always will. When those thoughts come back to me, Those happy days at old Grand Pre.

'Tis no use to banker, though, After things that's gone, you know, But if I could just step in To the old home once again, Where the flowering locust trees Founted up the evening breeze, When the lilacs all a-bloom Perfumed the little attic room, If I could but wake up and find That the years I've left behind Was a dream; just a dream; then I Would be most content to die. Ah! well, if I am laid to rest In the distant golden west, Hope my soul will sometimes see The good old village of Grand Pre. With courteous acknowledgments to Wedding at Biltmore.

The marriage of Miss Catherine B., daughter of Wm. C. Hill, Esq., of Biltmore, to Mr. Clifford E. Harris, of Canning, was solemnized at the home of the bride's father on Wednesday. The ceremony was performed in the spacious parlors, which were handsomely ornamented for the occasion, at 9.30 a. m., by Rev. M. P. Freeman, pastor of the Biltmore Baptist church. Mrs. P. C. Woodworth, of Kentville, played the wedding march. The bride was prettily robed in a travelling suit of blue broadcloth with hat to match, and was attended by her niece, Miss Gladys Harris, of Wolfville, as maid of honor, who was attired in pink India silk and chiffon. After the ceremony a reception was held and a lunch partaken of, and the wedding party drove to Kentville and took after which they will reside at Canning. The presents were numerous and handsome. The ACADIAN extends best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Harris.
